

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Probationary, WILLIAM O'BRIEN, of Johnston. For Register and Recorder, D. A. McGUIRE, of Ebensburg. For District Attorney, JAMES M. WALTERS, of Johnston. For Poor Director, JOHN O'HARA, of Munster township. For Surveyor, THE WILLIAM BAUGH, of Johnston. For Sheriff, S. W. MILLER, of Johnston.

Women acted as conductors on the street cars in Bay City, Michigan, Friday last, to raise money for the Masonic Temple fund.

One thing pretty well settled in the people's minds is that the present prosperity of the country is not due to McKinley's high tariff.

That news from the Bannocks confirms the impression that about the only fair show the Indians have is with other Wild west connections.

It wasn't enough that other industries should condemn the calamity-howler, but here the glass furnaces of the land are giving him a blast.

Remnants of Sedan, Sunday, observed the 25th anniversary of the capture of the place by Germans with mourning and manifestations of sorrow. Throughout Germany the day was one of general rejoicing.

The customs receipts for this fiscal year have exceeded by $9,000,000 those for the corresponding period of last year. The excess is largely due to the duty on sugar, which last year was on the free list.

The Tennessee coal, iron and railroad company have looked an order from the Carnegie company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., for 25,000 tons of "basic iron," to be used in the latter company's steel mills at Braddock and Bessemer, Pa.

A woman named Butler is the first of her sex to vote at a general election in England. Her name was put on in mistake of Barrow, and the presiding officer at the polls held that he had no authority to inquire into her sex when the name was once on the list.

It was during the era of McKinleyism that millionaires at one extreme of the population and tramps at the other became strikingly distinct classes. That was the result of a system of taxation devised to more desperately impoverish the poor and to more munificently enrich the wealthy.

Another sign of prosperity is manifested at Salem, Mass., where the 2,700 employees of the Naumkeag Cotton Mills have been notified that hereafter their wages will be increased from 6 to 20 per cent over that now being paid. The managers of the company say that business has been very good and that the increase is warranted.

The situation of the treasury as regards the subject of revenue, apart from that of the gold reserve, has greatly improved within the past two months. If the receipts average through the year what they have been during July and August, the deficit for the current year will be trifling and there will be little necessity for new revenue legislation.

Another star, the forty-fifth, is to be added to the flag. The new star will represent Utah, and the order for its addition to the national colors was issued by Secretary Lamont on Tuesday. The star will be placed to the right of the fourth star from the top. Utah will not attain statehood until the fourth day of next July, but all the flags hereafter contracted for and issued will contain the star heralding the admission of that territory into the Union.

It was reported last week on authority which is considered absolutely reliable that Ex-Fortmaster General W. S. Bissell has been offered the place on the United States supreme court bench made vacant by the death of Justice Jackson. The information came from a close friend of Mr. Bissell, and it is stated that the ex-postmaster general revealed the secret before he left Buffalo early last week. The information further stated that Mr. Bissell would not accept.

Each of the seven justices of the new superior court receives an average salary of $625 per month. Although the commissions of the judges date from the 1st of July, the court will not sit until November. A period of four months will thus elapse in which no service whatever will be rendered to the state. Meanwhile, however, taxpayers will be required to pay each of the justices for that time the sum of $2,600 or $18,000 in the aggregate. It was the conception and sanctioning of this system of plundering the treasury that reveals the true character of the late legislature and the present executive.

A HARRISBURG telegram to the Leader, says that an effort has been made to construe the peaceful ending of Wednesday's convention proceedings as a sign of a compromise between Senator Quay and the combine. Senator Quay has authorized a statement denying this positively, and stating that the harmony evidenced late in the campaign was only possible after the combine had confessed defeat and had succumbed to the inevitable. Lieutenant Governor Lyon states again that no compromise was effected at the conference of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning; that the state committee merely vindicated its original position and compelled Chairman Gilkeson to admit this.

