TRIRTY-SIX nominations sent to the Senate by President Harrison during the late session of Congress failed to be confirmed.

A HURRICANE in Madagascar on the 22d of February, destroyed many vessels on the coast and the loss of life has been great. In Tamatay twenty-two of the best buildings in the place were blown down. The British Consulate and four sugar factories were demolished.

DURING President Harrison's term be pardoned seventeen bank wreckers and embezlers. When he contemplated the condition the United States Treasury would be in at the close of his administion it is no wonder he had a sympathetic feeling for people who erred in that way

Ox Saturday last, in accordance with the provisions of the national constitu tion, Grover Clevel and was inaugurated as President of the United States. President Harrison and President-e'ect Cleveland drave to the capitol and witnessed the organization of the Senate. Then in the midst of a driving snow storm, the President-elect delivered his inaugural address. Afterwards he reviewed the parade. The inaugural ball in the evening concluded the ceremonies of the day.

NEW YORK STATE experiences the same necessity for amending defects in her ballot law as is experienced in Pennsylvania, and the attention of Legislatures of both states is urgently called to this duty. The fact is that the new ballot law of both of these states were doctored to some extent to serve interests which in its object ballot reform was intended to ignore and now the necessity for correcting this error has become obvious and imperative

Judge Hey drick, to whom the appointment to the Supreme bench had been offered, declined the honor. Mr. Thompson's appointment was unanimously confirmed.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND on Monday sent to the Senate the names of the gentlemen whom he had selected as his con stitutional advisers, and the Senate promptly confirmed the selections. The Cubinet, therefore, is in working order and ready to proceed to business; and never has a Cabinet been confronted at the outset with business of graver import to the interests of the whole coun try-a fact in which lies the best assurance that it will address itself to its appointed task with a wise measure of deliberation.

The English railroads use a much heavier rail than is commonly used in namely, the cheapness of steel and the costliness of timber. Cross-ties are scarce in England, and for that reason few of them are used, only about 1600 to the mile, while in America the average is from 2600 to 3000. The further apart the ties the heavier the rail must be, so while the rail used on most of the roads in this country weighs from 63 to 70 pounds to the yard, that on 'the English roads is from 90 to 100 pounds.

It is a plain dictate of nonesty and good government that pubmad and threatens to get a divorce and the Ballot (Reform Association. This lie expenditures should be limited by public necessity, and that this should be measured by the rules of strict econo my; and it is equally clear that frugality among the people is the best guarantee of a contented and strong support of free institutions. One mode of the misar propriation of public funds is avoided when appointments to office, instead of being the rewards of partisan activity, are awarded to those whose efficiency fully 3,000 passed through the White date for whom he desires to vote. This promites a fair return of work for the ompensation paid to them. To secure the fitness and competency of appointees to office, and to remove from political action the demoralizing madness for spoils, civil service reform has found a place in our public policy and laws The benefit already gained through this instrumentality, and the further usefulness it promises, entitle it to the hearty support and encouragement of all who desire to see our public service well performed, or who hope for the elevation of
