QUAY WROTE TO SECTY. REEDER.

He Asked Him to Disregard That Provision of the Act Forbidding Electors to Vote For More Than Six Candidates. The Secretary Refused.

HARRISBURG. Oct. 9 .- The question as to how many candidates for judges of the superior court each qualified voter is entitled to vote for at the coming election will be submitted to the supreme court for decision. Senator Quay wrote to Secretary of the Commonwealth Reeder on Saturday, saying that he is advised that the provision of the act creating the superior court and forbidding each elector to vote for more than six candidates i contrary to the constitution, and that an election of superior court judges held upon this limited plan of voting would be invalid. The senator requested Secretary Reeder to disregard this provision in making up the official ballot, and to prescribe such a form of ballot as will insure each elector the right of voting for seven candidates if he so desires To this Secretary Reeder replied that it was not within his province to pass upon the constitutional question in volved, and that he would have to pre pare the ballot in accordance with the Senator Quay instructed E M Olmstead of this city to make application to Attorney General McCormick to take such action as will result in a judicial decision of the question. At a conference between Governor Hastings and the members of the cabinet it was deeided that the attorney general should proceed forthwith to ask the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel Secretary Reeder to prepare a form of ballot which will permit the voter to cast his ballot for seven candidates It is hoped to have the question settled before the 22d instant, the date of certitying the form of official ballot by the secretary of the commonwealth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.-The most important witness in the Durrant case was Charles T. Lenahan, the young man whom the defense contends was mistaken for Durrant by Pawnbroker Oppenheim Lenahan, who does not bear a striking resemblance to the prisoner, said on April 3 he attempted to pawn a small diamond ring, similar to the one worn by Bianche Lamont, at Oppenheim's shop. The witness said that he asked Oppenheim the same questions and received the same answers that Oppenheim quoted in relating the conversation he had with the young man whom Oppenheim testified was Durrant. Then came a surprise to the defense, which contracted nearly all of the strength gained from witness' testimony. Lenahan said he tried to pawn the ring in the afternoon. while Oppenheim testified that Durrant entered his shop in the morning

W. A. Dukes, a student at Cooper

Medical college, who was expected to give strong evidence for the prosecution, gave disappointing testimony. Dukes said that Durrant asked him if he could remember that he attended Dr Cheney's lecture on the afternoon of October 3, and to that end recalled a number of incidents said to have taken place at the time. Although Dukes' seat in the lecture room was next to Durrant Dukes could not remember whether Durrant was there or not and told him so. Dukes said it was untrue, as had been reported, that Durrant asked him as a favor today that he attended the lecture. On the contrary, Dukes said that Durrant told him he wished him to testify only to the facts as he remembered them

CUBANS NEED OUR AID.

Palma Receives a Letter From a Rebel General.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION WANTED.

Cuba's Independence Is Near at Hand, If These Can Be Secured-Nothing With Which to Arm Recruits-An Earnest Appeal For Help.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 -- General Joseph Rodriquez of the Cuban army, in a letter to President Palma of the Junta, repeats the declaration that the revolutionists need only arms and ammunition to assure the triumph of their cause and earnestly pleads that the United States give them aid. Rodriquez, who is chief of staff for General Roloff, says: "We are completing the reorganization of the main body of our army in Los Villas. We have divided it into two divisions-one division under General Sorafin Sanchez, the other under General Suarez Each division is formed of two brigades, which are again subdivided, one into two columns of cavalry and one of infantry and the other in one of infantry and two of cavalry. "Every day hundreds of young men from towns and villages flock to our ranks, but unfortunately we have no arms or ammunition for them, and though full of zeal and patriotism, they are unable to aid our cause. We want arms and ammunition badly and we hope that the United States will not forbid the shipping of arms as merchandise from its ports. Had we arms and ammunition, believe me, the war would not last very long and in a short time Cuba would achieve her independence. It is only a question of time in any case. Triumph is assured, but that triumph would dawn all the sooner if arms could be sent to us from the United States with the full permission of its government.

"Why should the United States restrict our movements or detain the hour of our freedom? The quicker the realization of our liberties the greater the advantage to the United States. Commercial intercourse between a free Cuba and the United States would be greatly augmented. Now it is narrowed by the selfishness of Spain. Apart from sympathetic reasons, the business aspect of the question should appeal most strongly to the government of the United States for recognition and satisfaction. Get the United States to permit our friends under its flag to ship us arms and ammunition, and before you realize it there will be another free re public in America.

CLEVELAND GETS THE CUP.

The Baltimores Knocked Out by the Spide In the Fifth Game. BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—The Temple Cup goes to leveland as the result of the fifth game, in which the champions were outplayed in every point. Up to the seventh inning, however, it looked as if either side might win, although Hoffer suffered rather more than Young, and the visitors got the most men to bases. After this there all of it. Young opened the fatal period with a corking double to center, and Burkett followed with a single to right field. Then McKean went out. The next man to the bat popped up an easy fly to Kelly in left field, and the side should have been out. It was not, though, by a long shot, for Kelly dropped the fly and Childs went to first, Young coming home with the first run of the game. Then McAleer banged the ball out to Brodie's bailiwick for a single and Burkett came home. More anguish was caused when Captain Tebeau hit safely to right. bringing Childs home. Zimmer ended the agony by striking out. The Orioles made a tally in their half of the seventh, but the Spiders more than neutralized it by adding two to their string in the eighth. In the last half of the ninth matters looked critical for a few minutes, as Young be came wild and sent McGraw and Keeler to bases on balls, after which he hit Jennings and the bases were full. Clarke and Hoffer had been put out before this, however, and the best the champions could do was a single run, which McGraw brought in on Kelly's hit. Then Brodie rapped a little one to Young, who threw it to Tebeau ere Steve's brogans could reach

Dr. J. C. Aren & Co. Gentlemen: Han much pleasure to testify to the great value of your flarsaparilla. We have been summed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tenus. Being under cares for such a time brought on what is called in the country "weldt-aorea." I had those sowelf some time. I was advised to take your first parilla, two bottless of which made my are disappear rapidly, and I am now quite wall.

Yours truly, T. K. Books.
