DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Treasurer, JOSEPH BENGELER, of Gettysburg.
For County Commissioners, PATRICK E. DELANE, of Elder Twp., JOHN KERRY, of Johnstown.
For Poor Director, JOHN B. ST. JOHN, of Johnstown.
For Auditors, W. C. BERRY, of Wilmore Bor., F. E. FARABAUGH, of Carroll Twp.

The most expensive railroad ticket ever sold in Reading cost $3045, and was disposed of by the Philadelphia and Reading agent last week. It was a combination ticket to Chicago and return for 105 freemen.

It is announced, apparently upon authority, that before the week is out President Cleveland will appoint William B. Hornblower of New York a justice of the supreme court of the United States to succeed the late Justice Blatchford.

The Berks county Republicans on Monday started the ball for Governor by giving General Hastings the delegates from that county. General Hastings also has a sure thing on the delegates from Cambria at present, but what if Quay should change his mind.

ISAAC G. GORDON, ex-chief justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Brookville on Monday after a long and painful illness. His funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the interment being made in the cemetery there. He was 73 years of age.

According to a statement just issued by the treasury department the money of the world foots up $10,200,000,000. Of course this is largely guesswork, but based on the most reliable data obtainable. Of this grand total the United States has $1,534,000,000, or 24 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Industrial Council, composed of delegates from all organized labor bodies in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., representing 15,000 men, has declared a boycott against all products turned out from the Armour establishments. This is a result of the strike of 450 butchers of the Armour packing house, who quit work rather than accept a 10 percent reduction in wages.

The second shipment of Government gold from the San Francisco mint to the sub-treasury in New York City was delivered on Monday morning by Wells, Fargo & Co. The gold was in fifty boxes. Each box contained $10,000, making the amount of the transfer $2,000,000. The gold left San Francisco last Monday. It was a special express car, which was shifted from one train to another at different points on the route. Armed guards rode in the car.

Dr. S. mercantile agency, in review of trade for the past week, notes encouraging symptoms on every hand. "Money markets throughout the country are more healthy," the report says, "failures diminished in number and resumption by a number of banks and other establishments illustrates the general tendency toward a revival of confidence." Another significant fact noted is that the premium on currency has been reduced almost to nothing.

The official comparative statement of the receipts and expenditures of the United States, issued in detail from the Treasury Department, show that the receipts for August were $7,000,000 less than for July, while the expenditures were $6,000,000 less. The expenditures for the two months of the present fiscal year exceeded the receipts $17,000,000. This excess had to be drawn from the treasury available cash which was reduced of course, just that amount, or at the rate of $8,500,000 per month.

GERMANY'S first ambassador to the United States, Baron Von Surma Jeltsch, presented his credentials to the President on Monday, and the customary speeches of mutual good will were exchanged. The ambassador accompanied by the secretary of the German embassy, Baron Kettler, called on Secretary Gresham at the state department and the three with Assistant Secretary Adee went to the White House together. The two diplomats were resplendent with gold lace and carried swords.

On Wednesday last the cash in the U. S. Treasury was turned over by Mr. Neuberger, the late Treasurer, to D. N. Morgan, his Democratic successor. The amount was $740,817,419.783. It took sixty expert counters and laborers, at constant work, from the 31st of May to the 29th of August to count and weigh this vast sum. Not one cent was missing. Several bags containing silver had rotted and were found to be some dollars short, but the missing dollars were afterwards found on the floor of the vault. The total weight of the coin was 5000 tons.

WHEN we cease our compulsory purchases, says the New York Herald, the confidence in our currency will be restored, for nobody questions our ability to maintain the parity of the silver currency already in existence, provided we repeal the Sherman law and stop increasing it. In fact we shall then be in a more independent position than any of the nations with which we have been in conference. England has always been the great stumbling block in the way of an international agreement, but is now getting into an embarrassing position with her Indian exchanges and might be found much more compliant if the Brussels Conference were to reconvene in October.

THE success of General Hastings in the Republican primaries of Berks county, says the Harrisburg Patriot, has been heralded by some of the heated Hastings advocates as an end to the likelihood of General Gregg's nomination for Governor next year. A casual examination of the situation will show the futility of this hope.

Senator Quay does not want to see General Hastings nominated but still less does he want General Gregg to be the candidate. To keep Gregg's home delegates from favoring Gregg was the purpose of Quay's lieutenants and this could only be safely done by making Hastings the issue. Now that Gregg's guns have been silenced at his own home the Quay hope is that Gregg will surrender.

To kill off Hastings will be the work of the Quay guards now. Hastings is ambitious, more or less conceited and quite popular. He is at that dangerous age when if elected governor he might set up for himself instead of taking orders. Mr. Quay does not want him for governor. He wants a candidate next year, just as he wanted the same kind four years before, whom he can own.

He does not mean to have Hastings killed off at one stroke. Quay is less daring than he used to be, his courage now often melting away to genuine cowardice. But he is no less dangerous and no less hateful of opponents than he used to be. His inclinations to stab in secret have developed if his desire to fight in open field has weakened. The knife is to be used for Hastings, not the gun.

But in killing off Hastings the senator may find himself with a living Gregg on his hands. General Gregg, regardless of the Berks county manipulation is likely to be one of the liveliest of Republican candidates for governor next year. There are no better men in official life in this state than General Gregg. He was not raised up by a boss, nor can one put him down if he shakes his gray head and says Nay.

By so much as it is easier to go downwards than to go up, says the Philadelphia Record, it is easier to reduce taxation than to increase it. Pennsylvania has a tax system which brings in more revenue than is needed for proper expenditure. This is a serious mistake to take more money from the pockets of taxpayers than is required for economical administration. It leads to excessive appropriations; unnecessary increase of official emoluments; doubtful experiments; and it constitutes a continuing temptation to corrupt practices.

The public debt of Pennsylvania is now so small that it is nearly provided for by the sinking fund, and will soon be extinguished. The state is thus deprived of that excellent means of diminishing an inconvenient surplus afforded by the opportunity to pay debt with it. For some years past, instead of cutting away excessive taxes and seizing the opportunity to simplify and improve our tax system, the Legislature has contented itself by turning a part of the surplus cash into the public school fund. As an expedient this is, perhaps, well enough. The money paid for the support of the schools is not wasted. But there is waste, and worse than waste, involved in taking money unnecessarily from the people, no matter in what shape it may be paid back. An overvaluing treasury is a public danger. The people should be warned by past experience of the folly of keeping great sums of money piled up, out of the reach of its true ownership, and subjected to risks against which there is no possibility of statutory insurance.

The state taxes are fairly and properly laid, and, no doubt, the burden is very equitably distributed; but every dollar collected in notorious excess of requirement is in the nature of an abuse of trust. There are several sources of state taxation which should be turned over to the counties or abolished altogether. Reduction, in some form, has become a necessity. It will soon become an issue.

COMMISSIONER LOCHREN, of the Pension Bureau, has issued an order modifying the practice of the office as to suspensions of pensions. Hereafter there will be no suspensions, except in cases where the record shows on its face that the soldier was not entitled to any pension. It is believed that the number who will come under this class will be very small. Under this order pensioners whose allowances are supposed to be too high will be reduced, pending investigation. In speaking of this new order Commissioner Lochren said: "The secretary of the interior has for some time questioned the fairness of the old practice of the Pension Bureau which suspended business during inquiry as to the right of the pensioner to the pension rate he was receiving. At his request the whole matter has been carefully considered, and the present order modifying that practice, so as not to suspend in doubtful cases, has been agreed to as more equitable."

THE Republicans, who deem Prohibition the most important political question before the people of Iowa, held a state convention at Des Moines, on Wednesday and parted company with the regular Republican organization for the remainder of this campaign by nominating a candidate for governor and repudiating the liquor plank adopted at the August convention. The convention nominated L. S. Coffin for governor by acclamation. The nominee for governor has been prominent in the Republican party for many years. He served three terms on the board of railroad commissioners and has been identified with the movement in favor of the safety apparatus for trains.

The harvests in Ireland this year are fully a month earlier than any before recorded, and the most abundant that country has been blessed with for 25 years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2, 1893. President Cleveland, in accordance with the announcement made when he left Washington, just after the extra session met, is back at his desk in the White House, and his is the best refutation of many silly sensational stories that have been published within the last week about the dangerous condition he was in. He probably never dreamed, when he was having those troublesome teeth extracted and his altered roots cut out, two months ago, that he would be and by grow into an operation in which the greater portion of his jawbone would, in the mind of the sensational writer, have to be cut away in order to remove the terrible carcinoma growth. In short, he lost but another version of the familiar old story of the man who vomited three black crows. President Cleveland is not sick, and he has not been sick since he left Washington. In fact, he was only a few days while he was away that he did not perform some of his public duties, as the records in the office of his private secretary will bear out.

