MRS ELLA CASTLE, of San Francisco, sentenced in London a ffew days ago to three months imprisonment, for shoplitting, has been pardoned, on the ground of insanity.

SECRETARY CARLISLE has caused the dismissal of a female clerk who dared to hope and talk for Democratic success. The manly warfare to preserve the credit of the nation goes on.

YES, but while business is improving the Wilson law remains in operation Now, why shouldn't this law have its share of the praise? Remember it cannot be repealed for a year, whether Mc-Kinley calls an extra session or not.

WE see it stated in some of our exchang s that the country members of the legislature are combining to control the election of the speaker of the house. It is hardly worth their while combining, as Senator Quay will run the whole business to suit himself.

THE many friends of Senator Daniel W. Voorhees will be sorry to learn that the once great politician is now a helpless invalid and his death expected ere this year passes away. He is confined in his room at his hotel in Terre Haute a id is as helpless as a child. He is under the care of a nurse who never leaves his side. Senator Voorhees has been a strong supporter of Democracy for many years and his death will be a blow to the

THE New York World's Washington correspondent says: "The largest individual subscriber to the Republican National Committee was William K. Vanderbilt, of New York, who sent his personal check for $150,000 to the National Committee. This is not only the largest sum contributed by anyone in the late campaign, but it is undoubtedly a larger amount of money than was ever before given by any individual in any political campaign in the world."

AT the last meeting of the Jacksonian club, the leading Democratic organization of Omaha, nine honorary members were dropped from the membership list for open and active opposition to the regular Democratic nominees for president and vice president, and for sup porting the election of the Republican presidential candidates. The pictures of John G. Carlisle, J. Sterling Morton and George E. Pritchett were removed from the walls of the club rooms.

The Iron Trade Review says: There is a general expression that 1897 will be a year of large business. But it is entirely unlikely that the present spurt of or will be followed by enough to employ Operations in the next few months will, therefore, be somewhat spasmodic. Many iron manufacturers in their letters deprecate the exaggerated reports bence and the presidency two years lathat have been published, since they are | ter. likely to cause disappointment later to those who have looked for an unreasonably quick recovery from so long a period of depression.

The Pittsburg Leader, Rep., says: It is not good policy to spread exaggerated reports of the revival in progress, which, in the natural order of things, is bound to proceed by moderate degrees. In Pittsburg, for instance, much embarrass ment has been caused by the representation that there is a general resumption of work in the mills and a corresponding demand for labor. Large numbers of idle men have thus been persuaded to come here looking for employment which is not ready for them and, of course, discontent and grumbling follow.

On the same subject an official of the Pennsylvania lines said: "The newspapers and the people who think that business depends altogether on politics and political prospects are badly mistaken. If manufacturers can make money they will run their plants, and they can only make money when there is a demand for their products, and, as every man of common sense knows, demand is dependent npon certain natural laws that regulate the conditions of business, I think the boomers are overdoing cause by their silly exagerations."

Another manufacturer said: Many of the manufecturers and workers widely ci rculatedin the past few days of a vast boom in business with the starting up of all the iron, steel, tin and oth er works, because such reports have everybody would be ready if a fire been untrue, and damaging assuch. In some instances mills have been started in full-by the newspapers-which will not be on in full for several weeks, or perhaps longer, and in other cases the starting of one department furnished the cue for the statement that the entire plant had been put in operation. This is claimed to be hard on the workmen who may be pressed by debtors, besides placing the manufacturer in a peculiar

The New York Journal says: No papatriot will stand in the way of returning prosperity, but the fact cannot be tically beaten for re-election, he fears of court in the register of wills' office manufacturing establishments are being opened they are the ones which were closed down before the election in order

