FRIDAY, - - - - JANUARY 29, 1897

A HAZELTON paper says: In the Pennsylvania legislature are to be found one gambler, one baseball umpire, one preacher, eight men who declare they are gentlemen nineteen without occupations, twenty-seven lawyers and one pugilist. Of the members three were convicted of larceny, one was tried for murder and acquited, three have been in insane asylums, while eight have been at Keely cures and four are divorced.

At the banquet of the Ohio legislature, on Friday night last, Mr. Hanna was called upon to speak to the toast: They are Made," The sentiment will grate on the sensibilities of those who think that presidents, like poets, are born, not made. But Mr. Hanna knows that Ohio presidents have to be made, and hand made at that, although a great deal of "machine" work is involved in the process.

THERE is a considerable surplus of bntter produced by the farmers in the state of Pennsylvania. More might be produced and sold at a profit if they should pay proper attention to quality and seek with due dilligence the markets that are open to them. Should the State Grange put a little of the energy in its exhibits in making war upon oleomargarine into an effort to introduce our fine butter in near-by foreign markets the best results might be anticipated.

THE next administration intends to change the tariff in order to subsidize the trusts that elected it. The chances that it will proceed at law against the monopolists are not worth taking into consideration. Aside from a bluff or two, it will, do nothing to hamper its friends and proprietors. It will be a great surprise if it does not give the Sugar trust and the other combines all that Nothing can be done to rescue the people from the clutches of the plutocrats the people of New York is not toward until the next national election. In the | those of their more honest and honormeantime the people will have to grin and bear it.

As a result of the visit Saturday of Judge Gordon of the Philadelphia bench and a party of lawyers, physicians and others to the state hospital for the crimnal insane at Matteawan, N. Y. a bill will shortly be introduced in the legisla ture providing for the erection of a similar institution in Pennsylvania. Judge Gordon says that the bill will be prepared at once and introduced at the present session of the legislature in order that the criminal insane of this commonwealth may be taken from the penitentiaries and jails, and properly provided for in an institution to be erected specially for them.

THE earliest of the Quay sham reform bills rattled safely, through, the senate last week and was making some headway in the house when Representative Stewart thrust a knife into it. This was an alleged plan to "invstigate" the state treasury and the auditor general's office. The investigation proposed would have amounted to nothing, and was simply a trick to prevent or postpone a real investigation. The members who do not want to be fooled by the Quay tricks must be constantly alert. There is no rascal more dangerous than one working under the guise of a reformer.

In North Dakota, Monday, the thermometer registered 30 below zero, and 30 was the lowest at Minneapolis, while at Quincy, Ill, the Mississippi river is and woolens are beginning to look up frozen so solidly that teams cross on the ice. In Texas the cattle are freezing to death, and in Lexington, Ky., a negro woman met a like fate. Her two little children were discovered in time to save their lives. Another dispatch from Bismarck, N. D., states that the storm was the worst on record. There is much suffering among farmers and others exposed to the storm's fury and many have perished The loss of cuttle on the ranches will be frightful.

It is more vital to the public, says the Philadelphia Ledger, to check the encroachments and oppression of monopoly than to lay a tax, imposed incidentally or deliberately, to benefit the combination of American sugar refiners, What scandal there was in the passage of the present revenue act was concentrated around and about the sugar which causes so much haste to tinker schedule.

The people will demand a rigid accounting of congress, and with respect to tariff legislation they will insist that no tax shall be levied to foster trusts or promote monopolies. One safe and certain rule for congress to observe is that of putting upon the free list every manufactured product, foreign competition with which is hindered by duties.

Representative Swanson, of Va., one of the most prominent of the younger Democrats in the house has this to say in a public interview about the future of the Democratic party. It is to-day stronger and more compact, more aggressive and buoyant than any defeated party ever was before. Without intimi dation, coercion, or corruption a vast majority of the voters of this country today are in accord with it. Having di vorced itself from the present adminis tration, it is building near the affections and the interests of the masses. The Democratic party will continue its aggressive fight for both gold and silver as legal tender money and against special privileges to trusts, combines and corporations. Those who failed to act with is in the last election will most of them return to the party. Many have siready done so. No concessions in principles or policies will be made, though, to gain the support of these. Shorn of their power of patronage and discredited as loyal Democrats those who do not return will not be potential for evil in the future. The Democracy proposes to beat no retreat from the advance grounds it has taken.
