Hewitt, of Hollidaysourg, ex-speaker of the House of Repreentatives, and one of the best known Republican politicians in the state, died about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning in the Bingham House, Philadelphia, where he went for medical treatment a few weeks ago. Mr. Hewitt was born in Petersburg, Huntingdon county, June 4, 1833. He was admitted to the Blair county bar in 1856 towards erecting a furnace upon said During the civil war he was a field pay master with rank of major. He served eight years in the House of Representatives and in 1881 was chosen speaker of that body. He was a fish commissioner from 1873 until 1884, and planned the Corry hatching house, the best fish-hatching stablishment in America. He was chairman of the House committee in 1873 on the revision of the civil code. In 1879 he helped to prevent the passage of the riot bill whose provisions would have taken $4,000,000 out of the state treasury.
