LOSS ESTIMATED AT $1,500,000.

Inefficiency of the Harrisburg Volunteer Fire Department Blamed-Members of the Legislature Saved All They Could Insurance Only $200,000.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.-The Pennsylvania state capitol has been destroyed by fire, the legislative halls are in ruins, and a new structure must rise from the ashes that has served as a meeting place of the Pennsylvania legislature since 1822. The flames within the short space of one hour ate up $1,500,000 worth of property. The inefficiency of the Harrisburg volunteer fire department is generally blamed.

The house was in session and the senate was about to convene after a few minutes recess, when the flames were discovered. Smoke could be seen in mall volumes pouring out into the capitol grounds from the house windows. The members were not mindful of it until the great clouds rolled by the windows. Instantly there was a motion to adjourned and all was consternation. In the senate the members were lolling about in their seats. The place began to smell of smoke and soon dense clouds rolled down the rear elevator Senator John C. Grady of Philadelphia quickly warned the senators and there was a general hustle to remove effects. Fire alarms were sent in and the dignified senate became a mass howling men. Desks were being jerked loose and carried out. The same work was going on in the house chamber.

Out in the grounds great crowds quickly gathered. The flames were then shooting out of the roof over the lieutenant governor's chamber, where the fire originated. The fire department was slow to arrive and the hosemen about the capitol were doing their utmost to check the blaze. It was useless. The fire licked up the little streams of water.

At last the local companies started streams on the senate wing roof, then a sheet of fismes. The water had hardly force enough to reach the blaze.

Rapidly the flames destroyed the roof and ate their way down into the senate chamber. The men who were trying to recover property were driven out. The flames shot along the senate roof, wound themselves about the dome and on to the roof of the house chamber. Although there was a heavy rain and snow falling the woodwork burned like tinder. Soon there was a fire in every portion of the building and there was no hope for the historic structure. During the fire several persons were slightly injured by falling timbers. For a time it looked as though the adjoining apartment buildings would be destroyed, but a shifting wind saved

The records of this session were saved. The contractor for the improvements in progress had an insurance of $70,000, his contract not being finished. The departments in the burned building were the following: senate librarian's room, senate chief chief clerk's room, smoking room, barber shop in senate, lieutenant governor's room, room of president pro tem., school department, house chief clerk's room, speaker of house's room, resident clerk's room, two telegraph offices, room of the Harrisburg Legislative Correspondents association, paster and folder departments, cloak rooms in both branches and the engine rooms.

There is talk of finishing the session either in Pittsburg or Philadelphia, but Senate Librarian Miller says a building Superintendent of Public Buildings

Delaney, who estimates the total loss to be $1,500,000, said:

"I will fight for the rebuilding on the colonial style. We will have a meeting of the building committee as soon as the house and senate committees can be appointed. I don't think that it is possible to take the session away from Harrisburg, which city is named in the constitution as the place of meeting." There is not much over $190,000 insurance on the building and contents, according to the statement of the treasury officials.

The burned capitol was built early in the century, but was nevertheless regarded as one of the handsomest specimens of Ionic architecture in the The building was of red brick, with white trimmings. It was surrounded by a park of ten acres and stood on an eminence almost in the center of the city. The main structure was two and one-half stories high, surmounted by a large dome, from which a fine view of the surrounding country could be had. The capitol's dimensions were: Length, 180 feet;

The cornerstone was laid on May 31, 1819, by Governor Findlay. The building was finished in 1821 and was first occupied by the general assembly on the 3d of January, 1822. On each side was a wing, that on the north being occupied by the senate and the southern wing by the house. At each end of the building, separated from it by a narrow space, are located two buildings containing the state treasury department and adjutant general's office and other state offices. About 100 feet south is the modern granite building known as the executive building, recently erected at a cost of nearly $1,000,000, for the accommodation of the governor, astorney general and secretary of state.

This building also shelters the state library and a portion of it is used as a state museum. The library is one of the finest in the world, and, until ten years ago, was quartered in the structure destroyed by fire. It was the danger from fire that constantly menaced the library in the old building that induced the authorities to erect the fireproof structure in which it is now lo-

President Pro Tem. McCarrell of the senate and Speaker Boyer of the house and the members of the board of public property met to arrange for places of meeting for both branches of the legisture today. It was decided that the senate shall meet in the supreme courtroom and arrangements were made for the meeting of the house in a room on the second floor of the postoffice building.

Governor Hastings is expected to send a message to the legislature today in reference to the destruction of the capitol building and recommending immediate action on the part of the legislature with a view to the restoration of the capitol building.

It is likely that joint sessions of both branches of the legislature will be held today or tomorrow to decide upon the future meeting places.

The loss is hard to estimate. Many documents went up in fire and smoke that no price can be fixed on. They can never be replaced.

