MADE A NON-PARTISAN SPEECH.

An Enthusiastic Audience of Many Thousa ds Present-His Speech In Part, Silver Party Notlfication Meeting In Lizeota Tonight.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 .- The crowd gathered at Sharpshooter's park, the spot selected for the labor picnic, very slowly. At 2:30 o'clock a mighty shout west up from the outskirts of the crowd and there was a great rush for the carriage pecupied by Mr. Bryan, which had just then arrived within the enclosure of the park. Hundreds of people pressed forward seeking to shake Mr. Bryan by the hand, and the passage of the carriage through the crowd was somewhat slow in consequence. He finally reached the speaker's stand, where he was received with prolonged applause. On the stand were seated Judge McConnell, Judge Prentiss and a large number of repre sentatives of the trades unions of Chicago. At 2:20 Mr. Bryan began his speech, being introduced by Edward Carroll, president of the Building Trades council, in a brief and appro priate address. Mr. Bryan said:

I desire to thank the Building and Trades council for this opportunity which they have extended to me to speak before the assembled on Labor day. Labor day the assembled on Labor day. Labor day has become a fixed thing among our insti-tutions, and it is well that it has, because on this day all over this nation those who are engaged in the production of wealth next in order that they may commune with each other, discuss those questions in which they are especially interested and emphasize before the world that there is nothing dishonorable in the fact that one eachs his bread in the sweat of his face. I am glad to stand on this day in the pres-ence of those to whom this nation is so ence of those to whom this nation is so largely indebted for all that it has had, for all that it has now and for all that it can all that it has now and for all that it can hope to have. I am not indulging in idle flattery when I say to you that no part of the people of the world are so important to the welfare of mankind as those whose labor and brain convert natural resources labor and brain convert natural resources into material wealth. [Applause.] I might quote to you what Mr. Carlisle said of these people in 1878. He described them as the struggling masses who produce the wealth and pay the taxes of the country. He did not praise them too highly. The struggling masses not only produce the wealth and pay the taxes of the country in time of peace, but the struggling masses have ever been and must ever be the nation's surest protection in time of peril. [Applause and a voice: "Good boy, Willie."]

Let me quote you what another Ameri-

Let me quote you what another American has said. In speaking of capital and lator Abraham Lincoln, in a message to Congress, used these words; "Monarchy itself is sometimes hinted at as a possible refuge from the power of the people. In my present position 1 could scarcely be justified were I to omit to raise a warning voice against this approach of returning despotism. It is not needed nor fitting here that a general argument should b made in favor of public institutions; but there is one point with its point not so hackneyed as most others, to which I ask brief attention. It is the effort to place eapital on an equal footing with, if not above labor, in the structure of govern-ment. It is assumed that labor is available only in connection with capital; that actody labors unless somebody else commanding capital somehow by the use of it induces him to labor." And then he adds: "Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. [Applause]. Labor is the superior of capital and de-serves much higher considerations." These are the words of Abraham Lin-coln. They are not intended to rouse and mosity against capital, but they state a

mosity against capital, but they stars a great truth that is always to be remembered that capital is but the fruit of labor and you cannot destroy labor without de stroying the possibility of future capital

And the common people are the only people who have ever heard gladly any person who preached humanity and equal rights. (Applause.) I do not mean to say that there are no exceptions to the general rule. There have always been lound among the richer classes those wh were filled with the spirit of philanthrops; there have always been found among them those who were willing to spend their lives in the uplifting of their fellows; but am speaking of the rule that reforms not come from and are not supported be those who consider themselves lifted about the comment people. (A voice, "That's right.") Nor do I mean that you have never found among the common people those who would betray their fellows.

There are three forms of government best known among men. There is the monarchy, where a king rules by right divine: there is the aristocracy, where a few centrel, and there is the Democracy, which means the real people themselves. Wh is it that the strength of Democracy—I d not use it in a party sense, but in a broader sense—why is it that the strength of Democracy has always been found among the common people? Why? Why it is simple cuough. If a man has high position or great wealth he may be able to stand and keep on the good side of the king. If he has great influence he may be one of the willing classes in an arbitrarier. But you ruling classes in an aristocracy. But you are not willing to leave any form of gov ernment to your children except a Dem neracy in which each citizen is protected in the enjoyment of life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. [Applause.] The great common people believe in a Democratic form of government, because it is only in a Democratic form of government that they are able to protect their rights and advance their interests so far as government can advance human interests. Let me dwell for a moment upon the object of government.

Our government is the best form of government is the best form of government.

Our government is the best form of government known among men. Our government is the best form of government known among men not because every law is good, not because we have upon the statute books every law needed to protect each citizen in the enjoyment of his rights. Our government is the best form of government known among men because it is possible number our form of avernment to ssible under our form of government to have just as good a government as the people deserve. Ours is the best form be-cause it is possible for the people to make it reflect the best intelligence, the highest virture and the broadest patriotism of all the people.

Let me warn you against confusing government with the abuses of government. Andrew Jackson said that there were no necessary ills in government; that its evils existed only in its abuses.

