

LORD ROSEBERY, the new English premier, announced his intention, in a recent speech, of carrying out as nearly as possible Gladstone's and the Liberal policy, especially regarding home rule for Ireland. He also denounced the House of lords.

A SMALL boat in which four men were swept over dam No. 1 on the Monongahela river, above Pittsburg, Thursday afternoon, by the rapid current and two of the men were drowned. The wife of one of the men witnessed the accident from the shore and in her frenzy jumped into the river to drown herself but was rescued. The men were all Irish.

THOMAS MONTGOMERY, of New York has been found alive in a Baltimore asylum, notwithstanding a life insurance company of New York recently paid $500 insurance on his life under the supposition that he was killed in a railroad wreck near New York last September. Montgomery's sister, Mrs. Ellen Inglesby, of New Haven, Conn., got the money on the policy. She identified the body of some other man as that of her brother.

The supreme court of New York has decided that passengers on a street car are required to pay the right fare and making change is a courtesy on the part of the company and not an obligation. A passenger presented a five-dollar bill in payment of fare. The conductor would not part with it, instructing the passenger to call at the company's office for the change. The passenger had the conductor arrested for larceny. On this point the judge decided as above.

On Monday week a reduction of wages went into effect in the Iron works of Cooper, Hewitt & Co., at Trenton. In commenting upon the reasons for it Mr. Hewitt said it was due to the prevailing business depression, which caused heavy losses last year. The business depression, he said, could be traced back to the McKinley bill. "The country could stand almost anything except a McKinley bill. Ever since that bill has passed wages have decreased."

AUDITOR GENERAL GREGG is in possession of data which, in his opinion, proves that about 1,600 brokers are not complying with the law of May 16, 1891, which requires every stock broker, bill broker, exchange broker, real estate broker and private banker to make a report to the Auditor General's department annually of the amount of their business and imposes a tax of three per cent on their net earnings or income. Only about 300 persons in the state are paying a brokerage tax.

The sum of $1,370 is rather a high price to pay for a turkey dish, yet this is the figure at which one was knocked down to a purchaser in Penn township, Berks county on Friday last at the sale of personal property of Levi Geiss. The dish is a rare old piece of chinaware, beautifully ornamented, and was purchased 20 years ago at a sale by Mr. Geiss for $2.50. Each of his children expressed a desire to have it, and as they could reach no agreement as to who should be the owner, they decided to put it up at the sale of the other household effects. It was started at $10, and ran up rapidly at $20 a jump until it was awarded to the youngest son, Peter, at $1,370, by Auctioneer Dundore. The dish has a most interesting history.

LAWYER GEO. F. ELLIOTT and the Citizens Committee, of Gravesend, who have been investigating the accounts of John Y. McKane, allege that the chief failed to account on January 1 regarding the disposition of $500,000 town bonds, as required by law. It is rumored that a large portion of the bonds, if not all, has been hypothecated, and that there is an apparent shortage in McKane's accounts of $200,000. McKane's friends say the apparent shortage in the chief's accounts is due purely to his lack of business methods in conducting the affairs of the town. A Sing Sing dispatch says: John Y. McKane refused to be interviewed in regard to the published statements that he was short in his accounts with the town of Gravesend. He said: "I know nothing about this. I have nothing to say. I am now in prison and out of the world. I have enough trouble on my hands now without paying any heed to this. This does not interest me."

STATISTICS compiled by Secretary Edge, of the State Board of Agriculture, regarding the farms of the state show that the mortgages placed on farms during the past ten years 10.77 per cent bear interest under six percent. The average rate of interest for the past ten years on farm mortgages was 5.66; 11.95 per cent of the mortgages were for sums under $100; 48.73 for amounts under $1,000 or over, but under $5,000; 4.04 for sums over $5,000; 3 to 1 percent for $25,000 and over. The average amount of each mortgage for the past ten years in this state was $1,373; the average number of acres covered by each mortgage was 72; the annual interest charge on all mortgages of the state for the past ten years was $24,585,537. The percentages of this state's total mortgage debt incurred in the last decade was 37.67.

JUDGE LYON at Millintown, in this state on Tuesday, afternoon overruled the defendant's motion for a new trial in the Carpenter murder case. The prisoner, James Carpenter convicted in February of the murder of his blind father, was called for sentence immediately after the opinion was rendered. Without the least manifestation of nervousness or fear he heard the words that doomed him to death on the scaffold. Before sentence was pronounced he proclaimed his innocence of the crime.