Three Persons Saved From Drowning. ATLANTIC CITY, SEPT. 3.—Three persons were saved from drowning yesterday by the government life saving crew, which went on duty on Friday. The rescued people were Wilmer and Lawrence Fuller, sons of Mrs. W. A. Fuller, a cottager at 118 South Rhode Island avenue, and Dr. Carpenter, a guest of the family. They were in bathing, accompanied by Mrs. Carpenter, opposite the lighthouse, a district that is not covered by the life guards. All were good swimmers and were splashing about in the surf, when they suddenly felt themselves being pulled down. They were rescued from the inlet that comes with powerful force around the point where bathing. The current was swiftly carrying them to sea. Mrs. Carpenter saw the peril of the other two, and she and other people a plank was thrown to them. The men caught the plank and held on until the government lifeboats came to their aid and they were brought ashore.

End of a Celebrated Case. The famous murder case of Dr. Thatcher Graves, formerly of Providence, R. I., has at last been settled. The doctor was found dead in his cell at the extra session of the Supreme Court on Monday morning, where he was awaiting a rehearing on the charge of having poisoned Mrs. Josephine Barnaby, a wealthy widow, also of Providence. The poisoning is said to have been done to cover up Dr. Graves' alleged falsifications as manager of Mrs. Barnaby's estate. Although no autopsy has yet been held on his body, it is known that he fell into the water, using morphine to effect his end.

In a sachet in the doctor's cell were found five letters, the first one having been written on August 9th last, showing that his suicide had been contemplated since then.

Killed a Boy. LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., Sept. 4.—William Barrett, a dairy farmer, shot and killed John Egan, ten years old and probably mortally wounded David Crawford, three years old, yesterday afternoon at his farm in Blissville. He claims a crowd of boys were annoying him and that he fired both barrels of a shot gun into the air to frighten them away and that he did not know where the boys were. Spectators declare that he fired directly into a crowd of boys. Led by the dead boy's father a great crowd of neighbors caught Barrett and beat him until he lay on the ground. Just after he was lynched him but for the arrival of a policeman who rescued him and took him into custody. The Egan boy died fifteen minutes after being shot and the Crawford boy was taken from his chest by a doctor.

Crazed in a Crematory. CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—Nicholas Van, of Pittsburg, attended to the cremation of his brother John, the iron range man, suddenly he fell and had to be carried from the room in which the crematory is located. For several hours he was a raving maniac, and his sufferings were pitiable in the extreme. The old man was insisted upon going downstairs for the corpse and into the crematory. He was greatly agitated, and when the cold form of the dead was brought out and showed into the fiery furnace he fell on the floor, and was carried to the open air and laid on a green sward. In a short time he regained partial consciousness and began to violently rave. Physicians report his condition very serious.

An Ugly Position. NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 2.—David Baxter, of Forest county, who has been exhibiting rattle-snakes at the Lawrence county fair, showed in the same tent with the reptiles. Last night he escaped from their box, and he was awakened by them crawling over him. He drew his horse cover blanket over him and tried to reach the tent entrance, repeatedly cutting his clothing with the rattle snakes, which struck at him again and again, but could not pierce the thick blanket. He was two hours in reaching the side of the tent, and when he did so he cut his way out with his knife, he fell in a swoon. The snakes were captured. Baxter's nervous system is shattered and he is in a serious condition.

Horrors of the Cyclone. BEAUFORT, S. C., September 1.—The loss of life by the recent cyclone and tidal wave will probably never be known. Already at least 100 bodies have been found on the banks near this place and Port Royal, and estimates of the number of deaths run from 500 to 1,000. Over $2,000,000 of property has been destroyed near the places named, and 10,000 are homeless. From Beaufort's place, on the Edisto river, two negroes floated to Jacksonville on the top of their shanty. They report that all negroes on the place in the low lands had been drowned in all about 100 men, women and children. All the dwellings are destroyed and the place is in abject desolation.

A Paradise For Trucks. WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 4.—Offenders against borough ordinances practically got off free. Burgess Curran is ill, and the assistant burgess refuses to try cases, claiming he has been legislated out of office by a recent act of assembly. For several days this state of affairs has existed, and many drunks gathered in by the police have smiled at being let off with a few hours' imprisonment. To-night the council passed an ordinance which will be in operation by the end of this month. All the mills of the Pennsylvania Steel company at Steelton started up to-day and gave employment to 2,000 men. Work at the Middletown Tube works will also soon be resumed.

