Old Farmer Hopkins.

A change has taken place in the public aste in these latter days. Plays of the 'blood and thunder'' order are now back numbers. Studies of typical characters presented by competent and painstaking artists seem now the delight of the people. Foremost among this class of plays is "Old Farmer Hopkins" soon to be presented here by that capable and original artist, Frank S. Davidson and his super's comsany. It is a delightful idyl of rural life, utelligently interpreted, the effective of which is greatly enhanced by a lavish display of costly scenery, effects, etc. One vening only, Monday September 3rd.
