FRIDAY, - - JANUARY 17, 1896. THE partnership of the Republicans and Populists in the senate does not work screnely.

THE Republican politicians of Chicago are all agog over the fact that the Hamilton club of that city, has invited Governor Morton to deliver an address at the annual dinner of this club, which is to take place on January 31. They are wondering if he will bring his boom along with him.

Eight hundred tons of old cannot and 500 tons of shot and shell, which the Confederates procured in the '60's for their defense of Southern ports from attacks of the Union navy, arrived at Philadelphia on Wednesday night on the schooner James W. Fitch, from Pensacola, Florida. The entire consignment will be broken up for old iron.

PRESIDENT of the New York Life Insurance Company, Mr. John A. Mc Call, which corporation has subscribed $10,000,000 to the new government loan, declares that the "loan will be a success beyond peradventure, not because of any great faith in the men who with our financial problem, but in spite of them." These words voice the popular judgment on the unpatriotic conduct of the senate, which in disgusting the people by its jugglery is reviving the demand for the election of United States senators by the votes of the peo-

New Orleans is doing a big business tless days in shipping to Europe the products of American farms. Steamships leave almost daily with cargoes of 15,000 to 17,000 bales of cotton, together with a large list of other products. A new cotton steamer was recently launched at Belfast, and is now on her way to New Orleans, which will carry 24,000 bales of cotton. On Saturday last six vessels left New Orleans, carrying away 523,266 bushels of corn and 30,000 bushels of wheat. One vessel for Hamburg took out 175,719 bushels of corn, the largest single cargo of grain ever shipped from one city. Europe is taking an immense amount of American corn this year.

There were heavy Republican majorin the Legislature, giving absolutely un curbed swing to the grand old party. As a result, we hear from Harrisburg that appropriations for 1895 have overrun the revenue by three million dollars. Pennsylvania, under the ample provision made for its sinking fund through the provision of Democratic legislators, would have entirely paid or provided for the remainder of its debt during the currant year. But that is a hope deferred. Instead there will be a hard choice between more borrowing and more taxa-

THE outlook for wool is somewhat better at primary points, and farmers in Washington and Greene counties, Pa., and in eastern Ohio and the Panhandle of West Virginia, are feeling considerably encouraged at the recent tone of the market. A few days ago G. W. Chaney, a wool buyer in Washington county, for Horkheimer Bros., of Wheeling, bought 30,000 pounds at Claysville, for which he paid 20 cents per pound. Under the McKinley bill the same quality of wool only brought 12 to 14 cents. Shortly after the passage of the Wilson bill the price advanced to 15 cents, and later to 18 cents, and now it has reached 20, with prospects that it will advance still

IT will not be necessary for the Vene zuelan commission to leave Washington in order to obtain evidence upon the question submitted for decision. The proofs are all documentary. The papers and maps constituting the case of Venezuela are understood to be ready for immediate submission, and copies of all the documents supporting the British claim will shortly be published in a parliamentary "Blue Book." Documents not included in the official case of either of the contestants may readily be obtained from the Dutch, Spanish, French and other foreign archives upon request. The notion that the commissioners Europe and South America is incorrect: visit the territory in dispute, since their object is not to make a detailed survey, but to discover evidence sufficient to establish a broad historic fact.

WHAT a mean howl was set up by the rabid Republican press, says the Pitts burg Post, because President Cleveland went off for a few days recently on a duck-hunting trip. We are not going to imitate this display of partisan littleness, but nevertheless there is some satisfaction in directing the attention of our high-minded and patriotic contemporaries to the fact that, with one ex ception, every active member of the Republican administration of Pennsylvania is absent from the state. Governor Hastings and Attorney General Mc-Cormick are in Arkansas, Secretary Reeder, Auditor-General Mylin, State Treasurer Jackson, Banking Commis sioner Gilkeson and Secretary of Inter nal Affairs Latta are junketing in Florida with Senator Quay. The single exception is Mr. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction. True, Lieutenant Governor Lyon is somewhere within the bounds of the commonwealth, but he only counts in the event of a public calamity, such as the death of the governor or the sitting of the leg- loon, is having his baloon made in Parislature. THE Democratic national committee. says the Pittsburg Post, will meet in Washington on Thursday of this week to fix the time and place for holding the Democratic national convention. There is not so much rivalry or so much of a contest expected as there was in the selection of a place for the Republican convention. The members of the committee have said authoritatively that the convention will not be auctioned off to the city that is the highest bidder for the location. Ex Congressman Robert E Roosevelt, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, says that the committee owes no debts from the campaign of 1892, and that it has cash on hand. This is unlike the insolvent Republican national committee, which sold the location of the Republican national convention to the city that would pay its debts.