Dead in the Woods. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Another South Jersey murder mystery was brought to light today by the finding in the Laid's woods, near Woodbury, of the body of an unknown German with a bullet wound in the chest, one in the right arm and two in the back. One of the wounds in the back is powder marked, indicating the murderer held the weapon close to the victim's body when the shot was fired. Tracks of a light vehicle running from the road into the woods near the spot where the body was found, were visible and it was also evident that the body had been dragged about two hundred feet through the bushes. The man's pockets were turned inside out and filled and there was nothing left by which he could be identified except that two fingers of the right hand were crippled and the picture of a ship tattooed on the arm. The case has been placed in Prosecutor Jenks' hands. The police in neighboring towns have been asked to look out for a dilapidated wagon driven by two colored men.

NEWS AND OTHER NOINGS. —All Philadelphia and Reading colleges will hereafter work three days a week. —Stories of the disastrous work of the recent storm along the Southern Pacific coast continue to come. —It is stated that Miss Leal, a Scotch lady, has broken the bank at Monte Carlo, winning 200,000 in one hour. —Disbanding Nicaraguan troops captured $100,000 in government funds, killing its envoy, and fled to Honduras. —Moody Merrill, Boston's former and embelizer, has been discovered by a reporter, hiding near Montreal. —While searching for gems Philip Wentworth of Hiram, Me., found a large diamond, and the section is expected to be rich in diamonds. —The Rochester, a lamp with the light of the morning, Catalogue, Rochester Lamp Co., New York. —Eleven hundred iden men will be given employment by the resumption of the National tube works at McKeesport this week. —Trying to climb into his third-story room, having been locked out, John Schaefer, a New York printer, fell to his death. —Thomas Fenwick was arrested for bigamy at North Cox, Conn., on Sunday, while leaving church with his second wife. —Mrs. Mary Murphy died at St. Louis Sunday, aged 106 years. It consisted in a bush of grain a day to be thrown from the steeple of St. Martin's. Every day at noon it is thrown out and the year-old fowls are allowed to share in the old maid's bounty. —The silk flag which the Eighty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteers carried during the war, and which the ladies of Uniontown presented to them, was on Saturday given to the Fayette county historical society. Over a hundred people passed through it and the staff bears the marks of many bullets. —At Shelburn, Ind., on the Evansville and Terra Haute road, on Tuesday morning a force of men went into a coal mine to resume work after weeks of idleness. There was a gas explosion and the mine was wrecked. Eleven men have been taken out badly injured and mutilated. Four will die and probably more. The details are not obtainable at present. —McKee, Fuller & Co., of Allentown, Pa., have received an order of five thousand freight and box cars for Cuba. Their mills and car shops at Fullerton will start up to fill the order, giving employment to 80 men. The road department of the Consolidated Steel and Wire Company which has been idle two months, will start up on Wednesday, giving work to 100 men. —In the United States circuit court in New York, Monday, Judge Benedict appointed Thomas B. Atkins, of New York, receiver for the Nicaragua Canal & Construction Company, on the application of Louis Chobee, one of the stockholders. The application for a receiver is acquiesced in by Warner Miller, president, who says that the Company has no longer means to meet its obligations. —A bite of a strange insect proved fatal to Charles F. Shade, a printer of Harrisburg. A week ago on Friday he went fishing along the Conodoguinet creek. It was there that the insect stung him upon the nose. The following day his face was greatly swollen and the physician said it was blood poisoning. The manly had gone so far as to be incoherent, and after a week of great suffering he died on Friday. —A ghastly discovery has been made by a 'Sherman on President's Island, two miles south of Memphis, Tenn. Six human skeletons were found on the sand bar opposite Jackson Mount Park. Their identity is a mystery, but rivermen believe they are some of the crew and passengers of the ill-fated steamer Gold Dust, which burned a few years ago. The skeletons were found six feet apart imbedded in the sand.

The insurance commissioner has submitted the matter to the attorney general, who has also been notified that the Cosmopolitan Relief Association, located in Philadelphia, is doing an insurance business contrary to law. Legal proceedings against these companies will be instituted. —Every buggy sold by agents has several dollars added to the manufacturer's price. We are manufacturers, and have no agents. For twenty years we have dealt with the consumer. We ship anywhere, with privilege of examining before buying. We pay freight charges both ways, if not satisfactory. Warrant everything for two years. Return money when you order a buggy or harness from us as well as pay from $10 to $50 for some middle man to order it for them. We give no credit, and have one price only. Why do you pay two profits on your carriage and harness? Why do you pay some $10 to $50 for ordering these things, when you can do it and save this money? You run no risk. We let you see the goods before you accept them. We pay all the freight if we fail to suit. Over twenty years ago we commenced to sell in this way, and would not be in business now if we had not suited. 64 page catalogue free. Address ELKHART CARRIAGE & HARNESS MFG CO. Elkhart, Indiana.
