

THE TARIFF BOSS UP.

The Caucus Decision to Shelve Supplemental Bills

WILL PROBABLY BE IGNORED.

Senators Vest and Berry Engineering the movement—Opponents Not Scared—The sugar bill to be held to the next session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—There is a well-defined movement on the Democratic side of the senate to get up the supplemental tariff bill. The fact that the decision of the caucus of last week to give the preference to other measures and virtually to shelve the tariff bill.

Senator Vest and Berry are engineering the movement, and these were strong indications in the senate that they considered themselves strong enough to move. Absentees were sent for, and the senators interested were evidently on the spot. The fact, however, that Senator Morrill had given notice of a speech cut them off and the Nicaragua canal bill being taken up as unfinished business, caused them to further postpone their efforts. The opponents of the tariff express the opinion that it will be impossible to get the bill up.

It is understood that the sugar bill would have been given the preference if the tariff bill had obtained an opening. It is now considered probable that there will be an effort to displace the Nicaragua bill with the sugar bill. This effort might have been previously made except for courtesy to Senator Dolph, who had given notice of a speech on the canal bill.

CARLISLE'S FINANCIAL BILL

He Suggests It to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary Carlisle has submitted his financial bill to the committee on banking and currency. It has also been introduced in the house.

It first provides that all acts and parts of acts which require or authorize the deposit of United States bonds or other securities circulating notes issued by national banking associations be repealed and such notes hereafter prepared shall not contain the statement that they are secured.

National banks may take out circulating notes to an amount not exceeding 75 per cent of the paid up and unexpended capital upon depositing with the treasurer of the United States United States legal tender notes as a guarantee fund equal to 10 per cent of the circulating notes applied for, and shall be entitled to receive from the comptroller of the currency circulating notes of the amount of the currency issued, the same, such notes to be redeemable in gold, if desired.

Each national bank shall pay to the treasurer of the United States in the months of January and July each year, a duty of one-fourth of 1 per cent on each year, upon the average amount of its notes in circulation, for a safety fund for the redemption of its notes. Free tax shall continue until the said fund amounts to a sum equal to 6 per cent upon the local amount of national bank notes outstanding, and there after said tax shall cease.

Each national bank shall redeem its notes at par in lawful money of the United States. Notes to be redeemed shall be forwarded to the comptroller of the currency for cancellation, and there upon 30 per cent of the cancelled notes shall be returned to the bank.

When a national banking association becomes insolvent, its guarantee fund held on deposit shall be transferred to the safety fund herein provided for and applied to the redemption of its outstanding notes, and in case the said fund should at any time be depleted by the redemptions of the notes of the national banking association, the immediately available assets of said bank shall be sufficient to reimburse it, said fund shall be at once restored by pro rata assessments upon all the other associations according to the amount of their outstanding circulation, and the associations assessed shall have a first lien upon the assets of each failed bank for the amount properly chargeable to such bank on account of the redemption of its circulation.

The secretary of the treasury may, from time to time, invest any money belonging to the safety fund in United States bonds having the longest term to run, and the bonds so purchased and the interest accruing thereon shall be held as part of said fund, such bonds may be sold when necessary and the proceeds used for the redemption of the circulating notes of failed national banks.

The secretary of the treasury, in his discretion, may use from time to time any surplus revenue of the United States in the redemption of the circulation taken out by national banks and state banks under the provisions of this act, and hereafter no United States notes or treasury notes authorized by the act of July 14, 1890, of a less denomination than $10 shall be issued, and no such notes or treasury notes of a denomination less than $10 shall be received into the treasury they shall be cancelled and an equal amount of notes of like character, but of a denomination of $10, or multiplied thereof, shall be issued in their place, but nothing in this act shall be construed as to repeal, or in any manner affect, the second section of the said act of July 14, 1890.

The use of circulating notes issued by a national banking association, duly organized under the laws of any state, and which transacts no other than a banking business, shall be exempt from taxation under the laws of the United States. Certain regulations are provided for national banks. Laws conflicting in different ways with the provisions of the bill are repealed.

The hearing before the house banking and currency committee was resumed in the room of the ways and means committee. Among those present were Mr. Horace White of the New York Evening Post, Mr. G. C. Homer of Baltimore, chairman of the committee on national banking to formulate the so-called Baltimore plan, and Mr. A. B. Hopkins of New York, ex-comptroller of the currency. The three resolutions represent the currency ideas embodied in the Baltimore plan, and they were present for the purpose of urging the merits of that plan.

The United States Approves Ottawa, Dec. 12.—The recent seizure of the nets of the United States fishermen in Canadian waters in Lake Erie by the government cruiser Petrela are not likely to lead to any international complications. It is said that the Washington government tacitly approves of what the Ottawa authorities are doing in the direction of protecting the fishermen.

A Wife Murderer Caught. St. Louis, Dec. 12.—A telegram received by Chief of Police Harrigan from Natchez, Miss., states that Bernard Foglia, a New York wife murderer, has been arrested there on the steamer Valley Queen.

Argentines to Make Exhibits. ATLANTA, Dec. 12.—Information has been received here that the Argentine republic will make an exhibit and be represented by a commission at the Cotton States' International exposition.
