No matter what any man may think about our currency, whether its basis be of one of the precious metals or both, none can deny that the result of the presidential election has given gratification to and increased the sense of security of every trust in the country. Neither is it to be denied that the plutoeracy and aristocracy of every European monarchy hails that result with joy. Can it be held by the thoughtful that a victory which strengthens the trusts and cheers the privileged classes around the globe is is the one that should please the pride and enccurage hope of the patriotic American, whatever his party may

THE action of England in agreeing to arbitrate her dispute with Venezuela has been recognized by other European Powers as a practical assent to the American interpretation of the Monroe doctrine French and German newspapers are at much pains to show that England asserts; it. The experiment made by France in Mexico and its lamentable failures do not appear to have made a proper impression in that country and in Germany. But it would seem to be very unwise diplomacy to force all the American Republics into a position of greater friendship toward than the country will have to spare, un-Great Britain. If ever the occasion shall arise to vindicate the ability of the people living on this contineat to take care of their own affairs they will give a good account of themselves. The New Castle Rod mill, employing 340 men, has started up since election at a reduction of from 5 to 15 per cent. The New Castle Tin mill, employing 700 men, since election has made a cut in the wages of their employes, even those of the scale men. New Castle Wire Nai! mill, usually employing 300 to 400 men. has been working half the men since election at 5 per cent. reduction. The indications are that these mills will run but a short time.

R. G. Dunk tCo's weekly Review of trade says:

Most people have forgotten what the Dingley bill provides. Now, that there is a prospect of its passage, a summary of its provisions seems desirable. It is a temporary revenue bill. It would expire by its own terms on August 1st. 1898. What revenue it would yield it is difficult to say. Mr. Dingley expected forty million dollars increase from it, but treasury experts put the gain at lower figures.

It takes wool of all kinds off the free list and puts upon it a duty of six tenths as great as that of the McKinley tariff To the present duties on woolea goods it makes a like addition. It does precisely the same for lumber in all its forms. It adds fifteen per cent. of the McKinley rates to the present rates in the schedules A to N, including chemicals, earthenware, glass, metals, manufactures of wool and metals, tobacco, agricultural products. wines, spirits, cotton goods, flax, hemp and jute, silks, pulp, paper, books and supdries.

MARK HANNA conducted McKinley's campaign on "business" principles, and one of these principles was to buy up all the newspapers he could. The Homeslead, of Des Moines, Iowa, an agricultural paper having a large circulation in Iowa and adjoining states, has i-special edition of 100,000 copies for circulation in the central west devoted to an attempt to prove that a large number of the agricultural papers. supposedly non partisan, were subsidized by Mark Hanna or his direct representatives to oppose the free silver cause during the late campaign.

While the attack is directed particu larly at Wallace's Farmer, a rival publicrtion, the Homestead claims to have knowledge of more than $200,000 having been used in purchasing the influence of agricultural papers in what were considered the doubtful agricultural states. The manager of the Homestead James M. Pierce, and the editor, S F. Stewart, claim to have had repeated conferences with leading Republican managers on the subject

They allege that the Homestead was of fered $12,00 for its services, to be paid for copies of the paper at a rate which would give this much profit. Pierce and Stewart say that they led the Republican managers on until they had secured a list of other papers implicated and the prices paid, and then broke off tde negotiations. Among those implicated in the negotiations are Mark Har. na and A B Cummins, national com mitteeman from Iowa.

The Homestead puts its charges against the Republican managers and the agricultural papers in the form of six dis tinct propositions, in bold face type, and challenges those who feel aggrieved to sue for libel. It will then, it says, produce documentary evidence in court, and put a score of Republican managers of national prominence on the witnessstand. The Homestead managers are Re-

ENGLISH experts in the grain trade calculate that Europe will require from the United States a monthly average supply of 17,000,000 bushels of wheat until next July. For the seven months yet remaining this would imply a further exportation of 119,000,000 bushels. which is manifestly a great deal more less all calculations of the yield and reserves have been greatly at fault. Exports for the five months of the crop year already expired have been close to 75,000,000 bushels, and the most liberal estimates of the remaining supply do