THERE seems to be a pretty general notion among Republican members of congress so far as they have expressed themselves-beginning with Senstor John Sherman, of Obio, and dropping down to Congressman Stone, of this statethat the passage by congress of the Dingley now and of a new McKinley tariff bil by an extra session, after March 4th, two at the waist and placed in separate will settle our monetary troubles and start and permanently continue the whole country on the royal road to prosperity. Mr. Hanna, who speaks for Mr. McKinley, does not take this view. but it is not unlikely that he will be brought to it before long or be confronted by a broken and destructive Republi-

> The bulk of Republicans, from long tuition, believe that prosperity can only be made anything like continuous by paternal government. They believe t at what makes the rich richer gradually drips through to the laborer and thereby all classes are more or less benefitted. They do not believe that this country can be made permanently pros perous by any system that would begin with the strengthening and improvement of the laboring man and the far mer and work up. Subsidies, bounties. "protection" to manufacturers and trusts appear to them the only guaran the of prosperity and they will be satisfied with nothing else. The healing for every wound is a high tariff poultice; the stimulant for every weak industry is | tantty. dose of protection; the cure for all monetary evils is to make the mills go while consumer pays for the expenses of ubrication. Whatever Mr. Hanna and as sound money Democratic advisers may have intended there is one thing they will be brought to by Republican success-a high tariff.

It is quite true that the treasury de ficit, such as it is, could be temporarily made up by a tax on tea, coffee, sugar and beer and this without the slightest disturbance of existing schedules or the least alarm to business circles or agitation of trade. Certainly if the coming session would patriotically and economically meet the emergency it could avoid laying any additional tax by reducing extravagant appropriations and at once making the expenditures shrink within the income limit. But this will not be done and the next best thing is to se cure such increased revenue as is needed through tea, coffee, sugar and beer as

We have every promise now of pros perity. This must necessarily increase imports and largely add to the customs revenue. In reasonable time, as Mr Cleveland long ago predicted, the Wilwhile the arrival of prosperous times should not be postponed by useless and selfish tariff legislation. The way out of the trouble is easy, but there is every not take that way.

But will an increase of revenue with liberal receipts and extravagant expenditures settle the monetary question? Not at all. It will only add to the danger of the disease. Yet Republican leaders generelly show their willingnessnow that a Republican president whgets the offices has been elected-to let ders, held up by election uncertainty, the financial legislation stand as it is because, as Sherman and Stone both say. "the elections mean that." And so cer tain as the Republican party refuses the financial relief needed that certain will it lose the lower house in two years

> Many statements respecting the attitude of the administration on the Cuban question have been circulated during the past week, and various articles of a conflicting character have been distributed throughout the country. The president has said that he does not anticipate any trouble with Spain over the Cuban situation, and that there is no intention to change the policy respecting. the matter which was laid down by the administration a year ago.

Measures of a precautionary character have been taken, however, to meet any critical conditions which may arise, in other words, the United States is judiciously continuing the work of strengthening its fortifications and works of de fense, which have been in progress for several years, and will, therefore, be prepared to change its policy should it be deemed advisable to do so. Investigation proves that army officers along the Atlantic coast are pushing the work in their several departments with all possible dispatch under orders to have certain classes of heavy ordnance ready for use at as early a day as possible. Every precaution for secrecy has been taken and officers located at the navy things, and will injure the sound money yards decline to discuss their unusual activity. There is no doubt that the maxim "in time of peace prepare for war" has been passed along the line. No well informed official anticipates board ship. We want to know that should break out."

> Senator Vest, of Missouri, on Tuesday expressed the opinion that it would be impossible for the Republicans to pass the Dingley bill or any other tariff bill through the senate at the forthcoming session. He says silver and gold Democrats and silver Republicans will stand together against any protection:

The senator feels no apprehension over the prospects of his own election, but says that with Blackburn and Voorhees, and Washington, November 13th, 1896 -While President Cleveland may have failed in many things he has undertaken, his administration has just won the great st diplomatic victory in the history of our country. The negotiations, now completed, of the treaty providing for he submission to arbitration of the Verzuela boundary dispute involves a full recognition of the Monroe doctrine by Great Britain, and consequently by the rest of the world, and complies with every demand made by this government. The extent of this diplomatic victory may be comprehended best by remembering that Venzuela has been trying to get Great Britain to arbitrate the dispute for more than fifty years, and now the other party to the arbitration is not to be Venzuela but the United States Members of the diplomatic corps say the credit for the victory is more largely due Secretary Olney toan to President Cleveland. No matter to whom credit is due, it is a matter for every patriotic American to rejoice over. Beginning with Monroe every President of the United States has asserted the right of this country to interfere to prevent the forciacquisition of territory on this continent by a foreign power, but never until now has that right been recognized by European nation.

