THERE are 35 Democrats in the United States senate who stand for tariff reform. There are nine Democrats who are traitors to their party and to the people. The nine traitors would not have the power to put one nickel in the treas ury of a thieving tariff trust were it not for the fact that 38 Republican senators stand in solid phalanx in defense of the trusts. Yet the Republican press is trying to make party capital out of the sit-

IF by any chance the tariff bill should fail, says the Pittsburg Post, the prospects are very strong that a little 10-line bill would be rushed through congress putting sugar on the free list and increasing the income tax so that it will nue. The sugar trust and the bountyfed sugar growers in that case would probably find there are more and better ways of killing a dog that choking him with butter.

THE supreme court has rendered a decision in a case carried up from Luzerne county, which confirms the lower court in rejecting an application for a liquor license, in which all the apparent requirements of the law had been fully complied with. The applicant had the required petition, and there was no remonstrance of any kind. The court refused to grant the license and the applicant carried the case to the supreme court. His purpose was to test the question whether or not the lower court had discretion, under the Brooks act to refuse a license when the applicant made out a clear case and was not antagonized by remonstrances. The supreme court confirmed the lower court.

It is absurd, says the Pittsburg Post, to associate the idea of free coal with the purchase by an American company of a large tract of coal lands in Nova Scotia, to meet a demand for cheaper coal in New England. Of course a removal of the duty will benefit the American coal company operating in Canada, as well as American consumers, just as Mr. Galusha A. Grow told the McKinley committee in 1890 that free coal between Canada and the United States would give the bituminous interests of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois control of the Canadian market From Montreal to the Rocky mountains. No single item of the great bituminous interests of Pennsylvania than free coal, with Canadian reciprocity. It would open new and enlarged markets for a product that we have the capacity of turning out away election districts of Cambria county will beyond the demands of the home market. Free coal is an old subject. Twenty years ago Mr. Hale, one of the senators from Maine, then in the house of representatives, int oluced and had passed through the house a little bill placing coal on the free list. It failed in the senate. President Grant, in one of his messages, recommended free coal with other free raw material. present opposition to free is not from the miners and operators, but from a few big mining corporations, and more particularly from the coal transportation companies. The latter are said to have objected to the 45-cent mining rate in the Clearfield and other eastern and southern bituminous coal districts on the ground that if the coal traffic could stand 5 cents additional the railroads and not the miners should have it. It is these corporations that have kept a lobby at Washington is their spokesman.

Let personal interests and personal ends be relegated to the rear, and actuated by lofty, patriotic purposes, a convention of Cambria county's best Democrats can go a great way toward restoring party confidence and paving the way for the restoration of Democratic supremacy in Cambria

The principle of "equal rights to all, and privileges to none" is as strong as ever, in the heart of every true Democrat in the land, and despite the fact that the party has suffered by reason of realization of the fact that the only way tion to duty and to party fealty, will fear or favor. again bring all hands to the support of the party of the people. The self-respecting Democrats of the county are accustomed to "hoeing their own row" in other things, and will do so if they are sent to a county convention. Let the convention be made of such men.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C. August 3, 1894 .-The so-called "conservative" Democratic senators have it in their power to end which it is supposed will be developed the tariff deadlock in an hour, but they have so far declined to make use of their power. It is now apparent that the Democratic conferees on the tariff bill can easily reach an agreement on the bill if they could be assured that the agreement would receive the votes of the 43 senators necessary. The lack of that assurance is the only stumbling block at this writing. They naturally hesitate to report an agreement when they are in doubt whether it would be accepted or rejected by the senate, knowing that its rejection would mean the failure of all tariff legislation. However, the press ure is becoming so strong on the rule the tariff bill is of more importance to or-ruin Democratic senators from the outside that it is the general belief that they will soon consent to give in to a sufficient extent to get a bill through that can be accepted by all good Democrats. So strong is this belief that the house Democratic caucus, which was to have been held Thursday, has been de ferred for a few days, when it is hoped that an agreement will render it unnec-

Senator Voorhees, who has been too ill to take part in the tariff conference, is now much better, although not ye well enough to resume his duties.

Representative Hutcheson, who is a lawyer of high standing in addition to being a Texas Democrat of deserved prominence in the house, has grown tired of seeing every attempt to control or abolish trusts, by a national law, wrecked by collision with the constitution, and has offered a joint resolution proposing this amendment to the constitution: "Trusts and monopolies dealing in agricultural products, or other articles of prime necessity, shall not exist in the United States, and congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation." This is short, but there is no doubt of its covering the ground, but in view of recent exhibi tions of that influence of trusts in con gress, there is much doubt of its receiving the necessary two thirds vote of con

Representative Bryan, of Nebraska, has received a letter from the executive committee of the Democratic Free Coinage League of that state, asking to fight free coal, and Senator Gorman him to announce his candidacy for the U. S. Senate and to make a personal canvas of the state. While Mr. Bryan has not himself yet so announced, there is little doubt among his friends that he will in a few days accede to the request

There is one reform that should be forced on congress by public opinion, and that is the absolute prohibition of the attachment of new legislation as amendments to the general appropria tive powers in the matter of selecting a tion bills. No better example of the viciousness of the system need be sought for than was presented by the senate this week when an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill providing upon which to build a new government printing office, was adopted. It would be impossible to get the house to agree to this purchase if presented in a separate bill; hence the action of the senate, upon which Mahone has a "pull," to force the house to agree or to see an important appropriation bill fail. It is generally admitted that the Mahone le is unsuited for the purpose and excessive in price, and were it not for the persist ent lobbying of General Mahone it would never even have been seriously considered as among the eligible sites. It re mains to be seen whether the house will allow itself to be buildozed into voting a gratuity of public money to General Ma hone just because certain senators want to help him along.

A party of Slavs took the young woman from her friends, stripped her of most of her clothing, pinioned her hands and feet, ashed her to a stake and whipped her savagely. For more than an hour, while being punished, she was reviled, ormented and spat upon by anybody in the crowd who cared to take a hand. She was left tied to a whipping stake and remained there six hours, as the case is stated to the local authorities, before anybody dared release her.

After she had been whipped a young man who pittied the agony she was suf fering offered to loosen some of the cords that bound her, but he was promptly beaten off by the mob. When the girl was taken down that evening she could hardly move. County De tective Campbell has the case in hand.

The majority for Dates, Democrat, over Kolb, Populist, tor governor, is near the above figures. Nearly every county shows losses by Kolb, as compared with his vote in 1892. At the Democratic committee rooms it is figured out that there will certainly be 11 majority for the Democrats in the senate and on the lowest estimate 18 majority in the house, including Jeffers on's delegation of six. In 1892 Gov. ernor Jones had majorities in the 12 black belt counties aggregating 26,000.
