

GEN. BUSHNELL NAMED

Ohio Republicans Nominate Him For Governor.

VICTORY FOR EX-GOV. FORAKER.

He Worked Hard For the Springfield Man.

Opposed by McKinley and Sherman.

McKinley Endorsed For President and Foraker For Senator.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 29.—The nomination for governor by the Republican state convention of General Asa S. Bushnell is generally regarded as a victory for the Foraker men over the McKinley men, although the result was not as decisive as the former expected.

The Foraker men were able to concentrate on Bushnell, and their opponents remained divided. Ex-Governor Foraker worked for Bushnell, while Sherman, Foster and other leaders opposed the favorite. Hoyt and Nash made brilliant speeches and scores on the ground hustling, while General Bushnell remained at his home in Springfield.

The convention was called to order here by Colonel Joseph C. Bonner, chairman of the state committee. A half hour previous the hall was packed to its full capacity of 3,000 and a larger number were unable to gain admittance. Senator Sherman was given a stirring ovation when he was escorted into the hall by Congressman Van Voorhis and Judge Granger. Ex-Secretary Foster, members of congress, several candidates and others were present when they entered, so that Chairman Bonner had to pray hard for order previous to the opening of the session.

Senator Sherman was given a great ovation. Among the working delegates were Herman G. Donison, son of the war governor, and Harry Garfield, son of the martyred president. On the platform were Judges West, Lawrence, Baldwin and a large number of leading Republicans.

A Marked Demonstration. When Judge West, who was the Republican candidate for governor in 1877, was being escorted to the platform Senator Sherman came down to greet him, and the scene occasioned a marked demonstration. While Chairman Bonner, who is a member of McKinley's staff, was eloquently congratulating the Republicans on the result of the last Ohio election, and forecasting another triumph for next November, the Foraker introductory speech, ex-Governor Foraker entered the hall, and a very boisterous demonstration followed his appearance. After the chairman Bonner had made repeated efforts to secure order and proceed with his introductory remarks, ex-Governor Foraker stepped to the front of the platform and said:

"Gentlemen of the convention—I hope you will be time for us all to be heard before we leave Zanesville. (More shouting than ever.) It is a good town to stay over night in, and I will stay just as long as our business may require. At the proper time, we will be in order to exchange greetings with you, but I beg for the present that you let the chairman of the national committee proceed with his speech, in order to expedite the business of the convention."

Even after this appeal it was with great difficulty that Colonel Bonner out short his remarks and introduced to the demonstrative assembly Senator John Sherman as the temporary chairman. Senator Sherman met the demonstrators at first with a stern countenance, but he soon saw the Republicans of Ohio keep up such a pitch of enthusiasm till the next November election. His speech commended the closest attention.

Senator Sherman's speech said that either of the candidates for the nomination were worthy of the highest honors the convention could confer. But the convention had a still higher duty, that of nominating the principles and policy of the Republican party in the state of Ohio and the United States.

After making a strong argument in favor of a return to the McKinley protective tariff, he took up the financial question as follows:

"We are in favor of a sound national currency always redeemable in coin. All forms of money should be of equal purchasing power. For 14 years after the resumption of specie payments, while the Republican party was in power, we had such a currency. We had gold, silver and paper money all bearing the stamp and sanction of the United States, of unquestioned credit and of equal value, passing current not only within the United States but in all parts of the commercial world."

"Both gold and silver are indispensable for use in the varied wants of mankind. Gold is now, and has been for ages, the chief measure of value in international commerce, and the basis of transactions of domestic exchanges. Silver, from its bulk and weight, is not available for large payments, but in some of our states it is indispensable in the minor wants of mankind. Gold, from its greatly superior value, cannot be utilized for the minor wants. Therefore it is that both metals have been coined into money at a fixed ratio."

"The enormous increase in the production of silver in the United States, Mexico and Australia has disturbed this ratio and has lowered the market value of silver precisely as a like increase of production has lowered the price of other commodities. It is a universal law that price or value is measured by quantity."

"It has inaugurated a policy looking toward ultimate free trade, which has deranged business, crippled our industries, distressed our homes and dealt labor a serious blow. With deplorable incompetency it has failed to raise revenue enough to run the government, and has had to borrow, in less than two years, $162,000,000, mainly to pay ordinary running expenses, selling in secret to favor foreign syndicates the bonds of the government at prices far below their actual value."

Hawaiian Policy Condemned. "It has lowered the flag in Hawaii in an un-American attempt to overthrow a republic and restore a monarchy, and with unparliamentary indifference has suffered British troops to land in Nicaragua, in contemptuous disregard of the Monroe doctrine; by these and similar acts, our country, as well as our power and dignity to non-combatants, has suffered a loss of respect throughout the world."

