first find out whether you have any Democratic party left in the county. You say in your call with keen irony (I do not know whether you intended it as such) that no one has yet come forward as a candidate shows which way the wind is blowing. No man with an ounce of wit would set himself up to be knocked down and slaughtered in the house of his supposed friends, who were in reality covert and cut-throat enemies. So in all probability the Republican nominee will have a walkover. How are the migsty fallen! Some years ago the Republicans boasted offices of the county, then held by the that you have any further need for rules for the Democratic party at this rate. If, however, you think there is some hope left by revising the rules, you should revise the list of the rank and file. Also, you should prune down or cut out for good and all the fungus growth of rottenness that has ingrafted itself on a large part of the Democratic party in this county of late years. It was not Republicans that elected the above named officers, but bad Democrats.

They listened to siren sweetness of these oily-tongued gentlemen and were captured. So look to the weak-kneed in the ranks and call them to time before it is too late. These offices will become vacant in due time, and if you shall not have disciplined the untrustworthy Democrats in the meantime, you may as well prepare to disband and say Othello's occupation is gone. One of the offices is about vacant already, that of county superintendent of schools, and although the present encumbent has held the office for six years, less a few months, it appears he is not yet satisfied. One would suppose Mr. Leech would be shy about asking Democrats to prove traitors to their cause a second time. But he is a very smooth fellow and knows his men.
