EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.,

FRIDAY, - - - - FEBRUARY 26, 1897.

THE Kansas senate, by resolution, has expressed its opposition to the ratification of the Anglo-American arbitration treaty.

A BILL that passed the senate a few days ago proposes a novel experiment in the postal card system. Its purpose is to allow the circulation, by mail, of the postal cards and envelopes, with coupons attached, patented and owned by a West Virginia corporation, at regular postal card and letter rates, "paid on presentation of the coupons from the said cards and envelopes when detached at the office of delivery." The post-master-general is to test the practical operation of the plan in one or more cities and to suspend its operation if the test proves unfavorable. It is to facilitate and extend the money order system.

THE special train which will convey President-elect McKinley and his guests from Canton to Washington will be known as the "Pennsylvania Railroad Venetian Red," all the cars composing the special being finished in that tint within and without.

The train will consist of one baggage car, one diner, two Pullman sleepers, the Ardon and Delphos, for the accommodation of the inaugural committee and representatives of the press, and two special cars which will be occupied by Major McKinley, his family and personal friends.

The train will leave Canton on Monday, March 1st, at 8 P. M., and arrive in Washington at 11 A. M. March 2nd.

AMONG the plans formulated to secure money to meet the expense of a new capitol is a bill introduced by Representative Bliss, of Delaware county, which provides for these additional taxes: One mill on each dollar of personal property, except public loans; one mill on each dollar of the actual value of capital stock; one mill upon each dollar of all the gross receipts; two per cent. on the gross premiums of forign insurance companies and those of other states; one mill on par or actual value of the shares of all banks, savings institutions and national banks; one per cent. on all such annual net earnings or incomes as are mentioned in act of 1889; one dollar on every hundred of collateral inheritance. Mr. Bliss estimated an increase of $2,391,271 in the revenue under his bill.

WHILE the Eastern cotton mills have not been as busy as they would like to be, the Southern mills are running on full time, and all that are properly managed are earning dividends. Governor Bullock, of Georgia, a large manufacturers says: "There is no reason whatever for the southern mills to make a reduction. It is a finer grade of cotton goods with which the market seems to be overstocked, and these grades are made in the East, and not in the South. Down here we manufacture the coarser materials, and we can sell all we can make." The result will be that Eastern capital will flow Southward, and that the industrial fabric of that section of the country will build itself up along natural lines without relying upon the federal government to help it along to prosperity.

A CASE involving the construction of the fence law was before Judge Savidge, of Northumberland county, last week, Lydia Erdman brought suit against her neighbor, Emanuel Gottshall, for damages done to her corn by the latter's cattle. The decision of the court is of interest to every farmer. He charged that the law formerly required a man to fence against his neighbors' cattle; but that now under the statute every man must fence against his own cattle, and that he must do at all hazards, no matter if it take a fence 10 feet high. If one's own cattle get out and do damage to his neighbor the owner of the cattle is liable for the damage done; unless it can be shown the cattle were let out by a trespasser, in which case the party damaged would proceed against such wrong doer.

IN 1890, in order to reduce redundant revenue, prohibtive protective duties were laid upon many articles of import and a cut of $55,000,000 was effected by putting sugar on the free list. In 1897, in order to make good deficient revenue, there is to be no lowering of needless protective rates, but the sugar tax is to be restored and wool is to be retaxed. Sugar is thus made the convenient cover for protective plunder whether it be necessary to increase or to decrease revenue. A light tax on sugar would have provided revenue to cover the existing deficit without disturbing any other items of the tariff schedules or embarassing the business of the country; but a programme of that kind did not suit the trusts. They are hungry for larger opportunity to prey upon consumers: and they will not be denied.

A LUDICROUS betrayel of the office-mongering mania of the Repuplican party is found in a bill which has passed the house and is now pending in the senate. The bill, which had its origin in Pennsylvania, provides for twelve commissioners and for four attorneys to "investigate" in any part of the United States such grievances as the people may present to them. The annual salary of the commissioners and their attorneys is to be $5,000. Since this commission could do nothing for the redress of grievances would not seven, or five. or even three commissioners with one attorney suffice? The answer to this question might be easy enough but for the consideration that several walking delegates of labor organizations, besides a number of other politicians have an oblique eye upon the snug sinecures for which the bill provides.

AT a meeting of Chester county grangers, last week, says the Westmoreland Democrat, they adopted resolutions urging the general assembly to inaugurate rigid economy and reduce the salaries of all state officials at least 25 per cent. While the suggestion is a good one, it is likely to fall on deaf ears. The present general assembly does only what Boss Quay tells it to do, just as the last legislature did. It will be remembered that the general assembly of 1895, instead of reducing the already large salaries of state officials, increased those of a number and created 55 distinctively new offices at an annual cost to the taxpayers of the commonwealth of $130,000. There was no pressing need for many of these new offices, except to reward certain of Quay's factional henchmen.

With extravagance such as the above, together with rugs in some of the departments at Harrisburg costing $1,000 apiece, desks costing $600 each and chairs costing $400 each, and in many other supplies in proportion, it is not surprising that the state treasurer reports a probable deficit at the end of the next fiscal year, November 30, of near-$4,000,000 in state finances. Not only the Chester county farmers but the farmers of every other county in the commonwealth should demand a return to a basis of propor economy on the part of the legislature and state government. The adoption of resolutions urging retrenchment and a reduction of excessive salaries is a line of action that is very good in its way. To give the demands embodied in the resolutions force and effect, however, they should be followed by votes at the ballot-box in the same direction.

