-H. A. Reed, aged about 28 years, who was Baltimore & Ohio station agent and telegraph operator at Markleton, Somerset county, made a probably successful attempt at self-destruction on Monday morning. With a revolver he sent a bullet into his body about an inch and a half pelow the left nipple. The ball lodged in his back and was removed.

-A Reading dispatch says: "The hard times are driving many people from the cities who are flocking to the country to ecome farmers. In some sections of this ountry every farm could be rented ten times over. Consequently the price of farm land has taken a jump upward and rentals have increased. Many of those who are returning to the farms formerly went to the cities from the country."

An annual eclipse of the sun will occur April 5, and a total eclipse Septemer 28, but both will be invisible in any part of America. A partial eclipse of the moon will occur March 21, but will not be generally visible in the United States. Another partial eclipse of the moon will take place on September 14 and 15, and be visible in all parts of America.

-The people of Puttstown were greatly alarmed on Thursday of last when J. M. Warsing died there of small-pox. Several days ago Warsing paid a visit to Tyrene Forges, where the disease is prevalent, and while returning to his home at Hopewell last week took sick on the cars and was taken to the residence of his cousin, Lewis Putt, at Puttstown, where he died at 4:30 P. M. During his illness he was visited by liamsport, while on a hunting trip a number of friends. - Bedford Gazette.

-Mrs. Catharine O'Connor, widow of Patrick O'Connor, died in Altoona on Monday, aged about 68 years. The deceased was born in Campria county. For many years she had been a resident of Altoona, her husband dying there on July 12, 188). She was the mother of seven children. two of whom, John and Maggie, have pre ceded her to the grave. The surviving children are Bernard, William, Annie, and Mrs. W. L. Stevens, of Altoona, and Mrs. Bernard Myers, of Ashville, this county.

-A house occupied by the family of Frederick Ulrich in Altoona was burned efforts to save some valuables and had made her way through the smoke to the third floor, with the whole top of the coof began to settle. A volunteer fireman named Mal Valentine made his way to the top floor, caught the woman in his arms and springing down the stairwas, burst out of the street door just as the roof fell, The loss is $3,500.

-Early on Sunday morning Mrs. Adrie Artice, who lives with her husband and eight children on a farm near Somerser arose to give a sick child a dose of medi cine. As she approached the child's bed with the medicine in one hand and a kere sene lamp in the other, she struck th lamp against a sewing machine, shattering it to pieces. In a moment the room was in flames and the frantic mother grasped her sick child and fled from the building Her husband barely rescued the other children. The building and all its contents were entirely destroyed.

Now, right from our own neighborhood, comes a statement of six brothers beating them by an average of about two years. These remarkable men are the Huber brothers, and their ages are as follows: Jacob, 82: Peter, 78; John, 73; Philip, 72; Charles 69; and Frank 67. The sum of their ages is 441 and the average is 73 years 6 months. If there are six brothers who can beat this we would be obliged to them if they would

The Gosling last week printed the ballots for the election on Tuesday, and as usual, for that establishment, proceeds to tell the people what a great establishment it is. Among other little egotisms, it

We do not propose to explain for the Democrat's edification and education just how we can print ballots for $267.50 less than they state now that they could, and for $587.50 less than they asked for last fall's ballots, but we simply say that we done it and made money by it and that the county commissioners are very well satis fied with the work and probably see th money they saved by having it done by the Mountaineer instead of the Democrat, FREEMAN or some other high-priced con-

And this in the face of the fact that it was the toughest job of printing that ever went into and out of the commissioners office. The ballots were printed on the poorest quality of news paper (with the exception of a couple of thousand printed last, when the establishment with the immense paper cutter run out of paper and borrowed sufficient from the FREEMAN to complete the job) badly printed, badly gummed, three days behind the time they were to be delivered and scarcely a district in the county printed correctly. From the Johnstown Tribune of Wednesday we clip the following: MISTAKES IN BALLOTS. For Daisytown the nominees for assessor and constable were not printed on the official ballot, and in the Sixth ward the Republican candidate's name is printed John G. Keese instead of John G. Reese. In West Taylor township the name of the Republican candidate for collector is printed R. M. Gouchnour under the in-structions "Mart One." Under the head of Judge of Election J. F. Coohnour. In Upper Yoder there was no constable's ame on the regular ticket.

We are told the tickets were certified to the commissioners correctly. Who is re-sponsible for the mistakes we do not now. Whether there are errors in other listricts or not we have not learned. And a gentleman from Gallitzin who was in town on Wednesday informs us that there were no less than five mistakes in the tickets for that borough. If the editor of the Gosling had sense mough to do his printing and let his work speak for itself, like other establishments, here would be but little to say about it. The printers of Cambria would be charitable enough to let it pass. But when he has done a little work, peacock-like, he must spread his tail, show his -- feathers, and strut about asking for admiration, and he but calls attention to his work which the commissioners, as well as every voter in the county, knows to have been execracounting for the election in Ebensburg, the Democratic ticket favored the cov and fought pard all day long against Al bert Apel for council who is opposed to the scavenging cow, but Mr. Shoemaker's ote was not large enough in the evening, and he was defeated. Thus, the verdict of the people of Ebensburg has been rendered on the cow question in as clear and decisive a manner as it could have been by a special election held for that purpose. It is not any clearer that Pennsylvania favors pro-tection than it is that Ebensburg people favor the enforcement of the ordinance re-recently passed prohibiting the cow from running at large in the borough, and as the council stands three to three on the question it will be enforced after May 1st The election on Tuesday was not an ex pression of the people on the cow question at all. There were 248 votes polled in the borough and of these 188 voters had signed a petition to the council asking to have the ordinance reconsidered while only? could be found in favor of the ordinance.

As to Mr. Apel being "opposed to the cavening cow" we beg leave to differ with the Gosling. Mr. Apel signed the peti tion asking for the reconsideration of the ordinance and publicly declared himself as being favorable to its repeal. Whether Mr. Aple knows what he is for, better than the Gosling is of course a question that can only be settled by Mr. Apel and the

The declaration that "Ebensburg people favor the enforcing of the ordinance re cently passed" is an impudent assertion thrown in the teeth of 188 citizens who are thus informed, "we have got you now, what are you going to do about it?

As to the threat that the ordinance will be enforced after May 1st, we of course, along with 187 compatriots, must bow in humble submission when we have to, but not until then. We have opposed the ordinance, believing that a milder measure would have served the same purpose and while it would have been equally as effective, it would have dealt less harshly with a number of poor people in this community who, for the benefit of a few fastidious, will be compelled to live without milk.

Proper Use of Text Books.

N. C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, sends out the following: School text books purchased by boards of directors at the expense of their respective districts as authorized and required by the act of May 18, 1893, P. L. page 93, "are for use in the public schools." The books cannot, therefore be used under any con ditions, whatever, in private schools of any kind. The directors have no discretion in the matter, except what the law gives to them; and inasmuch as the law Harry Lloyd, D., 18; M. D. Bearer, D., 21; itself limits the use of the books to the public schools, the directors cannot consistently nor legally permit the use of free text books in private or subscription schools. The patrons of the schools are to be commended for the progressive spirit shown in the desire expressed to have better educational advantages for their children than are offered by short terms of schools. The proper course, however, to Inspector-John D. Evans, R., 82; Mat | pursue in all such cases is to extend the term of the public schools and thus give all the children the advantages of longer annual terms, and free text books as well as free tuition. This is the correct solution of the whole question and is in accordance with the spirit of the laws governing the operation of the public school system. Where free text books are in use, the schools must be free also, open to all children alike without any conditions or restrictions which the law does not author-
