Death of Annie R. Denny. On Tuesday morning September 24th, 1895, Miss Annie R. Denny, sister of Mr. J. B. Denny, proprietor of the Mountain House, in this place, died after a short illess. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Matthias Denny, of Altoona, and was born on the 14th January 1874. She had not been in good health for some time past, but neither she nor her friends had any idea of a fatal termination of her illness. With the hope that a trip to this place would prove beneficial she, a few weeks ago, came up to see her brother and while here was taken seriously ill and coninued growing worse until on Tuesday norning her gentle spirit left its earthly abode. She is survived by her parents and by four brothers, J. B., of Ebensburg; Wm. C., of Althona; Rev. J. G. Denny, of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati; and Edward L. Denny, of Altoona; and also by four sisters, Mollie, Matilda, Stella and Loretta, all of Altoona. Her remains were taken to Altoona on Wednesday morning and on Thursday the funeral took place from the home of her parents, the interment being made in St. John's ceme-

Make Your Will. Everyone who owns more than the lothes on his back should make a will. There is a notion sometimes, that you will die soon if you make your will, but that is nere nonsense and superstition. Some men dislike to bring the thought of death so closely and practically before their minds, but that is weakness. What is the use in blinking and closing one's eyes to the great universal fact? Death is certain, and the most wise and most sensible thing is to provide against it as far as we can. A will makes your mind casy. It saves disputes, quarrels and much expense after you are gone. Do your duty to your family, if you have one, then remember the poor and the church of God, and those who have just claims upon you. You can change it at any time if desirable, while the knowledge that it is attended to will conduce to a longer life. Make your will.

Death Came Suddenly. Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 25.-Never per haps in thehistory of accidents or fatalities in Huntingdon county has any occurred in Juniata township this evening. It was a most tragic ending of a day supposed to close brightly, and as a result a two-hoursold groom is cold in death and Miss Mary Bowser was a bride for the same length of

There was a big country wedding at the home of Mr. James Bowser between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon, in which his daughter, Miss Mary, and Jesse Morning-

The young married couple were seated n a front room of the dwelling, the bride seated on her husbands lap, peering out of she window. Folks were on the outside, and McClellan Spooneybarger, of this town, passed by the window carrying a oaded gun. The bride playfully remarked that if Spooneybarger would hand her the gun she would kill a turkey, and the request was just as innocently complied with. In drawing the gun across the win dow sill it was accidentally discharged and the groom received the force of the entire load. His head was literally blown off his shoulders and blood and brains were spilled all over the bride's skirts. The greatest excitement prevailed when the report reached this town and the coroner and many others at once repaired to the scene, about seven miles distant. The coroner is investing the causes of the

More Republicans.

By way of variation a little busines from Cambria county was sprung upon the court. Mr. W. P. Reese, a modest young attorney from Johnstown, with decided political aspirations, appeared as the representative of a baker's dozen of foreigners from Dunlo, a mining village in Cambria county, who seemed to have been suddenly inspired with the necessity for taking out naturalization papers that they might exercise the right of suffrage at the coming election. It was a somewhat remarkable proceeding to say the least, and for a while it looked as though the Judge would turn it down and send the scheme back to Ebensburg where it belonged. The first applicant called admitted that he could neither read nor write, but thought he would like to become a citizen-it might do him good. Another thought that the seat of government was at Harrisburg and that Abraham Lincoln was the first president. Another gave away the intended politics of the crowd by guessing that Grover Cleveland is the present chief executive, because if he were not he (the applicant) would have a better job than he has. Another had read considerable of the history of the United States "in the Pittsburg Dispatch." The witnesses did not hesitate to hold the applicants up as men of hintelligence, with a fair sprinkling of total habstainers. The whole batch of thirteen finally went through by a scratch; Attorney Reese dropped $16.25 into the wallet of Prothonotary Saylor, and Dunlo's Republican addition took the eleven train for home.-Somerset Democrat.

Married. JONES-FISH.—Married at Fenwicke Hall in Ebensburg on Wednesday, Sep-tember 25, 1895, by Rev. E. M. Bowman, Mr. Cyrus W. Jones and Miss Hattie Fish, both of Ebensburg.

The FREEMAN, along with the many friends of this young couple, joins in adding its congratulations and wishing them a successful career of wedded joys. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones, of this place, and is a popular and energetic young business man, who has grown up with the extensive millinery and mercantile establishment of Mrs. R. E. Jones, and is its present business manager. The bride is a daughter of Rev. B. H. Fish, of McKeesport, Pa., and is an amiable and accomplished young lady who will adorn his household and preside with grace over his domestic establish-

After the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jones departed on the 3:30 train for a wedding tour and their departure was celbrated with a shower of rice, etc., from a number of friends who had gathered at the station to wish them a long and happy companionship of wedded life.

She was placed in charge of the county authorities, who in turn placed her in charge of Dr. A. J. Miller, the county physician, at Portage, and by him conveyed to the Memorial hospital at Johnstown where she died on Friday evening.

A dispatch from New York, dated Sept. sued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court 17, says: This morning a wretched old woman, with ragged white hair streaming down over her face and clad in rags that scarcely covered her person, was brought before Magistrate Dueil, of Essex Market police court charged with drunkenness She gave her name as Fannie Wright, aged

> One of the oldest detectives recognized ner as a criminal with a record that went back for thirty years. In December, 1868, there was a meeting of Minnesota pioneers at the Hoffman House, in New York. About midnight the attention of those in the bar room was engaged by the screams of a woman on the Broadway side and there, struggling in the snow, was a stalwart policeman and a slight figure in black that looked like a young girl, who was fighting the officer like a mad cat. All at once the man fell to the pavement and the woman fled down Broadway. On examination a hat pin, seven inches long was ound driven to the end in his left eye. By morning the man was dead and Fanny Wright was brought to trial for the mur-

She had evidently friends and was well defended. Her appearance was that of a efined, delicate lady, with a very interesing face, and the jury heard with surprise that this slight girl, weighing about inety pounds, was, when under the influence of opium or liquor, a fiend and note than a match for the average police man. She had some time before nearly killed Joe Coburn, the pugilist, with a nife wound.

Much interest was shown in her behalf and, on conviction, the recorder gave her wo years. After serving her time she disappeared from New York.

She had a history. A member of one of the oldest families in Cambria county, Pa., sducated in Europe, an accomplished nusician, her future seemed a prosperous ne, but she went astray with one of her ather's servants, who was already a married man, and, cast off by her family, she occame an outcast, supporting herself by playing the piane at low concert saloons, intil finally she became a murderess. Burglars in Ebensburg. At an early hour on last Friday mornin he depot building at the railroad station in this place was entered by burglars, who secured an entrance by prying open the loor on the north side of the building After getting in, the safe was attacked and drilled and a sufficient quantity of powder or dynamite inserted and exploded to wreck the safe. The door was blown from the hinges and the contents, consist ing of papers, tickets, etc., scattered over

The safe contained only $2.50 in mone and that was all the booty the burglars got. Nothing else was taken. The drill used for boring into the safe was left and was identified by County Treasurer Barker as having been stolen from a box o tools in his creamery building. Mr. Lloyd, the agent of the P. R. R. heard the noise of the explosion, but supposed it was at the electric light plant and paid no attention to it. DENTISTRY.

Do you know we are taking out teeth every day without one particle of pain? Well, we are doing this very thing with "Odontunder," the only local anæsthetic that has stood the test and to-day it is the only one that is used universally by den ists who are up to date in their calling.

The price for "Odontunder" when pain ess is 50 cents, but if you experience the least pain, we only charge you the usual

How about those teeth that need filling's Well, you say they don't ache. That's just the reason why you should have them filled now. After they have ached once you will probably have to have the nerve killed and the tooth treated if you are desirious of saving it. I only charge 50 cents for amaigum fillings and from $1.00 up for gold fillings. These are hard-time prices but they go just the same. Why procrastinate?—that's a big word but it's a good one right here because procrastination means to the patient loss of sleep, neural-gia, ear-ache, tooth-ache and goodness knows what else. We know of a good many young ladies of our acquaintance who would have been married long ago if it hadn't been for those horrid-looking teeth. Remember, to every patient naving teeth filled I give a box of Dr. Richards' tcoth powder and full instructions for the care of the teeth. On the 13th of each month I will extract teeth free of charge. You say why on the 13th. Well, now, that's my business. All you have to do is to come. Remember I won't take out your good teeth, because I don't believe in it. Then you say suppose the 18th falls on Then you say suppose the 13th falls on Sunday. Come right along and we will be only too glad to relieve you of the offend-