Improvement in markets and prices, says Don's Review, continues, and whereas a few months ago everybody was nursing the faintest hopes of recovery, it has now come to be the only question what branches, if any, the rise in prices and the increase in business may go too far. A strong conservative feeling is finding expression, not as yet controlling the markets of industries, but warning against too rapid expansion and rise. In some directions the advance in prices clearly checks future business. But encouraging features have great power. Exports of gold continue, but are met by syndicate deposits and expected to cease soon. Anxieties about the monetary future no longer hinder. Crop prospects, except for cotton, have somewhat improved during the week. Important steps toward reorganization of great railroads give hope to investors. Labor troubles are for the moment less threatening, and some of importance have been definitely settled. The industries are not only doing better than anybody expected, but are counting on a great business for the rest of the year.

The advance in prices of iron and its products has added about $2 per ton in a single week to the price of Bessemer iron at Pittsburgh, and yet the great steel companies are buying wherever they can, while the air is full of reports that this or that finished product will further advance. Many of the ablest men deplore this rapid rise, note that it may expose some branches to foreign competition, and urge that consumers begin to hesitate. But the various combinations which now control many iron products have so successfully lifted prices thus far, that the markets seem to lack the restraint of individual caution, and meanwhile holders of large quantities purchased for future sale or delivery want to get all they can for the demand, whether on old or new orders, appears large enough to sustain all advances yet made, and strikes of ore handlers and Marquette miners cause fear that supplies of Bessemer ore may run short.

When the Democratic State Convention assembled, says the Philadelphia Record, it should declare in unmistakable language for the abolition of the superior court, and make that an issue both this year and next, when a new legislature is to be chosen. In order that there may be no misapprehension of the position of the party, the candidates put in nomination for judges of the superior court should be pledged in advance not to accept a salary after the court shall have been abolished.

While the Republican platform conveys a strong rebuke to the Hastings administration in its declaration for the abolition of unnecessary offices and salaries which the recent legislature busied itself in creating, and which the governor approved, the effect of the rebuke is weakened by the generality of its terms. The Democratic platform should be explicit, and should call things and persons by their right names. Since a superior court is to be elected it is to the advantage of the people that they should have the best material in the state to choose from. The Democrats should, therefore, name a full ticket. If proper men shall be named there will be no difficulty in securing their acquiescence in a pledge not to avail themselves of the emoluments of office in case the office itself should be abolished.

The coal commerce of the country, says the Philadelphia Times, is deep in suggestions to the advocates of high protective schedules. For the year past the total coal production of Canada, which includes British Columbia and the Northwest territories, amounted to 3,454,188. The consumption of coal in the Dominion aggregated 5,496,776 tons, and while Canada exported 995,998 tons the imports amounted to 1,580,522 from the United States.

When tariff on coal was reduced from 75 to 40 cents a ton it was claimed that such a course would ruin the soft coal mining industry of Pennsylvania and West Virginia as Canadian coal would compete and flood the markets. Under the first year of the Wilson tariff bill the Dominion imports half as much coal as the Nova Scotia and other operations were capable of producing, and all this with the Cape Breton miners making 75 cents a ton to the average rate of 45 cents in this state.

What would the situation be if there was no tariff tax? The removal of 35 cents of the tax increased imports from this country nearly one million tons in the year just ended—a very contrary claim to the predictions of the calamity-howlers.

It is a mournful fact that several leading Republican papers of the state are not willing to accept the conversion of Brother Quay to the sacred cause of reform as being a thing to swear by. The Philadelphia Telegraph is one of these doubting Thomases, and says:

For 20 years Mr. Quay has been standing defiantly in opposition to the cause of reform. He has never before had anything but sneers and supreme contempt for those whom he regards as the orators, priests and cranks. Now this thorough-paced politician wraps himself in the white robes of reform and poses as its champion! This is enough to make the oxen of the Allegeny unite in a hoat that might be heard through the land. Without the aid of political time-servers Mr. Quay would have been beaten out of sight. He renews his commission as the autocrat of the Republican party in the greatest Republican state of the Union by the grace of those whose combined ignorance, selfishness and weakness has again postponed the day of the people's deliverance.

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—Elias Huffmann, 3 years old, was drowned in a mill pond here this afternoon in water not over two and a half feet deep. He was in bathing, and in ducking swallowed to much water. Before assistance could reach him he strangled.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D.C. August 31, 1895.—Secretaries Carlisle and Lamont are the first members of the cabinet to return from their various excursions and vacations and to get down to work. They both found things moving nicely in their respective departments. Secretary Carlisle is being importuned to go to Kentucky for the purpose of organizing a market for the state central committee and the candidates on the Democratic state ticket, but he has not yet consented to do so, and it is not at all certain that he will.

It is Quay, in the eyes of Republican politicians, began his "second time on earth" when he knocked out his enemies and got a new and strong hold on the Republican machine in Pennsylvania. Democrats also are interested in a way, as it is among the probabilities that Quay's latest demonstration of his ability as a schemer and trickster will cause him to be selected to run the Republican national campaign next year.

In the latter part of 1893 Dr. George W. Fraker was physician to the St. Elmo hotel, the leading hotel in Excelsior Springs, a famous health resort near Kansas City, Mo. He was then one of eight companions the doctor went fishing on the Missouri river one day after dark, while in the company of George Harry, James Tripley and Jake Crowley, a negro, he disappeared and was seen no more. These three men afterward swore that they witnessed his drowning while rowing in a leaky boat, but after a strict search his body could not be recovered.

Some three or four months previous to this he began loading up with life insurance, taking $10,000 in the Kansas Mutual life, of Topeka; $15,000 in the Hartford life and annuity, $15,000 in the Providence saving life of New York, and $3,000 in the benevolent societies of that place, a total of $48,000. Immediately after his disappearance he is traced companies held a conference and discussed the while the doctor's income was only about $1,800 a year, his premiums amounted to $1,000 annually, and that George Harry and James Tripley, who swore to having witnessed Fraker's death were men of bad repute. Similar cases are reported from other parts of the city, though no damage to life or person has been reported.

It Snakes Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, September 2.—An earthquake shock lasting several seconds was felt in this city shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning. This disturbance by another earth of the quiet of the Sabbath morning was not enough, while it lasted, to create a great deal of consternation and not a little damage. Buildings perceptibly swayed, windows clattered and banged and clocks and pictures tipped on their places. The shock was most severely felt in the suburban districts, and it is said that in one part of George's Hill, in Fairmount park, a fissure was opened permitting the entrance of a plummets which extended to a depth of over a hundred feet without touching bottom. A large plate glass window in the shade store of Michael Lett, 1214 Germantown avenue, was split from top to bottom. Similar cases are reported from other parts of the city, though no damage to life or person has been reported.

Regular Cowboy Fashion.

East Stroudsburg, Pa., September 2.—After stealing $300, Boudette clothing and revolver, Charles Houghtellen was shot and mortally wounded by Benjamin Tripp, alias "Texas Jack," a cowboy, in the city streets here, Sunday afternoon. Houghtellen and his mother, who poses as "Nemo, the white witch of Mexico," were members of the stranded "Black Taylor" West show, which was Tripp. They have been giving exhibitions of rough riding and shooting in the towns near by and had accumulated several hundred dollars. While Tripp was asleep in a room and son informed him and dumped. The cowboy came up with the runaway pair on the mountains and shot the son three times. Tripp is in jail.

The Dynamite Went Up.

Pittsburg, Pa., September 2.—At 11:50 o'clock today 1,000 pounds of nitro-glycerine exploded near Shamolin station, on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad, nineteen miles from Pittsburg. The scene was the storage house where glycerine is stored, and the building in the Shamolin oil fields is stored. Two employees had just left the building for dinner, but were still near enough to be thrown to the ground by the concussion. The explosion was scattered over a large area, and the cause of the explosion was not ascertained.

A Ferris Forest Fire Raging.

Cape May, N. J., September 3.—A change of the wind to the south gave the forest fire which broke out near Woodbine yesterday, fresh impetus this afternoon, and it is burning with awful fury. Its line is said to extend for forty miles and the flames are eating their way with great rapidity toward Egg Harbor.

Killed His Wife.

Vincennes, Ind., September 2.—Bill Carter, colored, this morning shot and killed his wife because she had refused to live with him. Carter hid in an alley on Hart street and shot her as she passed, five shots entering her body, killing her almost instantly. Carter then ran to his room on Seventh street, loaded his gun and revolver, climbed to the room and swore that he would kill any man who approached. Deputy Sheriff Bryant went to arrest him. Carter was seen lying upon the roof, and as he poked his head over the edge, Bryant shot him in the head and face with a shotgun. Both of Carter's eyes were shot out and he surrendered.

A Cashier Held Up.