Still there is something of a contest for the convention. New York and St. Louis are the only contestants that have defray the expenses of the convention. and about $50,000 has been contributed by each of these cities. Chicago puts in a claim on its beauty and good behavior, and as the healthiest city and the most attractive summer resort in America. It has raised no money. The strongest sentiment seems to favor New York. There are reasons of political expediency, are juggling in the United States senate and no city on the continent holds out more attractions to add to the comfort and entertainment of visitors. It is altogether likely the convention will go to New York, unless financial politics enter into the contest, and western and southern men oppose the metropolis as dangerous to their particular issues.

An important question to be acted on by the committee will be General Collin's resolution, referred to it by the last national convention, that in arranging for this year's convention accommodations in the hall should be provided only for delegates, alternates, the national committee and the press. This is to correct the abuse of the outside spectators influencing the action of the convention by demonstrations of any kind. The cheers of disapproval of 20,000 eager and excited spectators are difficult to withstand. The national convention should be a free, deliberative body, not liable to be swept from its moorings by outside pressure.

The cost of the fertilization of the farms of Pennsylvania and the development of the virgin soils of the far west are mentioned as one of the chief causes of loss to the farmers of this state. The growth of cities, together with the development of manufacturing and other industries has also brought about a rise in the price of labor upon which agric .1ture is dependent. Pupils who live at a distance from these central schools will be transported at the expense of the school district to and from school in the most available conveyances. In Chester county, where the plan is being tried, scholars are hauled in a large and owned by the district and is driven by a hired driver, who receives $40 per month. It is claimed that this plan results in a financial saving, in the existence of better school buildings and schools provided with the best apparatus, while the system of grading the schools give additional advantages. Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Jan., 11, 1896 .-The whip of the Quay-Platt-Reed com bine seems to be just as effective among the Republicans of the senate as it was in the house, but it had to be heavily laid upon some of the Republican senators before they would agree to sup port the tariff bill arranged by Mr. Reed and passed by the house, without amendment. They swore through two long caucuses that some McKinley amendments should be attached to the bill or they would not support it, but at the third caucus Boss Quay's wielding of the combine whip was more than they could stand and they agreed to support the bill without amendment, thus scoring another decisive victory for the Quay-Platt-Reed combine. But this will have to be gotten either from the and if it passes President Cleveland will of publishing all the facts in the case. No such scandal attaches to the Demonever sign it. There is a very decided difference of the side of those who think private inhaven't the gold.

Senator Gray, of Delaware, jumped of Mass., and supported by Chandler "Little Billee"), of N. H., that the editor of the New York World had committed high treason by obtaining and wealthy. puplishing the views of prominent Engishmen on the Venezuela matter and the issue of bonds, with the following vigorous language: "Now in the evening of the nineteenth century, you cannot bark back on the track of the dead centuries and attempt to stifle expression or effort to obtain expression in this country or abroad. In this country and in all civilized countries a just public opinion is the final arbitrator of all questions. It is not necessary for me to say, if this suggestion is seriously made, that it is impossible in this day and hour to attempt any inquisitorial interpretation of a statute for the purpose of stifling an expression of public opinion."

There are lots of lawyers in both house and senate who regard the supreme court decision against the constitutionality of the income tax as a mistaken one, but Senator Vest is the first one of them who has openly attacked the decision. In the course of a speech, answering Senator Sherman's recent financial speech, Senator Vest said of it: "In my judgment no judgment has ever in the history of the country been rendered which has done so much to destroy the influence of that bigh tribunal and excite distrust on the part of the people of this country." He declared that he would not trust himself to say in the senate what he thought of that decision, but would leave it to members of the court who dissented tnerefrom and he read from two of those opinions. Referring to the effect of the decision he said: "It marks a new era, and I grealy mistake if the time does not come when neither prove a sufficient apology That "Hog combine" was a fitting name for the gang who secured all the offices of the house was made apparent to all when it attempted to create 48 new offices, in order to provide for that many more of their followers. But the dose was too big, or the members of the committee on accounts, which has charge of the house contingent fund from which it was proposed to pay these 48 additional officers, were not "fixed." At any rate to the surprise of the "hog combine," the committee reported that 'in view of the low ebb of the contin gent fund, and the utter needlessness of most of the places" it could only recommend the appointment of three of the 48 new officials provided for in the resolution. Spirited attacks were made declaring that officers of the house were not appointed by a majority of the members, nor by the speaker, but were parceled ou by the combine. Senator Mills, of Texas, has been jollying" the Republicans unsparingly about the house tariff bill, now in the senate. He offers his congratulations to the Republicans of the house for having, after many years abuse of the Democratic idea of a tariff for revenue only, passed the only strictly revenue tariff bill that ever went through either branch of congress. Hougaard's Awful Crime.

Chicago, January 13 .- Peter Hougaard, a Dane. living at 731 Sixty-first street, Englewood, killed himself, his wife and his five children last night by turning on all the gas jets in the house and failing to light them after the family had retired.
