Burned to Death. By an explosionion of molten aluminum at the Pittsburg Reduction Works, Kensington, Allegheny county, on Saturday norning last about 8 o'clock, Eugene O'Neill, son of Peter O'Neill, of Munster township, this county, was fatally burned. He died at the West Penn hospital at 3:30 Sunday morning, and his remains were taken to Cresson on Philadelphia Express on Sunday evening, and thence to the home of his parents in Munster township. Mr. O'Neill was nearly twenty-eight years of age and was an exemplary young man, and had been for many years in the employ of the company at whose works he met his death. His body was burned all over to a blister, his clothes having taken fire. Medical aid was able to alleviate the COTTON DRESS GOODS? pain somewhat but not to prevent a fatal termination of his injuries. In the intentity of his suffering at the time of the acchool, treated his pupils to a sled ride on cident he dashed into the Allegheny river o extinguish the flames of the clothing. The deceased was a member of St. Kernan's Branch No. 51, C. M. B. A., of Pitts-

BALTZELLS

WE are especially pleased with our pattern goods, for we know that the most exquisite gowns can be evolved from them, especially when we consider that there are the most beautiful gimps and galoons that match perfectly and elegant laces in all the latest designs. The chief charm of pattern goods is the fact that no two are alike. Where the figures are the same the colorings are entirely different. There are three patterns in changeable diagonals, tan, blue and mixed light shades, all different but all handsome. Nearly all are in a variety of diagonals. There are two patterns in Russian green and mode shades that are very beautiful. There are three patterns in changeable and green that are perfectly magnificent. One pattern in diagonal, silks and wool in exquisite shades of steel and mode is a beauty and three patterns in a Persian weave in different shades that are exceedingly beautiful. Then there are two patterns in melon-shaped figures in shades of tan and blue and tan and mode that are extremely lovely and are pattern in silk diagonal in palest shades of pinks and blue that might take the lead for dainty attractions. Closely following it is a pattern in diagonal changeable blue and gold new shades that show off ch rmingly, and three patterns in fancy Whik Cords in changeable shades with fancy Russian green borders that will make up stylishly to a degree.