The Republican circus promises to pen with the reassembling of congress, instead of waiting for the inauguration of McKinley, and the performance is likely to be continuous, and from the number of clowns who will appear it ought to be uproariously "funny. The tun may not mate il ze, but the uproar can be counted upon to a dead cer-

Senator Morgan evidently thinks that he interview with Chairman Dingley of he house ways and means committee which was telegraphed all over the counry was given for the purpose of noti ing the country that the Dingley tarff bill would not be passed by the senate at the coming se sion of congress, because of the opposition of silver senators. As one of the silver senators Mr. Morgan said; "If the Dingley tariff ill, so called, doesn't pass the senate his winter it will be the fault of the Republicans. I have no hesitation in sayng I will not oppose it, although I would not say that I will vote for it The Dingley bill, or the Reed bill, whatever you may choose to call it, is only a makeshift and the manufacturers of the east do not really want it I do not expect to see it pass. It seems to me very ikely that this will be a case of the engineer hoist by his own petard. The matter of tariff legislation at the comng session depends very much upon whether the Republicans really desire pass the Dingley bill. I have had no talk at any time with any senators regarding their probable attitude toward ne measure in the event of its being prought before the senate this winter out so far as I am personally concerned hey may have their way with it I prospect that the Republican leaders will grateful to Mr. McKinley for praising and upholding his financial policy to orgive the severe reproof which the re-Republican party administered to him at the St Lonis convention, and to aid the Republicans now in getting through their two-year Dingley bill. I am afraid he Republicans will have to offer a great many apologies to the west for do not propose that any of them shall

e charged to me." The president of the Lakeland Demperatic club, which did effective work n the campaign just closed, and which s to continue its organization, gives his idea of the situation thusly: If Maj. Mc-Kinley succeeds in restoring good times permanently, and demonstrates that his theory is correct, of course, we will have no fight. We will be benefitted and glad to acknowledge it; but it is our belief that Maj. McKlnley cannot overcome immutable natural laws. His proposed policy offers no encourage ment. Business cannot revive unless more money is put in circulation. The etirement of the greenbacks will not do Therefore, we are organizing now to stay further encroachment on popular rights; and the campaign of patriotic education will go on, and four years hence we will wave the victorious Dem-"There is just one thing," remarked Republican senator, "which, to my mind, makes it certain that neither Ex-President Harrison nor Speaker Reed will be members of McKinley's cabinet; they are both too big, mentally, to play subordinates to McKinley and nobody knows it any better than McKinley himself. He may tender cabinet portfolios to both men, in fact, I feel, assured that he will; but it will de done merely as an act of good will, and not with the slightst exp ctation that either man will ac-

A great many people are asking what Senator Butler did in the recent campaign to give him the enormous head he s exhibiting these days. Hit the Wrong "Idiot."

Port Jervis, N. Y., November 15 On Friday afternoon the Rev. Jacob Schoonmaker of Susquehanna, Pa. went by invitation to attend a special service in an adjoining hamlet. He was invited to tea by one of the elders. It was nearly dark when they arrived at the home of the elder and as it was raining hard and the minister's clothing was wet the elder took his guest up stairs and provided him with a dre-sing gown to wear down to tea. The minister having put on the gown, went down the stairs into the hall and was met by the elder's wife, who had a Bible in her hand. Raising it aloft she hit the preacher a resounding whack on the side of his head, exclaiming:
