

Barabria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1896.

Democratic Ticket. For President, WILLIAM J. BRYAN, of Nebraska. For Vice President, ARTHUR J. SEWALL, of Maine.

THE daily circulation of the combined English and German editions of the New York Journal is now 431,000, surpassing any other daily paper printed in America.

FOUR white men and 8 Chinamen were blown to atoms and 15 Chinamen injured by the explosion of the drying house of a powder mill at Hercules Station, Cal.

KRETT, the German gun maker, has discharged all foreigners in his employ. He claims that some of the secrets of his great works have been revealed to other governments.

A CINCINNATI bank has received word from 24 country banks that they will support Bryan and free silver because their prosperity depends upon the farmers, and as the people in their communities are all one way, they must stand by them.

BRYAN is condemned by the European press for his silver views. Quite naturally, but old mother England will find in Bryan a son who is just a little too far advanced in money matters to listen to her pleadings.

HON. JOHN HALE a leading agriculturist, life-long Republican and ex-member of the Connecticut legislature, has created a sensation by declaring for Bryan and free silver.

"THE two metals have existed side by side in harmonious, honorable companionship as money, ever since intelligent trade was known among men. It is welligh 40 centuries since Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, 400 shekels of silver, current money with the merchant."

The formation of "sound money" workmen's clubs does not indicate the real feelings of workmen in this campaign. There is not a workingman in the country who does not hate Mark Hanna for good reasons and there is not one who does not know Hanna's place and position in the Republican party and what the syndicate and its leader mean and will do in case of McKinley's election.

The gentlemen who met in convention in Indianapolis last week and nominated a ticket, says the Harrisburg Patriot, say they are Democrats. Their intention in nominating a ticket is to weaken the vote for Bryan and thus aid in the election of McKinley.

ONE hundred and eighty-seven foreigners were naturalized in our court here on Monday and as many more have been made citizens since then. Nineteen of them were brought here by the Republican managers and presented with their citizenship without expense for the purpose of getting their votes in favor of "protection to American labor."

After they are naturalized the "no vote no work" as the likes and Huns about the mines very classically express it will be installed into their minds until on election day every mine boss will be equivalent to about fifty farmers.

Good intelligent foreigners who come to this country for the purpose of making it their home, make good citizens and their assimilation should be encouraged. But the riff raff of creation, the kind that are brought to court in squads and who will be voted in the same manner are a menace to good government and are useful only in crushing labor and protecting monopolies.

It is but little wonder that the people are restless—they have been slow to right their wrongs—but the uprising will come and all the votes that can be manufactured by the courts, all the "honest money" conventions that can be paid for by the pharisees who stand up in front and thank Jehovah that they, alone, are the honest people of this country, will be of no avail.

A PRIVATE letter to Chairman Jones from John G. Maher, of the Nebraska state central committee, says: "Bryan will carry Nebraska by at least 25,000. I am told that correspondents for eastern papers send out reports to the effect that he will lose the state, but the fact of the matter is that those who are well informed on the situation in the Republican party confidentially predict the loss of the state. The silver sentiment is growing stronger every day."

The demand for silver literature is increasing at a rate that is puzzling the national committee to meet. Last week alone 3,500,000 copies of campaign documents have been sent out and 5,000,000 would not have been enough to have supplied the demand.

MONEY and politicians are beginning to flow into the headquarters of Treasurer St. John, of the Democratic national committee. Mr. St. John announced in New York on Wednesday that he had received a contribution of $10,000 in a lump from a gold mine owner, whose name he would not give for publication. He gave the following extract from the letter in which the contribution was enclosed:

"I take great pleasure in enclosing you a New York draft for $10,000 for campaign purposes. This money was taken from Mother Earth, and not from individuals. I have been represented by the Eastern press as a silver miner. I have not a dollar invested in that class of property. I am a gold miner, and make this contribution, not for the benefit of the silver miner, but for the benefit of the toiling masses—the country at large."

MAJOR JOHN BRYNE, president of the Democratic Honest-Money League, of New York city, returned home a few days ago from a trip of several days through the state of New York, and reported at headquarters as follows: "Both Central, Western and Northern New York are rotten on silver, and unless something is done we will lose the state. Bryan had wildly enthusiastic meetings and has left an ugly trail behind him."

"I am alarmed, because if the estimates on the other critical states are as erroneous as those on New York there is no hope for the country. To-day an election would give this state to Bryan by 100,000 majority."

"The truth is the campaign is going by default; there is too much confidence and not enough work."

At the "Sound Money" Jeffersonian Democratic convention held at Indianapolis last week, General John M. Palmer, of Illinois, was nominated for president and General Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, was nominated for vice president. All who attended naturally put the responsibility for their attendance on their honesty and their great interest in keeping the people honest. "Honest money" was the slogan.

Mrs. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, widow of the late Vice President Hendricks, is very indignant because a portrait of her husband was displayed, against her consent, on the wall in the Indianapolis hall, where the bolting gold Democrats held their convention. In a public letter Mrs. Hendricks declares that, were her husband now alive, she is confident that he would ardently support the regular Democratic nominees, Bryan and Sewall.