Chicago, September 2.—Shortly before noon today, when Cashier Raymond O'Connell, of the Masonic Temple Association was taking money from the safe, a young man approached from behind and grabbed a cash box containing $750. The thief started down State street with his plunder, followed by 500 citizens, and was captured by a policeman. During his flight he threw the money into a garbage box and it was recovered. Certain suspicious circumstances led the police to closely question Cashier O'Connell, who finally confessed that the robbery was planned by himself. He says the thief is James Gordon, of Louisville, Ky.

A King's Life in Danger.

Barrietz, August 31.—King Alexander, of Servia, nearly lost his life while bathing this morning in the Bay of Bis by being struck by a lightning bolt. He went out swimming this morning with an instructor in a double-bottom, and both master and pupil were carried off their feet and away from the shore by the strong current which prevailed off this fashionable watering place. The instructor, however, was not drowned, in spite of the efforts made to reach him, and King Alexander only reached the shore with the difficulty.

Captured After Two Years.

Duluth, Minn., September 2.—Living in the wilds of northern Minnesota, fifty miles from a postoffice, with only a boy for a companion, Dr. George W. Fraker, who planned one of the most gigantic and successful insurance swindles of modern times was captured by officers who have been on his track for the past two years. Up to August 12 last there was a standing reward for his arrest, offered by the insurance companies.

Some three or four months previous to this he began loading up with life insurance, taking $10,000 in the Kansas Mutual life, of Topeka; $15,000 in the Hartford life and annuity, $15,000 in the Providence saving life of New York, and $3,000 in the benevolent societies of that place, a total of $48,000. Immediately after his disappearance he is traced companies held a conference and discussed the while the doctor's income was only about $1,800 a year, his premiums amounted to $1,000 annually, and that George Harry and James Tripley, who swore to having witnessed Fraker's death were men of bad repute. Similar cases are reported from other parts of the city, though no damage to life or person has been reported.

It is understood that the report of the Nicaragua Canal commission, which is now in the hands of Secretary Lamont, is favorable to the canal, but leaves open what heavily on the methods of the canal company, particularly as to estimate of the amount needed to complete the canal. The commission says it will take $115,000,000 to complete the canal, which is $45,000,000 more than the company's estimate.

Time brings changes. Under the federal electric laws, repealed by a Democratic congress, one John I. Davenport, as U. S. supervisor of elections for the city of New York, was for many years a sort of Republican boss. He always had money to spend when he came to Washington, which was used to pack a committee against their views.

Not a thought was taken of the silver question when the committee was appointed. We ask the co-operation of all Democrats and all Democratic clubs between the two oceans in support of these universally accepted Democratic principles which are stated in the several articles of our constitution, and as to all else we abide the final determination of the regular nominating national convention.

Cholera in Honolulu.

San Francisco, August 31.—The steamer Monowai, which arrived last night from Australian ports, did not stop at Honolulu, but sailed on for that port the steamer was hailed by the American consul in a small boat, who announced that cholera had broken out in Honolulu. Among the natives and Chinese on board the steamer, the steamer Belgic left on her last trip. It is presumed the disease was brought by that vessel. The Monowai did not enter Honolulu harbor, but steamed direct to San Francisco. Her passengers for Hawaii were brought here. There had been eight deaths from the disease among the natives and Chinese.

Small Beginnings.

Make greater ailments that we are apt to consider trivial often grow, through neglect, into atrocious maladies, dangerous to themselves and productive of others. It is the disregard of the earliest indications of illness which leads to the establishment of all sorts of maladies on a chronic basis. Moreover, there are certain diseases incident to the season, such as malaria and rheumatism, which it is always desirable to fortify the system against. Cold, diphtheria and influenza are surely counteracted by a timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After you have had a cold, a headache, a fever, a cold, a diphtheria, a dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney and bladder trouble, nervousness and debility, it is the most deservedly popular of remedies and preventive. A single bottle before meals promotes appetite.

ABOUT SPONGES. The drugstore kind of Sponges are the fibrous skeletons of sea animals—"plants" they used to call them, so like vegetation in their growth. When found they are unsightly, pulp-looking things and have to go through a number of processes before they are ready for the market. There are many points about Sponges that the customer or his dealer should look out for. We are posted and have made a very careful selection for our trade.
