CONGRESSMAN BELTZHOOVER of the Nineteenth Pennsylvania District has been laid on the shelf. Mr. congressmen who opposed the Wilson bill and favored protection and his constituents have concluded that his proper place is in the Republican camp.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, says a Washington telegram, ts angry at the way in which the tariff bill has been bungled in the senate. He is particularly angry at Senator Gorman for having in his rent speech twisted the President's letter of acceptance into an endorsement of the line of policy followed by Mr. Gorman and his allies in making up their compromise tariff measure. He has expressed himself freely to some of his most confidential advisers, and an effort has been made to induce him to come out in a statement, calling a halt on the present course of the sen ate and demanding the passage of a genuine tariff reform bill. Should he do so, it will be so emphatic that there can be no mistaking the President's dissatisfaction with the Gorman compromise, and his disgust with the scandal it has brought upon his administration.

A DISPATCH from Peora, Illinois says: one dead body, several men on the verge of the grave, a number of others seriously injured, $30,000 worth of proper ty absolutely destroyed, and many homes made desolate, was the result of an attempt made on Wednesday by the miners of the Peoria district to close the mine operated by Little Brothers, in Tazewell county, a mile or more back of Wesley City. The tragedy was the sequel of a meeting held at Bartonville the other day, about which there was so much secrecy. It was decided that the Little Brothers' mine must close. In consequence of the conclusion arrived at by that meeting, about 400 miners started out of Bartonville on Wednesday afternoon. They came from nearly all the mines in the district. Every man apparently came armed. They were desperate and were ready to use desperate means to accomplish desperate ends. They were met by the sheriff with a posse but forced their way and charged on the mine. The Littles retreated into the tower and opened fire on the besiegers who riddled the tower with bullets and set it on fire. The men in the tower escaped. There are a number of people wounded.

A PLAN for adjusting labor differences through a board of arbitration has been formulated by Representative Kiefer, of Minnesota. The bill provides for the appointment by the president of three commissioners of arbitration. The commissioner of labor is made ex-officio, a member of the arbitration board. The governor of a state in which a labor controversy occurs is also a member. The board of arbitration thus consists of five members. In order to secure the offices of the board, the application is first made to the governor, the form of an application being set forth in the bill. The application may be made by employers or employes. In the latter case it must be in behalf of at least fifty employes of an organization having one thousand members throughout the country. If the governor is satisfied that a conflict exists, which cannot be amicable settled, he applies to the national board of arbitration to take charge of the question. The board assembles in the state capitol, hears evidence and arbitrates the difference in the usual manner. A protective system without some form of bribery cannot be conceived. Interests whose profits depend upon rises and falls in tariff schedules will put up money to elect a man to the house or senate if they are sure of him and to defeat another man who is dangeaous to Frank Hurd was one of the first victims of the protection policy of killing off reform leaders. William R. Morrison was next. A mercenary still hunt nearly captured Carlisle's seat.

Protection is necessarily bribery. No body ever attempted to formulate an equitable system for imposing tariff duties. The question is always how much the protected interest can get in the general scramble. Protection is essentially a mercenary transaction all through. It was mercenary when sovereigns could grant trade monopolies to favored subjects and the royal hand was held out for either payment in advance or part of the swag. There has been no in forms of government.

We can look for little more than scandalous charges and highly colored rumors from the senatorial investigation. It can be believed, however, that protected interests have been offering bribes during campaigns and committee hearings. They always have offered bribes and will never stop until the protective idea is killed.

Bribery, petty and occasional, will always exist. Systematic, organized, steady bribery is the distinction of the protective system alone. No other possible interest can afford so much for bribery as the protected interests. Where hundreds of millions are involved there is no trouble about spending a million or two to get the necessary votes. Other interests might employ lobbyists occasionally, but it is protection alone which must by the circumstances of its existence maintain a big lobby as an indispensable adjunct of its business. Where a Mob Eules.

McKeesport, Pa., June 15.—The big strike at the National Tube Works assumed a serious aspect to-day. This morning a sufficient number of the strikers went to work to get in operation l two lap weld furnaces and the butt weld | mill. Upon hearing this the strikers quietly met and decided to use every possible endeavor to have the men quit work again. At 11:30 o'clock the works were surrounded by a mob of fully 5,000 men and boys and trouble was looked for. When the whistle blew at 12 o'clock Thomas Milligan, one of the striking welders who had returned to work with two companions, tried to leave the mill yard. Their appearance was greeted by deafening yells, and as they attempted to go through the crowd the men made for them. Milligan was struck in the face, but before any more harm was done he had been secured from the mob by company officers and Superintendent Patterson, who retreated back to the mill. Several bricks and stones were thrown at them. No more men attempted to leave the works, but the crowd remained to watch every entrance. At noon the boilermakers marched out in a body and said they would stay out until the strike was settled.

The company is going to make every attempt to run the works with whatever men will work. It is expected that the ompany will this afternoon secure a big force of deputies, as more serious trouble is looked for.