Washington, Letter

Washington, Sept. 4th, 1896.—The McKinleyites haven't had much to enthuse over before so what they are making most of the Vermont election. I do not know themselves horse over what every intelligent man knows to have been a foregone conclusion. This isn't worrying the Democrats even a little bit. Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, says of it: "We made no attempt to carry the state, while the Republicans have spent lots of money and have exerted every energy to win. I am told that a house to house canvass was made by prominent Republicans."

The Democratic national committee has decided to accede to the request of the Pennsylvania miners, and will send Senator Tillman, of S. C. upon a ten days slooping tour of the coal section. The Democrats do not expect to carry Pennsylvania for Bryan, but they have excellent reasons for expecting to give the Republicans some very unpleasant surprises in a number of the congressional districts of the state.

Every Alabama Democrat in Washington regards Dr. Moseley's recent interview about the rosy chances of the Republicans to carry that state as nothing more nor less than an attempt to get a part of Mark Hanna's big campaign fund.

"Bryan will carry Nebraska by at least 25,000. I am told that correspondents for eastern papers send out reports to the effect that he will lose the state, but the fact of the matter is that those who are well informed on the situation in the Republican party confidentially predict the loss of the state. The silver sentiment is growing stronger every day."

Rev. Sam Small, who has just returned from a slooping tour of the coal section, said to Chairman Jones: "Nebraska is safe for Bryan because the shadow of a doubt, Missouri is safe, Illinois looked so when I was there a few days ago, and Ohio is due that."

The number of applications from clubs for membership in the National Association of Democratic clubs has been steadily increasing, but the record was this week broken when fifty-three applications were received in a single day.

She is Mrs. Elizabeth Remington, aged 63 and widow of the late Robert K. Remington, one of the most distinguished men of whom Fall River boasted fifty years ago. Mr. Remington was the senior member of the drug firm of Borden & Remington. His wife, Mrs. Remington's daughter, died a year ago, leaving him three children. On July 15 last, in City Clerk Ballard's absence, Mr. Borden applied for and secured a license for a marriage.

A LOVER'S QUARREL. Sharon, Pa., September 7.—Miss Maggie Reardon, aged about 21 years, quarreled with her lover, Mike Lee, this morning on Jefferson avenue, and, while in a fit of despair, shot herself in the right breast in the morning, causing instant death. She had met Lee previously and accused him of infidelity. He denied it, but she drew the revolver, and said: "Mike, you don't care for me," and pulled the trigger.

A HURRICANE NEAR UNOHTOWNE, Pa. Uniontown, Pa., September 7.—A terrible hurricane swept over a portion of Meantown and Franklin townships Saturday night, leveling houses, barns, fences and crops. It began near New Salem, traveled about eight miles in a north-easterly direction and was about 200 yards wide. The town of Watersburg was badly damaged, only three buildings being left standing and fit for habitation. No person was killed, but several were injured. The Pittsburg, Virginia, and Charleston railroad bridge was moved a foot and the new concrete bridge being erected to take the place of the one washed away in the July floods was blown down. The damage will foot up tens of thousands of dollars.

Lynchings. Homestead, Pa., September 7.—Prompt action by the police authorities yesterday prevented a probable lynching here. Early in the morning four negroes broke into the residence of William Marsh, a prominent picture dealer, for the purpose of robbery and probably a more heinous crime. They entered the sleeping apartment of Mr. Marsh's three daughters, and upon discovery one tried to shoot Miss Annie Marsh. The father came to the rescue and the negroes fled. One of them, Isaac Mills, jumped from the second story window and was so badly hurt that he will probably die. The others were arrested and a crowd of about 300 planned to lynch them, but the officials smuggled them out of town and lodged them safely in jail in Pittsburg.

Tillman Spoke. Philadelphia, September 8.—Three thousand people heard Senator Tillman of South Carolina, advocate free silver to-night in the open air at Fetterall park, in this city. The meeting was intended to be a joint debate on the money question between Tillman and his challenger, Stephen A. Hays, but Hays failed to meet him in open argument as accepted by John W. Brown, superintendent of the Enterprise Iron Works, of Philadelphia. The debate was not conducted on parliamentary lines, however, because of numerous questions being hurled at Mr. Brown by the auditors and it was not wholly a success. The South Carolina senator ended the demonstration with an extended speech.

The Biggest Fool at Large. He is the individual who persistently neglects his health, and the means of preserving and restoring it. Many persons who are not constitutional in this respect are genuine objects of compassion as well as of contempt. A failure of digestion, loss of sleep and flesh, impaired digestion, an uncertain position of the bowels and symptoms of biliousness are so many warnings of the approach of disease. To disregard them is to invite, if not to court, a fatal issue. The biggest fool at large is the individual who neglects his health, and the means of preserving and restoring it.

A Hero Loses His Life. Allentown, Sept. 9.—William Nicholas, in trying to save George Bourke's eleven-year-old daughter, near Walnut Street, this evening, was struck by a passenger train on the Central railroad of New Jersey. Both were killed, their bodies being horribly mangled.