A REVOLUTIONARY uprising is reported from Costa Rica. ONE year ago, Sunday, says the New York World, the Democrats assumed control of the national government after a total or partial exclusion from power for over thirty years. They found the tariff taxes higher than at any previous period in the history of the government. They found a treasury deficiency impending where they had left a surplus. They found the free gold excess of nearly $100,000,000, turned over by President Cleveland four years before, scattered in foreign lands. They found the country on the verge of a monetary panic owing to the operations of a Republican silver purchase law. They found on the statute book the skeleton of an elections force law which the Republicans had desperately endeavored to strengthen with federal bayonets at the polls. What is the record of the year? The Sherman silver purchase act has been repealed. So miscellaneous had this law, passed solely by Republican votes, become that business men of all parties united in demanding its repeal. The firm attitude of the Democratic administration secured an unconditional stoppage of silver purchase, and for the first time since the passage of the Bland act, in 1878, the currency of the country was relieved of the danger of debasement. The election law has been repealed. With it disappeared the vestige of centralized coercion, the fruit of the war. Elections are hereafter to be free. The threat of "a bayonet behind every ballot"—of the party in power doing, as Speaker Reed said the Republican party intended to do, "its own registration, its own counting and its own certification"—is removed. This achievement alone is enough to have made the first years of the Democratic restoration memorable. A genuine tariff reform bill has passed the House. The Wilson bill is the most scientific and just tariff measure that has passed either House of Congress in thirty years. If enacted into law it will free the great body of the people from needlessly burdensome taxes, it will relieve our manufacturers from a hindering handicap, it will enlarge the activities and increase the rewards of labor. It executes the mandate of the people. It fulfills the oft-repeated pledge of the Democratic party. As to the reverse side of the picture there is this to be said: Every mill that is closed was shut up under the operation of the McKinley 50 per cent tariff. Every workman that is unemployed is idle under the law that was framed ostensibly to "protect" him. Every dollar of increase in the public debt represents a dollar of the Republican deficiency. Every lack in the treasury is due to the Republican law which curbs revenue by raising taxes. Every expedient to obtain gold to maintain the public credit is the necessary result of the net loss of gold to the country during the Republican administration of over $122,000,000. Every deficiency, increasing payment from the public treasury bears the sign manual of a Republican President. That there are dangers ahead of the Democratic party none will deny. But the record of its first year in power challenges comparison with any similar period in the history of the country.

WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9, 1894.—President Cleveland has, according to information from trustworthy sources, positively refused to act as mediator between the Democrats of the Finance committee and the Democratic senators who have been fighting for radical changes in the industries, in their states. When asked to do so he is said to have indulged in some very vigorous language concerning criticisms which Democratic senators have made upon the floor of the senate and elsewhere about his alleged interference with the legislative branch of the government, and to have expressed surprise that he should have been asked to have anything to do with the matter. This is in accord with my understanding of one of the reasons for the President's hunting trip. He wished to be away from Washington while the Democratic senators were agreeing upon the tariff bill, and was both surprised and disappointed when he returned to find that an agreement had not been reached, feelings probably shared by nearly-five per cent of the Democratic party. It seems difficult to convince the Republican senators that in order to secure all of the parliamentary knowledge and skill in that body, but they were very cleverly outwitted by the Democrats this week in a scheme of their own putting up a Republican caucus decided to spruce up the tariff bill, in order to keep the Bland bill for the contagion of the seigniorage, which passed the House last week, on the Senate, counting upon the votes of the populist, and upon forcing the silver Democrats to choose between an agreement which they did not wish to keep the Bland bill before the senate for an indefinite period, in order to prevent consideration of the tariff bill. The Democrats learned of this compromise and gave the Republican senators would be ready for the consideration of the Bland bill before the senate, Senator Voorhees stating that as it would probably be about ten days before the tariff bill (now before the full Finance committee) would be ready for the consideration of the Senate, and that that time was ample for the disposition of the Bland bill. Senator Sherman made an ineffectual effort to have the Bland bill sent to the committee.

Senator Vest and McPherson made personal explanations in the senate this week concerning charges made against them, in a New York paper, of having speculated in the stock of the sugar trust on their knowledge of what the sugar clause of the tariff bill was to be. Senator Vest said: "I may as well say now, once for all, that such publication as this is a vile slander, and the man who repeats it is a willful and malicious liar." Senator McPherson said that he had sold some sugar stocks for investment, not speculation, and that when he was in the South some weeks ago his brokers, acting under a standing order to buy certain stocks when they could be had at certain prices, bought 1,000 shares of sugar stocks for him. As soon as he returned and learned of the purchase he instructed his brokers to sell the stock and to buy no more, as he did not wish to hold it while sugar was being discussed by the finance committee. He had a standing order for the order were made by the Republican members of the House during the debate on the pension appropriation bill. It was the old, old story.