"We denounce the free wool provision of the present tariff as an unparliamentary discrimination against an important industry, and demand such protection for sheep husbandry as will secure fair prices for American wool."

"We denounce the present administration of the pension bureau for its betrayal of the interests of the union soldiers, and we pledge anew to the veterans of the republic a watchful care and recognition of their just claims upon a grateful people."

"We endorse the able, honest and business-like administration of Governor William McKinley; we are anxious to qualify in favor of his second session and endorse the action of the last general assembly in returning to the policy of the founders of our state constitution in that regard. We commend the last general assembly for the care and economy of its appropriations, taxing privileges and franchises, and thus relieving that except the burdens of taxation now resting upon the people."

WILBER'S

Do YOU KNOW

the noisiest band does not lead the biggest procession, and the largest advertisement does not always represent the greatest bargains?

Gentlemen in need of a reasonable Summer Suit cannot find anything more appropriate than one of these fine Worsteds. These Suits you now see so freely advertised as big (?) bargains for $10.00 are absolutely the same in every respect.

Our $14.50 Suits are among our greatest money-saving bargains. These are made of dark gray, hard-twisted Worsteds, lined with the best material. They are the biggest bargains in the department. Come and examine them.

Our $10.00 Suits. We don't mean these are $25.00 Suits marked down to TEN DOLLARS, but we claim them to be extra quality, style and workmanship for a $10.00 Suit.

Our $5.00 Suits are beauties. You will be surprised to see them. A more stylish line at such low prices was never before produced. You will have to come and look at them to appreciate the offer.

Our Youths' Suits at $2.50, $3.00, $4.50, $5.00, $6.25, $10.00 and $12.00 are unsurpassed for fit, finish and workmanship.

Children's Knee Suits at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $3.25, $4.50 are without an equal.

Come and examine our stock and be convinced.

J. B. WILBER, EBENSBURG.

Stoves, Ranges, Heaters and Furnaces, Agricultural Implements.

H. A. SHOEMAKER.

NEW TIN SHOP IN EBENSBURG.

Spooning, Roofing and Repairing done PROMPTLY.

GRESHAM FUNERAL.

Services Held at the White House This Morning.

BODY EN ROUTE FOR CHICAGO.

The funeral party left Washington shortly after Noon. The President and Cabinet Officers on the Train A Military Escort to the Depot.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—There is considerable speculation among politicians and others of the administration as to members of congress as mentioned in this connection are those of Attorney General Olney, Mr. Cull, the present assistant secretary of state, Senator Gray of Delaware, Ambassador Bayard and Justice, ex-Secretary Whitney and ex-Postmaster General Dickinson. All the proceedings are, however, speculative, as the subject has not been mentioned much less discussed by the press or anyone in the confidence of the president.

The president has 30 days under the law in which to make his selection, and those who know him best believe that the best of any of the candidates mentioned will be made without great delay. All things considered, it is thought that a choice will not be definitely determined upon for some time yet.

The funeral ceremonies in Washington today were of a semi-official character. The services were held in the East room of the White House, with the president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

The remains were taken from the Arlington Hotel to the executive mansion this morning and placed in a casket where they will remain until held at 10 o'clock. They were conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist church, who was assisted by the members of the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States supreme court, senators and congressmen who were in the city, and the chiefs of the war and navy departments.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the Arlington Hotel. The train left Washington shortly after noon. The president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors of the nations, representatives of the departments, and the army and navy, and others present, and all official business suspended for the day.

WILBER'S

Do YOU KNOW

the noisiest band does not lead the biggest procession, and the largest advertisement does not always represent the greatest bargains?

Gentlemen in need of a reasonable Summer Suit cannot find anything more appropriate than one of these fine Worsteds. These Suits you now see so freely advertised as big (?) bargains for $10.00 are absolutely the same in every respect.

Our $14.50 Suits are among our greatest money-saving bargains. These are made of dark gray, hard-twisted Worsteds, lined with the best material. They are the biggest bargains in the department. Come and examine them.

Our $10.00 Suits. We don't mean these are $25.00 Suits marked down to TEN DOLLARS, but we claim them to be extra quality, style and workmanship for a $10.00 Suit.

Our $5.00 Suits are beauties. You will be surprised to see them. A more stylish line at such low prices was never before produced. You will have to come and look at them to appreciate the offer.

Our Youths' Suits at $2.50, $3.00, $4.50, $5.00, $6.25, $10.00 and $12.00 are unsurpassed for fit, finish and workmanship.

Children's Knee Suits at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $3.25, $4.50 are without an equal.

Come and examine our stock and be convinced.