By the Granting of a Big Concession In the Disputed Territory to Citizens of the United States - We Must Defend

Washington, April 3.—There is # great deal more in the news from Fari bault, Minn, of the grant of a concession by Venezuela at the month of the Orinoco than is indicated in the dispatch This concession may become more or less famous in the history of the diplomacy of the United States and Great Britain. The concession is well calculated to bring to an acute stage the most troublesome diplomatic ques tion before the state department, and one which, as exclusively stated here tofore in these dispatches, has caused the administration more concern than the Allianca affair, the late Guatemalan Mexican disputes and other interna tional episodes The concession is in the heart of the territory long in dispute between Venezueia and Great Britain, and Ambassa dor Bayard for some time has vainly striven, in accordance with a resolution recently adopted by congress, to per suade Great Britain to submit the whole dispute to arbitration, Great Britain being willing to arbitrate only beyond what is known as the Schomberg line There have been intimations that the administration, in the event of a physical conflict over the disputed lands might deem it necessary in the enforce ment of the Monroe doctrine to follow up the moral aid it has tendered Vene zuela with more substantial and potent assistance. The fact that citizens of the United States now, by this concession are thrust, so to speak, between Great Britain and the United States consider ably increases the measure of this coun

Senor Andrade, the Venezuelan minister at Washington, when seen concerning the Faribault item, said that he had no official confirmation of the gran: of the concession, but added that he does not doubt its correctness, as it is in line with reports that such concessions would

The land included in the concession he said is the vital point of conflict be tween Great Britain and Venezuela The Orinoco is the great commercia artery of South America, running far inland, through Venezuela, Brazil and other countries. Whoever controls the mouth of the river Minister Andrade said, will control this great commerce Great Britain has taken possession of Punta Barina, at the mouth, which is to the Orinoco what the island of Gibraltan is to the Mediterranean. She has also equipped a naval station on Trinidae Island, just off the mouth. Her claims embrace both banks of the stream at the mouth. It is part of this important strategic territory that Venezuela now grants to United States citizens The encession near Trinidad Island is be very near to the British naval station, and particularly rich in asphalt.

The present concession is the most emphatic declaration of ownership Venezuela has made since 1884. In that year a concession was made to M. s.: Fitzgerald and Turnbull, citizens of the United States, of part of this crimoco territory. It was about to be operated by a United States company, known as the Manoa company when Great Britain entered such an emphatic protest that Venezuela can celled the concession. Since then, the conflict between Great Britain and Venezuela has been waged through diplomatic channels, now Venezuela reas serts her rights and turns them over to United States citizens.

The interesting questions thus arise: "What steps will now be taken by England to assert her claims," and will she endeavor to prevent the United States syndicate operating its conces-

A Faribault special says: "Donald Grant, a wealthy contractor of this city, W. H. Fisher, late manager of the Duluth and Winnineg railroad, and J. A. Bowman, a Grand Rapids, Minn. banker, have just returned from Vene zuela, where they obtained a concession of land at the mouth of the Orinoco running 125 miles south and from 15 to 20 miles east and west. It is rich in minerals, mahogany, rosewood and dyewoods. They also have the right to mine asphalt on a small island near Trinidad. The syndicate will invest a good deal of capital in working the concession and Mr. Fisher is to be the man-

The Catholies established Indian schools, as did the VENEZUELA MATTER COMPLICATED | Protestant denominations, at the request of the government, which promise I to maintain the schools if the churches built them. "Catholics built more schools and had more pupils than the others, because our people gave more money for the Indians than did the Protestants. Of course the Catholics were entitled to larger appropriations, and if they got $400,000, and the others only $100,000, the reason was to be found in their devotion to the work and their liberality.

majority. The proposition to put the police and all other city officials under civil service rules, and extend the mayoralty term to four years, has undoubtedly been carried by a major ty very close to that obtained by Swift.
