KENNESBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, - SEPTEMBER 27, 1895.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For State Treasurer, BENJAMIN F. MYERS, of Harrisburg. For Judges of Superior Court, HARMON YERKES, of Bucks county, PETER P. SMITH, Lackawanna county, J. S. MOOREHEAD, of Westmoreland county.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Prothonotary, WILLIAM O'BRIEN, of Johnstown. For Register and Recorder, D. A. MASON, of Ebensburg. For District Attorney, JAMES M. WALTERS, of Johnstown. For Poor Director, JOHN O'BRIEN, of Muncaster township. For Coroner, DR. WILLIAM RAUCH, of Johnstown. For Surveyor, S. W. MILLER, of Johnstown.

Chicago proposes to send a regiment to Cuba to fight the Spaniards.

While driving over lookout mountain, Governor Upham, of Wisconsin, jumped from his carriage and broke his leg.

Allentown newspapers claim that city has entertained more conventions than any other in the state, outside of Philadelphia.

During a wind storm at Madison, Wisconsin, recently, a freight train was blown from the track and four men were seriously injured.

The Duke of Marlborough, who is hard up for ready cash, is engaged to marry Miss Consuela Vanderbilt, daughter of Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Philadelphia's Locking committee will not get down to work until after the election. Quay's efforts at reform will be made with due caution for fear there might be some rottenness stirred up.

A thorough inspection of the various institutions receiving state aid is to be made by Governor Hastings, who will personally visit these institutions during the next two or three months.

The Democratic political conferees for the Huntington Millin district met at Lewistown on Wednesday in the court house and nominated John M. Bailey, of Huntington, for president judge. Twenty-one ballots were taken.

Advisers received from Hoddeia, in the province of Yemen, Arabia, report that one hundred lives have been lost by a landslide, which destroyed the village of Hudeya, in the mountainous district in the southwestern part of Arabia.

The National Association of Bolt and Nut Manufacturers met at Cleveland, O., on Wednesday and decided to advance the price of these products about 5 per cent. The advance is made necessary by the recent advance in iron. It will take immediate effect.

What has become of all these tin-plate establishments that would surely go out of business after the passage of the Democratic tariff bill? Why, they've doubled their forces, put up their wages and increased their output beyond the hope of the most radical tariff reformer! Next!

The Merion Worsted Mills, at West Conshohocken, Pa., which have been shut down since August 1, 1895, will resume operations on October 1. Orders have already been secured sufficient to keep the mills running six months. Nearly 200 hands will find employment.

A TORNADO did great damage to buildings and other property at Sand Beach, Petoskey and Port Austin, Michigan. One mile from the village of Pinebog on the farm house of I. Ollis was completely demolished and three of the farmer's children, who were sleeping in the upper story, were instantly killed.

The Fayette county court, at Conneville, on Saturday admitted only two-thirds of the seventy-five applicants for naturalization. Judges Stowe and Mestrez established a rule that nobody can be naturalized who has not acquainted himself with the constitution and institutions of the United States.

There was a conference in New Bedford, Massachusetts, between the manufacturers and spinners. The manufacturers are hopeful of an improvement that will justify them in making an advance in wages in the near future. It is not yet known whether the operatives will strike or wait for an advance.

A PARTY has seldom had a better opportunity to put itself into good condition for a coming presidential election than the Democrats have at the present juncture. The policy of the party on the tariff and the policy of the president on the silver question have commended them to the people. Improved times have resulted from both, the Democrats have only to fully identify themselves with both to obtain the advantage of them for their party.

Nor for twenty years has there been such a scarcity of lemons in this country. The blizzard which swept over the Florida peninsula last December ruined the crop in that section, consequently Italy and Spain are the two countries that are now supplying us with the fruit. The supply in the former country is short, too, this year, and when the recent warm wave created an abnormal demand for lemons the supply on the spot was not sufficient to go round. They sold in New York on Wednesday for $10.50 per box.