There are perpetual policies of insurance, aggregating $123,000 on all the state buildings, but how much of this is credited to the capitol is not known. In addition to this, $40,000 was taken out on the capitol building after the library was removed. There were five year policies on the main building prior to the removal of the library, aggregating $400,000, divided among a large number of companies of this country and Great Britain.

AN AMENDED TREATY. Changes In the Arbitration Treaty Made

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.-The text of the changes made in the general arbitration treaty by the senate committee on foreign relations are as follows: As sent to the senate article 1 read as fol-

The high contracting parties agree to submit to arbitration, in accordance with the provisions and subject to the limitations of this treaty, all questions in difference between them which they may fail to adjust by diplomatic negotiations. The senate committee to this added the following: But no question which affects the foreign or domestic policy of either of the high contracting parties or the relations of either to any other state or power, by treaty or otherwise, shall be a subject for arbitration under this treaty, except by special agreement.

Article 3 is amended by giving each government two instead of one jurist of repute and the following is stricken from the article:

In case they shall fail to agree upon at umpire within three months of the date of an application made to them in that behalf by the high contracting parties, or either of them, the number shall be sethem, the umpire sh lected in the manner provided for in ar-

In article 5 the following has been stricken out: In case they shall fail to agree upon ar umpire within three months of the date of an application made to them in that be half by the high contracting parties, or either of them, the umpire shall be selected in the manner provided for in article 10. Wherever the word "person" is used meaning the fifth member of the tribunal, "person" is stricken out and "umpire" inserted.

Article 7 in the original treaty read as follows:

Objections to the jurisdiction of an arbitral tribunal constituted under this treaty shall not be taken, except as pro-vided in this article. If before the close of the hearing upon a claim submitted to an arbitral tribunal constituted under article 3 or article 5, either of the high contracting parties shall move such tri-bunal to decide, and thereupon it shall decide that the determination of such claim necessarily involves the decision of a disputed question of principle of gravgeneral importance affecting the national rights of such party as distinguished fro the private rights whereof it is merel the international representative, the juri diction of such arbitral tribunal ove such claim shall cease and the same shall be dealt with by arbitration under arti

I Article 7 as amended by the committee is as follows:

Objections to the jurisdiction of an arbitral tribunal constituted under this treaty shall not be taken, except as provided in this article. If at any time be-fore the close of the hearing upon any matter, except territorial claims, mitted to an arbitral tribunal constitute under this treaty, either of the high cor tracting parties shall declare that the determination of such matter necessarily involves the decision of a disputed ques-tion which is excluded from arbitration except by special agreement by the opera tion of article I, then the jurisdiction of such arbitral tribunal over such matte

The committee struck out entirely and without inserting anything in its place article 10, which provided that King Oscar of Sweden should have the naming of the umpire in case of dispute.

DIED DEFENDING HER HONOR. More Details of Ella Clark's Death Near

Apollo-Shelhammer Dead. APOLLO, Pa., Feb. 3.-Jasper Shelhammer, the murderer of Miss Ella Clark, has died at his home without recovering consciousness from the wound he inflicted on himself. A poker was found in the girl's right

The young woman had had trouble with young Shelhammer on the preceding Thursday, when he visited her, because she would not "promise him something." He threatened to kill himself, flourishing a revolver at the same time. She coaxed the weapon away from him, and kept her parents ignorant of the affair. Saturday she returned the revolver to his mother. saving: "Jasper threatened to kill himself if I do not promise him something. The young man again obtained the revolver from his mother and used it in the murder and suicide. Some time before this Shelhammer got into trouble for assaulting a little girl on her way home from school. Miss Clark's character was above reproach. The fact that braises were found on his body that had doubtless been made by the poker wielded by Miss Clark, and that he had threatened to accomplish her downfall, indicated that Miss Clark yielded her young life in defense of her honor.

Miss Clark was a member of the Boiling Springs Lutheran church and an active Sunday school worker.

A SUCCESSOR TO ROBERTS.

Frank Thomson Likely to Be Promoted to the Place Today.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.-The vacancy in the management of the Pennsylvania railroad, caused by the death of President George B. Roberts, will be filled today at a special meeting of the board of directors of the company. It is understood that Vice President Frank Thomson will be given the unanimous vote of the board.

Whether the promotions that will follow the election of Mr. Thomson will be made at the meeting has not been definitely settled, but if they are, Secand Vice President John P. Green is expected to become first vice president, Third Vice President Charles E. Pugh second vice president and General Manager S. M. Prevost, third vice president. It is believed that General Master of Transportation Hutchinson will be promoted to the office of general manager. President Roberts was also chairman of what is known as the executive committee of the board of directors. which was one of the most important and responsible subdivisions of the management. To enable the new president to apply himself more closely to the operation and development of the system, it is reparded by some of the directors as advisable that he should be relieved of the daties of chairman of this committee, and if this opinion prevails, A. J. Cassatt will be tendered

The Venezuelan Treaty Signed at Washington.