Let me dwell for a moment upon the object of government. In this land it is our boast that our government derives its just power from the consent of the government. just power from the consent of the government. What kind of government will people consent to when they are free to consent. There are two things to be considered in government. The first is that in the enactment of legislation you shall be careful to give no advantage to one be careful to give no advantage to one person over another if that advantage can be prevented. In other words, it is the duty of government to avoid acts of affirmative injustice; but that is only part of the business of government. Jefferson has stated the other half of it. He says government must restrain men from injuring one another. That is one of the important duties of government, to restrain men from injuring one another, and the government that falls to restrain the stronger arm that can be lifted from injuring the weakest citizen in all the land is a government which falls to do its whole duty. [Applause.]

My friends, if you find a large number of men out of employment you have a right to inquire whether idleness is inflicted upon the human race by natural laws, by the act of the Creator, or whether it is due to legislation which is wrong. If it is due to legislation which is wrong, then it is not only your right, but your duty to change that legislation. [Ap-planse.] The greatest menace to the em-ployed laborer today is the increasing army of the unemployed. It menaces every man who holds a position, and if that army continues to increase it is only a question of time when those who are, as you may say, upon the ragged edge shall leave the ranks of the employed and join those who are out of work. [Applause.] My friends, I am one of those who be lieve that if you increase the amount of idleness, if you increase the number of those who ce mot work and yet must eat, you will drive men to desperation and in-crease the ranks of criminals out of those who would be earning bread under conditions. [Applause.] Whenever a man offers you pay for your vote he insults your manhood, and you ought to have no respect for the man who tries to do it [Applause.] And the man who instead of insulting your manhood by an offer of purchase attempts to in timidate you, or coerce you, insults your citizenship as well as your manhood. [Applause.]

Let me leave with you just one parting word. Whatever may be your views on political questions, whatever may be your ideas as to the policies proposed from time to time by various parties, let me arge you to make it your highest ambition to prove yourselves worthy of that greatest of all names—an American citizen. [Applause.]

THE ARKANSAS ELECTION. The Returns Coming in Very Slowly-No

Distufbates. LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 9 .- Conservative estimates based on partial returns received now place the total vote at 165,-000, and give Jones a clear majority over all opposition combined of from 60,000 to 65,000. The figures are coming in slow, and many enthusiastic Democrats claim that when the back counties are all in Jones' majority will run above 70,000.

Many counties in Arkansas have no telegraph office, and it will be several before the official returns are all The unusual length of the ticket make the process of counting very slow. Local option contests served to bring out a heavy vote in many districts. In Pulaski county the increase in the total vote cast was nearly 80 per cent over that of two years ago, and corresponding increases are reported from many other counties. It was a very quiet election. No disturbances of any bind have been reported, and only a few arrests were made. The Republican and Populists are making no claims, but are awaiting official returns. Local tickets are in doubt in a few counties, but in most cases the only question is as to the size of the Democratic majority.

Grout for congress are elected as are majorities in the state senate and house Practically the full Republican vote was east. On the other hand the lack of erganization in the Democratic ranks was very apparent.

Many Democrats who do not endorse the platform of the Chicago convention remained away from the polls while the more dissatisfied ones voted for the Republican ticket. The Populist and Prohibition vote

STOLE THOUSANDS.

Man Accused of Rifling Lawyers' Mail Arrested.

LIST OF SUPPOSED FORGERIES. William Breez, Clerk of Greentree

Borough, In Jail Charged With Carrying on a Systematic Work of Theft and Swindling. PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.-A sensational arrest has been made by Superintendent G. B. Perkins of the Perkins' Union Detective ageny, and Constable Morris. They took into custody William Breez, young civil engineer and clerk of Greentree borough, who was later lodged in jail in default of $5,000 bail on charges of forgery. Breez is supposed to be the man who has made life wearisome for a large number of local attorneys during the last two years, through stealing letters from their offices and obtaining therefrom checks, whose signatures he afterwards imitated. Detective Perkins thinks he may have cleared $10,000 in his operations.

It is possible he had accomplices and other arrests may follow. For months there have been a number of mysterious thefts of letters in law offices on Diomond and Grant streets, Fourth avenue and other points where the legal colony is most closely grouped. The thefts were annoying and embarrassing, as many of them contained checks of great value, some ranging up to nearly $400. The puzzling manner in which they disappeared in nowise helped to assuage the annoy-

The police, who were notified of the losses, thought that the solution of the trouble lay in the postoffice, their thory being that dishonest employes were responsible for the losses. United States government detectives, who were put on the case, believed that street mail boxes were entered. Many complaints were made from time to time to Postmaster O'Donnell and In spector Hooten, but it was impossible for a long time to get at the bottom of the mystery.

One of the most sensational thefts was that of some mail from ex-Judge Bredin's office some months ago, when, among other letters taken, was one containing a draft for $5,000, which was subsequently returned to Judge Bredin. the purloiner evidently being of the opinion that the attempt to realize on it would involve too much risk, and further that it was of such an amount as would justify a keen search for the

A large number of letters, as developments demonstrated, were slolen from lawyers' offices, which seems to have been almost exclusively the chosen field of operations of the slick operator. Later one of the bank officers was called to the telephone and informed that the check was all right and that the man who was telking to him was Mr. Petty The official was familiar with Mr. Petty's voice, and unthinkingly called back that the voice was not Mr. Petty's whereupon the man at the other end of

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8 .- C. H. He maintains that three-fourths of all the seals killed in the open ocean are fe males, and that thousands of pups are dying on the Pribylof Island rookeries on that account. On the Japan coast he conditions are even worse, and he thinks that sealing in that section wil never again be profitable unless the seals are given several years of perfect
