REFUSED THE WRIT.

Attorney General Decides In Favor of the Cambria Company. HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.-Attorney General McCormick has refused to issue a writ of quo warranto against the Cambira Iron company of Johnstown for alleged violation of the act of 1891, prohibiting mining and manufacturing corporations from carrying on stores known as company stores or general supply stores.

The petition was presented by 20 citizens of Johnstown, and is supplemented with the affidavit of G. A. Funk, a former employe of the Cambria Iron company, who alleges that he was discharged for refusing to settle an unjust account with the store on Jan. 31, 1896. The attorney general takes the ground that the petitioners have not made out a prima facie case and that the writ should not be allowed, unless he is satisfied the case would be sustained in the courts. He claims to have a reasonable discretion under the act of assembly In this particular case ever material averment was denied by the many affldavits of the respondents, and he therefore denies the application for a writ.

KIND OFFER FROM ENGLAND.

British Geographical Society Offers Evidence to the Venezuelan Commission. WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 .- The Venezuelan boundary commission has received, through Mr. Tehane, a letter enclosing one from Sir Clement Markham, president of the British Royal Geographical society, offering to furnish the American commission with all the charts and information in its possession touching the location of the true boundary between Venezuela and British Guiana

A reply has been made to this offer expressing the gratitude of the commission for the tender and stating that it will be held under consideration in the expectation that the case which the British government has promised to submit will include all of the information that is in the possession of the society and so render it is unnecessary to tax it at this time, by an acceptance of this offer.

Conitchce ain't lookin' at yer en yer ain't got her ter study." The task of preserving order kept Uncle Moses busy and gave him little time for telling any of his stories of "de good old time befo" de war."

When the huge pile of corn was getting low, the magic announcement of "Supper!" was made-and such a supper! Fa. roasted pig, luscious chicken pie, spicy pumpkin pies, golden potato custards and the most wonderful cakes. Aunt Dilsy was a cook "shore nuff." The compliments she received from the appreciative consumers were fairly overwhelming. The crowning feature was the cutting of the "live bird cake." It was a veritable cake, brown and delicious, in the center of which was a hird alive and fluttering. A vote was taken to decide which of the young ladies should have the honor of cutting the cake and liberating the bird.

Excitement ran high, and through the energetic efforts of Sinh Hawkins. Miss Pattie Belle Conitchee came very near being elected to that honor. But Miss Ginky Turner received the most votes in the end, greatly to the elation of the Turner faction. Miss Ginl y Turner was led up to the cake table by Jimmie Goode, his banjo swung jauntily over his shoulder, and she sliced the cake with much grace and dexterity. The live bird hopped out, and after flying about the room in bewilderment. perched itself upon a rafter, among sage and red peppers, from which height it seemed to view the proceedings with a quizzieal eye. The banjo being again called into requisition, Jimmie Goode played "Bird in a Cage. Love," all singing with him. This was followed by "Dat Yaller Gal, She's Mine." a solo by Kiah Hawkins. Jimmie then played his inimitable "Johnnie, Cyain't Yer Cum?" but it was to the dulect strain of "Greasy Bread" that old Uncle Moses went to sleep under the table --- N. Y. Sun.

Divers in the Lake of Nemi, near Albano, have found at the bottom of the lake, 80 feet from the shore, the pleasure galley in which Emperor Tiberius held his orgies. It still seems to be decorated with bronzes and Mosaics. They have brought up bronze heads, a wolf and lion, targets with inscriptions and rings for the docks. Cardinal Colonna tried without success to reover the galley in the 15th century.

The Greek woman supported and stayed herself with bands of linen, but there was no compression in the swathe, and her natural waist made her of a perfect beauty; and to-day the natural waist of the Circassian does not interfere with the reputation of her loveliness. The adoption of European dress by ladies of the harem, and of Japan, showing as it does, either a want of the knowl edge of true beauty or a willful abandonment of its principles, will probably lead to tight lacing in the orient just as we are relinquishing it here. STARVING PARIS DOCTORS.

Not Enough Patients-Free Hospitals Cut Into the Practice of Many Physicians. A double suicide, which shocked Paris the other day, brought to the attention of the public the financial straits in which, it is said, the majority of the physicians of that city live, says the New York World, Dr. Arnaud de Langlard, an old physician, who had been decorated by the government for brave conduct during the cholera epidemic many years ago, committed suicide with his wife because his practice had dwindled to the vanishing point and starvation was staring them in the face. In commenting upon the tragedy several newspapers asserted that in Paris not more than one doctor out of five is able to make more than the barest living. Among the causes of this poverty among physiciaus is the destitution of most of their patients. Medical science has made such great strides, too, that maladies of all sorts are now more quickly cured, and such precautions are taken to prevent the spread of contagious diseases that epidemies are becoming practically unknown. The number of doctors, on the other hand has rapidly increased. Another reason why there is not practice enough to go around is that in many of the hospitals people can be treated for nothing or at a very nominal figure. Many of these bospitals have training schools, which are free, in which are taught the rudiments of medicine and surgery. These schools are largely attended and many sick people are taken in hand at their own homes by some members of the family who has profited by this in-

A host of stories tell of northern witches who have given diseases to horses, oxen and flocks of moorland sheep. Herdsmen to this day distrust unknown persons who touch the food of their kye, lest it be poisoned. In Shetland the cat or vaneja is regarded as an animal which brings good back; if she is seen to run toward the boat's nust there is sure to be a good catch. In Chaithness, on the contrary, witches frequently appear in the form of ents. A carpenter of Scrabster in the olden times was systematically robbed of his meal and cakes. He thought it "cu'na be cannie," and one night as he watched he saw a number of cats devouring his property. In a trice he cut off the right leg of one of them, whereupon they made their escape with a rapidity which contirmed his former suspicions. Short-Iv afterward an old woman, who had always been looked upon with disfavor, was found dead in her lone cottage, hereft of her right leg .- Scottish Review.

True Form of the Moon.

You were doubtless taught, as was the writer, that the moon is globularshaped; or, in other words, that its form is similar to that of the earth. According to the teachings of advanced modern astronomy this is all a mistake. It is believed nowadays that the moon is a perfect ellipse, its figure being nearly exactly one-third longer than it is broad. This elliptical theory of our satellite's shape is founded on the wellknown fact that a certain side (end, rather) of the moon is always presented to our view. This is caused by the moon revolving once on her axis in exactly the same period of time that she revolves around the earth. Her clongated shape was probably clused by the attraction of the earth when both planets were young and soft,

Pretensions of King Menelik.

The missionary Flad, a German belonging to Wurtemburg, writing from Abyssinia, says that one Goban Desta, who was educated near Basle, and has been a colporteur of the English Bible society, working in Harray and Shoa, was taken and put in chains merely because he wrote reports to Europe, King Menelik seemed determined to suppress everyone who might report his preparations against the Italians. The king is surrounded, says Mr. Flad, by French and Russian couttiers, and boasts beforehand of his victory over the Italians, and how he means to set forth from the Tigre to Jerusalem to free the holy city. He needs the help of Russia, and promises rich booty to