ONE MORE ACT YET TO FOLLOW.

The Document Must Now Be Ratified by the Venezuelan Congress-Pauncefote and Andrade Affixed Their Signatures. Contents of the Document.

Washington, Feb. 3.—As the representatives of their respective governments, Sir Julian Pauncefots, the British ambassador, and Senor Jose Andrade, the Venezuelan minister to Washington, at the state department, have signed a treaty providing for the settlement by arbitration of the long standing dispute over the boundary between Venezuela and British Guiana. which has not only ruptured the relations between the principals and kept them apart diplomatically for years, but has threatened to involve the two great English speaking nations in hos-

The treaty was really complete several days ago so far as all of the details were concerned, except the insertion of one name, and there a blank was left to fill in with the name of a British jurist. Some difficulty had been experienced in finding the second member of the British supreme tribunal who was willing to assume the arduous task of arbitrator and also could be spared from the bench. Such a person has been found in Justice Collins and his apcointment has been ratified by the British privy council, a necessary for-mality. So all was ready for the signature of the treaty. Sir Julian came to the state department in company with his attache, Henry Outram Bax-Ironside. Senor Andrade followed in a short time with Mr. Storrow, and the parties were shown at once into Secretary Olney's private office, where the secretary was awaiting them. A few minutes' delay occurred before Senor Ponte, the at tache of the Venezuelan legation, came in, and then the party proceeded at once to the business of the day. Mr. Cridler and Mr. Bax-Iron-ide made a careful comparison of the two copies. and then Sir Julian signed both of them. Ser 'r Andrade placed his name after Sir Julian and Mr. Cridler affixed the seals, with the aid of Mr. Blankford, private secretary to Secretary Olney, and the treaty was an ac complished fact, save the single act of ratification by the Venezuelan congress.

The signatures, were written with a special pen, a beautiful gold holder and nib, tipped with an eagle feather and ornamented with a gold heart studded with diamonds. This was sent from Venezuela for the purpose and will be the property of Senor Andrade, brother of the minister.

The treaty provides that the tribunal shall consist of five jurists; two on the part of Great Britain, nominated by the members of the judicial committee of her majesty's privy council, namely, the Right Hon. BIMETALLIST CHANDLER.

The New Hampshire Man Introduces a

Resolution In the Senate. Washington, Feb. 3.-Mr. Chandler has introduced a monetary resolution in the senate. He said he would call up the resolution in a day or so for the purpose of making a few remarks in striking contrast to those recently made by the gold monometallist from Wisconsin (Vilas) and the silver monometallist from South Dakota (Pettigrew), who had joined hands in voting against the bill for an international monetary conference. The resolution is as follows: That it is the sense of the senate that the United States should not permanently acquiesce in the single gold standard, and that the efforts of the government in all its branches should be steadily directed to secure and maintain the use of silver as well as gold as the standard of money with the free coinage of both, under a system of bimetallism to be established through international agreement with such safeguards of legislation as will in-sure the parity of value of the two metals at a fixed ratio; furnish a sufficient volume of metallic money and give immunity to the world of trade from violent fluctuations of exchange. tions as to Cost of Manufacture. Washington, Feb. 3.-The senate committee on naval affairs has listened to supplementary statements from President Linderman from the Bethlehem ironworks and Superintendent Schwab of the Carnegie works on the cost of the production of armor plate. They contended that the price which they had received in the past for armor could not afford to produce it for less than $450 per ton. They complained that Secretary Herbert's report did them an injustice, taking especial exception to his estimate of the cost of labor, which they declared to be 40 per

The Blood; Record of Butler, Caught at San Francisco SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3 .- The Australian murderer, Butler, who has been caught on the bark Swanhilda, has a bloody record.

The police and detectives had watched for the vessel three weeks. Butler is credited by the Australian police with having murdered 14 men. His plan was to entice men whom he knew to have money into the interior under the pretense of examining mining claims and then murdering them. His last victim was Captain Leo Weller, a retired sea captain. Butler took his money and clothes and shipped on the Swanhilda under the name of Weller. The Australian detectives have identi-

Butler says a man is inrocent until he is proven guilty. He affects to be rather amused than otherwise at his predicament. He is below medium height and is decidedly insignificant in appearance. RENEWER. after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed. It causes new growth of hair on baid heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seidom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clear of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and trous, and causes it to grow long and HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the healthful influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, and is a delightful article for tollet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle. as do other preparations. Buckingham's Dye WHISKERS Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmiess; produces a permanent natural color; and, being a single preparation, is more con-venient of application than any other. PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N. M.