The yield of wheat has been variously computed at 400,000,000 to 450,000,000 oushels. Assuming the accuracy of the larger estimate, and that there was as much wheat remaining in uncounted places on July 1 as at visible supply centres, the approximate yield and reserves made a possible maximum available supply of 545,000,000 bushels. Deduct from that about 375,000,000 bushels for food and seed and 25,000,000 bushels for a minimum reserve to be carried into the next crop year, and 145,000,000 bushels would be the maximum export surplus of the United States for the crop year 1896-7. Many believe that this estimate is 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels too high. But taking the most hopeful view that is admissible, it would appear that the United States have already sent abroad in the form of wheat and flour more than half the surplus that has been available for the crop year. In view of all the facts recognized by statisticians the world over, there, can be no room for doubt that Europe's requirements will this season more near ly exhaust the reserve stocks of Ameri-

Washington, November 28th, 1896 .-There is at least one Republican Senator who thinks that the McKinley administration will have to borrow money very early in its career, nothwithstanding the assertions of the party stump speakers and editors during the campaign that it would never, under any circumstances, do any such thing. Senator Chandler not only thinks that the McKinley administration will have to borrow money, but he has prepared a plan for it to do so, and it is supposed that Le will put it in the form of a bill, which he will intoduce in congress. His plan is in short to authorize the secretary of the ir asary to borrow as much money as may be needed to make up the diff rence between the government receipts and expenditures so long as there is a deficit, he loans to be made payable in a short period. Mr. Chandler seems to agree with the statements made on the stump by sliver men, that the election of McKinley would mean among other things a further increase in the national debt by the government borrowing more money, out other Republicans will favor exhausting all other methods of trying to pull through before resorting te another

The influence of the brewers killed it when it was proposed before, and now in addition to that it will have to contend with the opposition of the high tariff Republicans who want to leave the whole revenue question just where it is in order to have an excuse for an extra session of congress.

The vacant seat on the bench of the court of claims which gossip had assigned to one of the members of President Cleveland's cabinet went to Assistant Attorney General Howry, whose official duties have made him thoroughly familiar with the business of this ceurt Judge Howry's legal attainments ar high and there is no personal objection to him, but if the idea advocated by a onsiderable number of silver men, of hanging up all of Mr. Cleveland's nominations in the senate, be carried out, his nomination will fail with all the rest.

Whatever may be one's individual pinions, it is clearly apparent that the ection of prominent gold Democrats, in trying to get the administration to renove Democratic officials in a number of states because they supported Bryan, is not calculated to wipe out the existing bitterness between the regular Democrats and the bolters. In the postoffice department alone attacks are being made by the bolters upon more than fifty presidential postmasters. It is not likenot exceed that quantity. Most of the ly that any considerable number of estima es fall much below 75,000,000 these, or any other officials the nomination of whose successors has to be confirmed by the senate, will be removed because whatever may be the result of the proposition to take no action upon any nominations, it is certain that the senate as at present constituted will not confirm the nomination of any gold Democrat for a position from which man was removed for no other reason than that he followed his convictions and supported silver. That knowledge will probably prevent action by fhe ad nistraton on the complaints of the gold Democrats.

The four Democratic senators who bolted the nomination of Bryan-Palmer, of Itl; Vilas, of Wis; Gray, of Del , and Caffery, of La .- will not be admitted to the causus of Democratic senators which will be held as soon as congress meets, for the purpose of deciding upon a line of party policy during the session. In addition to the party caucus there will be a silver caucus, attended by the populiste, the silver Republicans and the Democrats, and it is expected that an agreement will be reached under which the silver senators will act together in all matters concernfinance. While it is not thought that the bolting gold Democratic senators will caucus with the Republicans it is believed that they will vote with them upon financial questions.

The Republicans of Washington are in a state of mind because a gold Democrat has been slated for chairman of the McKinley inauguration committee, and they have made a vigorous protest many began to think business was against his being given the place, both to Mark Hanna and to McKinley, and dwindling, but subsidence of deferred the local Republicans are right, too; but inasmuch as the gold Democrat who has appointment is observed in the iron and been promised the place was a big con orders by prices which buyers believe all parties represented on the inauguracannot be maintained, and the same is | tion committee, but if this gold Demotrue in boots, shoes and in a few crat gets what he paid for it will be the first time that a chairman of the committee has not been a member of the party which elected the president.