R. G. Dies & Co's Weekly Review of Trade, says: The surprising increase in the production and advance in prices of iron seems to be bringing a natural check, as prices have gone so high as to cause some purchases from Europe, both of pig and finished products, and have also caused a distinct shrinkage in home demand.

The cotton mills which laid in stocks of cotton below six cents, are enriched by the advance in material, and are enabled to make frequent advances in goods. The present demand is dull, but there are no reports of stoppage, and the threatened strike at Fall River does not come.

The movements of exchange and of gold have somewhat affected the market this week. Exchange has fallen, though not because commercial bills have greatly increased. Exports of specie, though diminished, will reach about $12,400,000. It is confidently believed that the international syndicate will allow no financial disorder.

August imports exceeded exports by $15,282,729, and net exports of gold were $15,159,782. A small cotton crop, with large stocks held abroad; a slender demand for Atlantic wheat, with Russian arriving in London in large quantities, and a merchandise exports and imports at New York 30 per cent larger than last year in September thus far scarcely promises speedy change.

The volume of domestic trade measured by exchanges—20 per cent greater than last year, but 8 per cent less than in 1892—is not quite as near the record of full prosperity for September as for August or July.

In spite of gold exports wheat advanced, for some days, nearly 2 cents. Corn rose and fell in sympathy with wheat with a little reason. The western wheat receipts for the three weeks of September have been 16,791,660 bushels, against 16,491,929 last year, while Atlantic exports, flour included, have been 3,941,693 bushels, against 7,621,985 last year. The good reports of foreign crops, the weakness of flour in Minnesota and the large exports of corn from this country, all work against a rise in wheat, though scarcity of contract grades may hold a speculative advance.

The cotton market, lifting and falling a fraction each day alternately, shows no settled tendency, big stocks balancing an undoubted but as yet not defined decrease in yield.

CHARLES F. CURRIE, speaker of the house of representatives, who recently returned from Europe, in an interview in New York on Wednesday, said: "I believe confidently that the Democratic party will win in 1896. Perhaps the result might be in doubt if the election occurred to-morrow, but you see we have over a year before the great struggle, and every day things are brightening under a Democratic administration. The hard times that the country had to suffer when our party first took hold of the reins of government were the result of Republican enactments. I believe the country appreciates the efforts of the administration and by the time twelve months have rolled around will be ready to give a Democratic endorsement equal to the great vote of the last national election."

The Pittsburg Democrats are organizing a big jubilee to celebrate the prosperity produced by the Wilson Tariff bill. It is an excellent idea, and taking shape in the Birmingham of America and the very shrine and citadel of protectionism it will have a meaning which the whole country, busy as it may be, can catch without difficulty. Prosperity jubilees would not be inappropriate in any of our cities, but the Pittsburg celebration will have special point in its environment, and would be a logical antithesis to the memories of Homestead.

A POLL of the house of representatives in the next congress shows 216 opponents of free silver coinage, 88 who favor free coinage, and 52 who refuse to declare themselves. Of the free silver representatives there are 51 Democrats, 30 Republicans and 7 Populists. Should the uncommitted representatives all vote for free coinage, there will still be a majority against it of 76. These figures show how rapidly the cheap money craze is declining. If congressmen were to be elected this year the falling off would be still more marked.

AFTER more than twenty years of controversy, which several times threatened to bring about strained relations between Spain and the United States, a draft for $1,499,000, the amount of the indemnity demanded by this government for the confiscation of the Cuban estates of Antonio Maxima Mora, a naturalized American citizen, was delivered on Saturday by Senator Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, to Mr. Adee, the acting secretary of state. The lawyers' fees amount to $600,000.

DR. SCHAEFFER, superintendent of public instruction, has designated Friday, October 18, as Arbor day and has prepared a proclamation urging those connected with the schools of the commonwealth to observe the day with appropriate exercises. Dr. Schaeffer says trees may be planted out of school hours, but a part of the time usually devoted to public readings or nature study can be profitably spent in exercises calculated to observe the purpose of Arbor day.

The most important feature of the convention of soft coal operators and miners that met at Pittsburg to-day is that the price of coal will be put up. Nearly all the operators notified their customers that an advance in coal will take place on and after October 1, so that the public will pay the raise in wages promised by the operators.

The Cranberry Iron Mines, in West North Carolina, which have been shut down for three years, are to be re-opened at once with a large force of men.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21, 1895.—When a man gives information to an enemy in time of war he is regarded as a public enemy and upon receipt of a traitor's disgraced grave. But there is no way to punish those who prove themselves to be still worse enemies of the country by trying to precipitate a financial panic through a misrepresentation of the condition of the nation's finances and of the intentions of the administration.

A private individual can, through the press, do more harm to a nation than he can do through his credit and commercial standing by making untrue and partially true but misrepresenting statements published, but members of the administration have no way of rectifying such are daily writing and circulating attacks upon the credit of the United States in the shape of wilful misstatements concerning the intentions of Secretary Carlisle, who bring on a financial panic do a thousand times more harm than those who betray an army on the eve of battle, and there ought to be some way of punishing them as traitors to the country. If, as is feasible, congress should at least so legislate that the government, through the heads of the executive departments, should have the same right to have a newspaper editor arrested and tried as the citizen now has. With such a law on our statute books the present parades and misrepresentations of President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle in Republican newspapers would not be possible, and the probabilities of financial panics would be decidedly lessened.

About as near half of the administration as could be got at attended the dedication of the battle-field of the people of the nation, Sept. 21, at the residence of Secretary Carlisle, in the city of Washington. The President, Secretary Carlisle, Mr. Wilson, Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Tamm, Mr. C. Brown, Mr. D. Crawford, the record being complete. The murderer's home was in Fairfield, Iowa; where his father was formerly a Rock Island Railroad agent.

He came here on Friday and visited friends, while his wife got permission from the college president to visit here. Stinson met her at the depot, and they registered as husband and wife. The shoes were heard by the police, and rushed to the room where both were dead.

Justifiable Homicide. Wellsboro, Pa., Sept. 24.—William Mosher, aged 30 years, was shot by Mrs. Elsie Canedy, a 19-year-old married woman, early in the morning, and Mosher died shortly afterwards in the office of Dr. L. C. Brown, of Tioga, to whom he was brought for treatment. Mosher, with three male companions, went on a spree, and about midnight they drove to the home of Mrs. Canedy, near Tioga. Canedy, who is quite ill and feeble, was sitting helpless on the porch, and his wife was in bed with their 2-year-old child. After roughly handling Canedy they invaded the house and entered the woman's room. Mrs. Canedy seized a revolver and threatened to shoot if they did not leave. All but Mosher fled, but he was seized by Mrs. Canedy, and according to testimony, the weapon was discharged during the struggle. Mrs. Canedy, whose character is above reproach, is in delicate health. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Chance for an American. San Jose, Cal., September 23.—Hop Sing Lee, a wealthy Chinese merchant of this city, offers a half interest in his extensive merchandise business and $5,000 in ready money to any young American who will marry his daughter—Miss Lee. Hop Sing Lee is the wealthiest Chinaman in this valley, and his fortune is estimated at $500,000. He has a general store, a restaurant, a merchandise store, with a letter game on the side, in this city, and has branch stores in Watsonville, Santa Cruz and Salina.

Lee has become thoroughly Americanized, and he is getting old, it is his wish to see his daughter happily married to some good American who will look after and care for his business and wealth.

Lee's wife died about a year ago, and, as several attempts have been made to kidnap her, he is afraid that if she were to marry soon the kidnapers may succeed in abducting her.

Lost in the Snow. Rawlins, Wyo., September 23.—Frank Nevins, a ranchman, yesterday lost his two boys, aged 11 and 13 years, out after the cows. The boys not returning, he came in yesterday and alarmed the town. About 20 horsemen immediately responded. They all have returned without finding any trace of the missing boys, who undoubtedly perished in Saturday's storm. The searchers report the snow in the hills 10 feet deep. The straggle from Snake River on Saturday night picked up one of Taylor & Hogg's shepherds named Gray, who was lying near the road completely exhausted and slightly frozen. When he heard the stage approach, he fired his pistol to attract the driver's attention. He was so numb with the cold that he was unable to reach it without assistance.

Atlanta to Welcome the Bell. Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Arrangements were made this afternoon by the exposition directors for the reception of the Liberty Bell, which is to arrive here on Saturday. The school children will be given a holiday.

The programme provides that the bell shall be taken from the car and placed on a large wagon at 10 A. M., on the 9th. In front of it will march the military of the city. The line will traverse the principal streets of the city to the exposition grounds, where the bell will be unloaded and placed in the Pennsylvania building.

President Collier and Mayor King will make addresses of welcome, and these will be responded to by Mayor Warwick, of Philadelphia.

Colorado Snowbound. Denver, Col., September 22.—The data on the fruit interests of the state by the heavy snowfall of last night is beyond computation. In the vicinity of Denver fruit and shade trees were broken by the heavy snow freezing to the limbs, yet in full leaf, and scarcely a tree for miles around escaped injury. Reports from the interior show the same deplorable condition, varying only in degree. While the fruit growers may save a lot of the mature fruit, the more serious damage is in the broken and shattered trunks.

The snow storm was general over the state, the amount varying from four to twelve inches. To-day the sun shone but the indications are favorable for a killing frost to-night.

Impaled on an Iron Fence. Savannah, Ga., Sept. 24.—John Hodges, a painter at work on a wall 30 feet from the ground, was killed to-day by falling off the scaffold upon which he and another painter were working. Hodges was impaled on a barbed iron picket of a fence, which pierced his body, striking the heart. Five inches of the iron entered the man's body and was held by the barbs so that it was with difficulty that it was lifted from the body. Death was almost instantaneous.

Charles Burnham, another painter, was seriously injured. The accident was due to the ropes which held the scaffold being eaten by acids used in washing the walls.

Strange Murder and Suicide. Oskaloosa, Iowa, September 23.—M. E. Stinson, a traveling man, and his wife were found dead from bullet wounds in bed together at the Asher House yesterday. The double crime was committed by Stinson.

The woman was only 20 years old, was recognized as Miss Arta Moore, whose wealthy parents live at Panama, a few miles from Des Moines. She was a member of the senior class of Grinnell College, and it was not known that she was married.

The discovery was made to-day, however, and that she was secretly married to Stinson on October 14, 1892, by Rev. H. D. Crawford, the record being complete. The murderer's home was in Fairfield, Iowa; where his father was formerly a Rock Island Railroad agent.

He came here on Friday and visited friends, while his wife got permission from the college president to visit here. Stinson met her at the depot, and they registered as husband and wife. The shoes were heard by the police, and rushed to the room where both were dead.

OUR PREDICTION

MADE MONTHS AGO HAS BEEN VERIFIED TO THE LETTER:

PLAIDS

are among the most fashionable fabrics for the autumn and winter season and this department given up entirely to our immense assortments in a good sized store in itself. Almost a thousand styles.

Assorted, fine BRIGHT PLAIDS, all-wool, 36 to 40 inches wide.

Almost a hundred styles artistic SILK AND WOOL PLAIDS, entirely new weaves and color combinations, 28 to 30 inches wide.

Stylish Rough Plaids, quiet but ultra combinations, distinctly foreign in appearance, and the up-to-date dresser will select them on sight.

Such an assortment of medium to finest American and Foreign Dress Goods and suitings at the prices "will be impossible to find."

You're coming to the Exposition, of course, and to fall to see these splendid values will be against your own interest. If you can't come, write for samples and save money if you buy.

It is estimated that the Carnegie company has contracts on hand at present, at Braddock, aggregating 1,000,000 tons of structural material. As the limit of production is 1,000,000 tons, the year will not go much beyond 100,000 tons the contracts will run well into 1896.

A tornado swept over Menominee, Mich., on Sunday night, blowing several millions feet of lumber into the lake and river. The lumber was uprooted, dwellings unroofed, store fronts broken and wires prostrated. The loss is $100,000.

Russia proposes to celebrate Jenner's discovery of vaccination, the one hundred anniversary of which occurs next year, by offering prizes for works on vaccination, and by publishing histories of vaccination in Russia and Western Europe.

Fire on Sunday afternoon destroyed the barn of A. H. Spangle, located about four miles from Lewistown, Pa., together with the third crop of grain, straw and hay. All the stock was saved. Loss will run well toward $2,000. Cause of fire is not known.

Mrs. Moorehead, wife of the superintendent of the Northwood cemetery, Oskaloosa, Montgomery county, was instantly killed and her daughter fatally injured Friday by being struck by a train on the North Pennsylvania railroad. Mrs. Moorehead was a daughter of Jay Cook.

Four boys went out in a boat at Buffalo, N. Y., on Saturday. The boat was swamped by the waves of a passing tug. The oldest, James Kingley, managed to escape by hanging on to the boat. The other three, William Boore, 15; John Kingley, 13; and William Denny, 11 years of age, were drowned.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General R. A. Maxwell's report for the fiscal year, ended June 30, last, one of the earliest to be presented as was the case last year. It indicates 13,200 new appointments for first class postmasters, made during the year, only 759 of them having been occasioned by death, which is exactly the same number as last year.

Apologies of bicycling the following interesting statistics show the remarkable growth of wheeling: Ten years ago there were only six bicycle manufacturers in the country. Now there are 120. The total number of new wheels turned out this year will exceed 200,000. There are over 50,000 riders in New York City, and upwards of 2,000,000 in the United States.

On Sunday morning two sons of James Higginbotham, living near Uniontown, Pa., were suffocated in a well upon which work was in progress. One of the boys went down to look at the hole and the other was overcome. His brother went to his aid and also died. A third boy only escaped death in the same manner by being pulled up by members of the family.

A dispatch from Dunbar says the men at the Mahoning works of the Cambria Iron company met Wednesday night and took action on the strike. They decided unanimously to keep at work unless the prospects for winning get brighter and other men get out. It was expected that the men at Morrell would go out on Monday morning but nine-tenths of them returned.

The scale house of the Clearfield Fire Brick company's mine at Bigler, eight miles from Clearfield, was struck by lightning on Thursday. Killing Boyd Hummel, a miner, and stunning three others—Charles Gearhart, Ralph Radfear and George Smeal. Lightning also struck John W. Wright's house, near Clearfield, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

Charles Cooper, aged nineteen, shot and instantly killed his mother on Monday night in their home at Hardwood, Luzerne county, Pa. The mother entered the room to put down the bed and he took it round. The boy took her for a burglar, and before discovering his mistake fired, killing her instantly. He walked to town and gave himself up. The shooting is purely accidental and the boy was released on bail.

Swept by a Cyclone. Of proportion to the prominence of popularity, Hottel's Stomach Bitters has acquired a commanding position, which has occasionally made it a trick and shining mark for knaves, who seek to loot upon the community apocryphal compounds in the guise akin to that of the real article. These are mostly local bitters or tonics of great impurity, and of course, devoid of medicinal efficacy. Beware of them, as they occasionally make a real remedy for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation and biliousness. Physicians of eminence everywhere commend the great medicinal value for its remedial properties and its purity. A wine glass three a day will soon bring vigor and regularity to a disordered and enfeebled system.