Postmaster General Bissell did not accept any halfway business from contractors under his department. The President of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company was made aware of this fact, this week, through an official notification that the contract between the government and his company for the transportation of mails between New York and the Isthmus of Panama, and between San Francisco and the Japanese and Chinese ports, made under the subsidy act of the notorious billion-dollar congress, would be canceled, because of the failure of the company to comply with the terms of the contract. Mails will continue to be sent by the steamer of this line, but only the usual prices will be paid for carrying them, instead of the extra subsidy of $1 a mile for all the distance covered. The canceling of this contract leaves only two lines—the Red D. line, between New York and the north coast of South America, and the line between New York, Cuba and Mexico—operating under the subsidy law, as the American line between New York and Southampton will not begin to receive its subsidy until next October.

The House Democratic caucus held this week to consider the advisability of making some change in the rules, looking towards an easier way of getting and keeping a quorum, accomplished nothing because it was not itself attended by a quorum. There is one way in which the Democrats of the House could largely increase their popularity, help the party, and always have a quorum—by simply attending the sessions of the House; but this seems to have been entirely overlooked by some of them. M.

Invited to go to London. WASHINGTON, March 14.—The government has been formally invited to send a troop of cavalry to London to participate in the royal cavalcade which will take place in the Agricultural hall, London, in May next. The tournament is under the patronage of the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Clarence and the British military authorities. All the principal armies of the world have been invited to send cavalry representatives. Each government is expected to send the flower of its mounted troops, and the competition in the drill and maneuvers will be specially sharp and active.

The United States army has never participated in an affair of this kind, and there is some question as to whether or not the invitation can be legally accepted. The United States troops have never before gone away from the country except on a hostile mission. General Schofield is especially proud of our cavalry and is confident of its ability to hold its own against the world in a competitive drill.

Washington, March 13.—The House committee on invalid pensions to-day ordered a favorable report on the bill of Representative Martin, doing away with that requirement of honorable discharge as a preliminary to pension. In many cases death has occurred during a foreign or out side of military duties. In such cases no honorable discharge is in existence and the widow is cut off from securing a pension. The bill makes the death of a soldier equal to an honorable discharge except when the death occurred during desertion.

The Brazilian War Ended. WASHINGTON, March 12.—The state department received two important dispatches from Minister Thompson at Rio de Janeiro. The first one stated that Admiral Saldanha da Gama had offered, through the Portuguese naval commander, to surrender on condition that he and his followers should be guaranteed safety. Peixoto's reply is not given but it is inferred from the second dispatch of Minister Thompson received two hours later than the first that the terms were favorably received. According to the second dispatch, Admiral Saldanha had left his ship and had gone on board the Portuguese vessel as an asylum. Secretary Gresham understands from the dispatches that the war has virtually ended and is gratified that it has avoided further bloodshed. Minister Mendonca said to-night that he had received information fully in accord with the results of the state department, but giving no further particulars.

Fraudulent Pensions. WASHINGTON, March 12.—Pension Commissioner Lochren to-day issued an order directing, in accordance with the act of Congress of December 21, 1893, that immediate steps be taken to remove from the rolls names of persons in all cases in which such action has not already been taken.

Outwitted By a Boy. COLUMBUS, O., March 13.—This morning a telegram from Lancaster informed Chief of Police Fagels that Charles Housholder, a well-known horse thief, had stolen a horse and buggy and started toward Columbus. A reward of $25 was offered for his arrest. Willie Robinson, a 13-year-old waif who is permitted to remain about the prison, overheard the message, and going down the Lancaster pike about six miles awaited his man. A rig answering the description soon appeared and Willie asked a ride, which was given. A few questions to the unsuspecting thief satisfied the boy that he had Housholder, and he passed the same farmer he placed the culprit under arrest and for $30 got the farmer to help him take his prisoner to the city, secured the $25 reward, paid the farmer and pocketed the balance, while city detectives were still looking for the thief.

Batteries Open Fire. RIO DE JANEIRO, March 13.—The government forces began active operations against the insurgents at noon to-day, the forty-eight hour notice given by President Peixoto having expired. The hill top batteries opened fire at three P. M. No reply was made by the insurgents. The government vessels entered the harbor at five o'clock but the insurgent batteries fired at the Villagoin and Colomb and advanced by the insurgents. The fleet was greeted with cheers from thousands of people on the hill tops and salutes from all the government forts. The insurgent ships meanwhile hid themselves among the merchant vessels lying on the bar. Admiral Da Gama is reported to have fled aboard the French warship.

An Old Woman's Painful Death. SCRANTON, Pa., March 13.—Mrs. Mary Campbell, an aged woman living on North Grant avenue, to-day suffered a death that for torture equaled those of the martyrs at the stake. The old lady was partially blind and while trying to warm herself got too near the stove for her clothes caught fire, and as there was no one near to help her she was a mass of flames when her daughter darted into the room. The clothing of the daughter also caught fire and she would also have perished but for the timely arrival of a neighbor's boy, who threw a pail of water over her. The lady died after five hours of excruciating torture. The daughter was only painfully burned.
