-A Sinking Valley correspondent of the Altoona Tribune says: A stone crusher which was purchased last year by the supervisors has been run again this spring crushing possibly a thousand tons of road material, mostly of excellent quality. The machine stands the work well, not wearing out, as was predicted, the first year. Much has been learned by experience since it has been in use. It certainly does crush stone rapidly and well and by an economic use of the material much good road can be made. We believe the use of such machines will become quite general in the near future, and that the old way of breaking road stone will be a thing of the past, much the same as the old farming ma-

L. McLaughlin, who has been making some valuable walnut log shipments over the Perry county road from Landisburg for some time, has temporarily transferred his base of operations to Concord, Franklin county. He will return in the fall to Perry county, most of the timber he has an option on being in cultivated fields, at present inaccessible owing to growing grain. Last Thursday Mr. McLaughlin shipped from Landisburg four cars containing 109 walnut logs, making a total of 269 from different stations along the line within the past few months. They contain 76,000 feet, stump value from $15 to $20 per thousand feet. Mr. McLaughlin ships yearly to

M., Saturday, July 4th, and each Saturday thereafter; and returning leaving Ebensburg at 7:05 A. M., and Cresson at 7:35 A. M., beginning Monday, July , and continuing throughout the season. This train will make flag stops at regular stations to take on passengers for Ligonier, South Fork, Cresson, Ebensburg and points between Cresson and Ebensburg, and west bound to let off passengers from the same points. Connection will be made at Latrobe to and from points on the Ligonier Valley railroad, arriving at Ligonler at 4:40 P. M., Saturdays, and leaving that point Mondays at 8:30 A. M.

Blight on Fruit Trees. It will be noticed that on many frui trees, particularly pear and apple trees, withered leaves are seen on the ends of twigs of this year's growth. This has become so prevalent in many orchards near appearance of having been nipped by frost or burned by the sun; but a fruit grower there, suspecting the real cause sent cuttings to the Pomological department of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and received the reply that the blight is due to the presence of bacteriæ, and that the only known remedy is to cut off all affected branches, care being taken to cut in green wood.

Corbett and Sharkey Matched.

San Francisco, June 27. - James J. The position of road supervisor is not a bed of roses at any time, but is getting more thorny yearly. A case was tried in Butler court a week or two ago, says the Citizen, that is of importance to road supervisors as well as the public in general, and shows the importance of keeping the highways in a safe and passable condition. In February, 1895, Andrew Jaca was driving along a road in Washington township that was blockaded with snow, and his sled, which was loaded with hay, upset and he was seriously injured. He brought suit against the township to recover damages, alleging that the township authorities had been negligent in not removing the snow and keeping the roads open. The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict of $300, and this, together with the costs, will foot up a bill of about $500, which the township will have to pay. While it may seem a hardship to have to shovel out snowdrifts, which were numerous and heavy as they were at that time, it is nevertheless a wise requirement of law that roads can not be obstructed.

A Bad Place for Shelter. David Weller, Charles Weller, Albert Saylor Henry Long, William Stahl, Clark Stahl, and a hired hand on the farm of David Weller, of near Somerset, Pa., sought shelter from a storm under trees near where they had been working. The first three named were under a big oak tree three feet in diameter which was struck by lightning and torn to splinters. David Weller was knocked into a fence corner some distance away and apparantly killed. Albert Saylor was badly stunned, and Charles Weller, who was sitting with his back against the tree, was badly burnt about his head and breast.
