circumstantial evidence, that has ever een held in Blair county, began at Holli daysburg on Monday when Frank Wilson was placed on trial for the murder in Aloona nearly a year ago of Heary Bonnaker, an aged and eccentric miser. The deed was committed on April 5th supposed to have a large sum of money concealed in his house. The house was entered about midnight and the old man stricken down.

About twenty-four hours after the murler the old man was missed by his neigh bors and the house was entered and the body found lying on the floor with the back of the head crushed in, the mouth gagged, and with other marks of violence and rob bery. Several persons were suspected by the police and a couple of months after the murder detectives arrested Wilson in Scranton, where he had gone after the murder, and charged him with the crime.
