The ex-chief makes another important recommendation-that the statute of limitations which now bars the proscention of untional bank officers after the lapse of three years from the time of alleged offenses committed be extended to five years. The present three years' limitation, his investigation has liselosed, is too short a period, as in a number of instances frauds on national banks were found to have been committed many years before discovery. Mr. Drummond sagaciously observes that the longer the period the statute of limitations has to run the more difficult will it be for a bank official to conceal his crime.

The present congress is also asked to amend the law requiring national bank officers to stamp all counterfeit notes as such. There is a law requiring this, but as no penalty is named for the failure to carry out its provision it is not enforceable, although partially observed. This amendment makes the failure to brand such notes punishable. by a fine of $500. The retiring chief also repeats the recommendation made often to former congresses that an appropriation be made as a sanitary measure, as well as to make counterfeiting more difficult, for retiring from circulation worn and soiled notes. Mr. Drummond asserts that his twenty-two years' experience in hunting counterfeiters has taught him that anything which gives a note a soiled or worn appearance is a great and effective help to the counterfeiter.

Domestic Use of Dynamite.

At Vilna, Eussia, recently, Ivan Klakwitz, at the third course of a dinner at which sat his wife, his mother-in-law, his two daughters and a son, as well as a neighbor and his neighbor's wife. announced that he had prepared a special dish to which he wanted all to drink a toast. He then brought in a large dish, covered, and placing it on the table he lifted his glass and shouted: "To our next meeting?" The special dish" was a dynamite bomb. Everyone in the room was instantly killed except the youngest daughter and the servant, who both died shortly after, and the walls of the room were partly blown out.

Effect of "Blind-Fig" Drink.

The term "blind pig" is colloquially used in the middle west to designate an unlicensed saloon. One of these was recently discovered by a farmer living on a bluff, who was boring for water. After some days' work the drill dropped into a cavity and a suction pump promptly brought up a fluid which inspired all who drank with mingled feelings. Only after the hired man had eloped with the farmer's wife and his son had marred the old man's beauty with a four-tined fork was it discovered that the deill had tapped a hogshead of gin stored in a cave in the side of the bluff.

MISS CHICAGO'S BREEZY WAY. Livening Things Up Among the Spiritless

Guests at a Hotel. One morning as we were having a melancholy breakfast as a prelude to a melancholy day, says a writer in the Washington Post, Miss Chicago appeared upon the scene with bright eyes, red cheeks, ribbons flying and feathers nodding.

"Why, how do you do?" cried her cheery young voice, "so glad to see you. Haven't heard a word from you since we crossed on the Victoria together. What are you doing here? I have come to console a gouty father; am afraid it will be awfully stupid, but come and bowl with me after break fast and we will talk it over." All this was delivered so rapidly I had no opportunity to interrupt. "Bowl with you, my dear little child?" I asked. The alleys have been closed for weeks." "Were closed, you mean," said Miss Chicago. "Now they are open, and I have discovered two little negroes, whom I'm going to dress in red flannel zonave suits, who wait to do my bidding. We will bowl at ten, have a Turkish bath at twelve, ride at four, play pool before dinner, and dance afterward."

And it was even so. Every place of amusement connected with the hotel had been closed. Miss Chicago turned the key which unlocked all the doors. and during the rest of my stay at the hotel we had the gayest sort of a time. Everybody was happier because of the presence of this bright young western girl. The invalids smiled when she passed them, the servants rushed to do her bidding; the very animals seemed to know when she was near. I left her here, but f know there was weeping and wailing when she came to take her departure.

Turned the Hose on Them.

A twenty-round glove contest, which rave better satisfaction than any ever held in Livingston, Mont., took place there recently. Before the contest it leaked out that it was to be a rank fake, and arrangements were made to give it a fitting reception. Time was called shortly after ten o'clock, and as soon as the principals entered the ring a section of the city hose was coupled onto a hydrant near by. By the time the third round was called everything was in readiness, and while the principals were engaged in carrying out the rankest of fakes a rush was made for the front window, a nozzle was thrust through the glass and the full force of the water was turned into the ring. The first shot struck one of the combatants in the small of the back, resulting in a knockout blow. Both the principals rushed from the ring, and the water was turned on the spectators, few escaping without a drenching.