THERE need be no surprise among the people because the appropriations of the present congress excess those of the famous billion dollar congress. It is true the people's representatives were carefully and frequently informed that there must be economy in expenditure, a saving wherever saving was possible, so that the financial troubles of the country should not be made greater than they are. But what do the people know about the great games of politics, like game of "pigs in clover," circulating about Washington and having their center in Washington? The people never get in it. The gentlemen who gave their money to assure the election of McKinley knew that if congress were economical there could be no increase of tariff taxation, while on the other hand if congress should spend an enormous sum of money the national revenue would be made to appear appallingly insufficient and the imposition of higher duties take on the guise of a great necessity. They have won the game.

CHARLES N. CREWSON, of the University of Chicago, who was prominently connected with the Bryan league of college league clubs during tthe late campaign, has received a letter from Chairman James K. Jones, of the Democratic national cammittee, urging upon him the importance of reorganizing the clubs and starting at once a "campaign of education" in the interest of free silver for the presidential election of 1900.

Senator Jones further stated that he had written similar letters to educational institutions in various parts of the country. He said it was the intention to make Harvard college the head of the reorganization and work in the east, the University of California on the Pacific coast, Nebraska university in the west, and Chicago university and the University of Virginia in the south and middle west. Last week a meeting was held at Chicago university, of members of the old college Bryan clubs, and a permanent organization formed for active work among the colleges.

AT a state convention held at Grand Rapids, Mich., on Friday, of last week of the siver Democrats, silver Republicans and Populists to select a candidate for justice of the supreme bench and a regent of the University, the middle-of-the-road Populists refused to fuse and held a convention and nominated a ticket of their own. The fusionists adopted resolutions which reaffirmed the Caicago platform, declared that free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was the paramount issue and the only solution of the present business depression; opposed the retirement of the national paper money and replacing it with notes issued by banking corporations, and declared that W. J. Bryan was the greatest living exponent of Jeffersonian principle and the true friend of the people and the logical standard bearer for Democracy is 1900.

A BAND of Spanish guerrillas commanded by Major Taso, is reported to have captured the heights of Montevari, putting over 100 prisoners to the sword. The heights were partially fortified, and a number of Cuban families were there, numbering about 100.

Taso had the aid of a deserter from the camp, and, making a night attack, surprised the place, and after three hours hard fighting captured it. About 100 insurgents escaped, but the others and many women and children were captured. Drawing the prisoners up in line the Spanish trcops shot them down in cold blood and then put to death the children, reserveng the women and girls for soldiers. The bodies were flung down the heights, completely choking up a small gorge.

FOLLOWING the custom which has prevailed for many years, President Cleveland on Wednesday issued a proclamation so as to enable the senate to continue in session after the expiration of the terms of thirty of its present members at noon on the 4th of March next, and (after the qualification of the re-elected senators) to partieipate in the inauguration of the new president of the United States and to confirm his cabinet.

Washington Letter.

Washington, February 20th, 1897.—Secretary Morton may get another reprimand from congress to file away with those he has al ready received, if it shall be proven that two women were discharged by his orders from the U. S Bureau of Animal Industry at South Omaha, Nebraska, for no other crime than exhibiting pictures of Hon. W. J Bryan in their windows during the late campaign. Senator Allen's resolution calling upon the civil service commission for a full explanation of the dismissal of those two women was this week adopted by the senate after Mr. Allen had delivered a few caustic remarks thereon, in which he said that the treatment he received from the civil service commission while in search of information about the matter was a violation of all the decencies and proprieties of official life, and idcidentally denounced the civil service commission as a fraud, a delusion and a snare. Senator Allen said he thought the discharge of these two women was aggravated by the fact that six other women in the same establishment had exhibited McKinley's pictures and were not even reprimanded for it.

Congress is just beginning to realize that some very lively hustling has got to be done to get the regular appropriation bills through on time, and many are predicting that all of them will not get through. It is quite certain that not much else will get through, and for some people are thankful.

If, as many suppose, the statement that Chauncy M. Depew will be appointed Ambassador to England, which has come from those close to Mr. McKinley, was put out as a feeler to ascertain how the senate would regard the payment of the debts of the last campaign to the millionaire element by giving them honorable positions, it has served its purpose, even if the result isn't altogether satisfactory to either McKinley, Hanna, or the millionaire contributors to Hanna's election fund. Senators have made it plain that they would make a fight on the nomination of Mr. Depew, or any other man, whose relations to the Vanderbilts, Pierrepont Morgan and other corporation controllers make it apparent that the nomination is made in payment for campaign contributions. This opposition might not be strong enough to defeat a man whose personal friends are as numerous as those of Mr. Depew, but it will maks statements which will stir up public opinion to such an extent that Mr. McKinley will be certain to regret having made the nomination, if he does it.

Republicans would gladly let the money question drop, that is, the leaders of the party would, but it continually crops out in both house and senate, and every time it does the monetary chasm in the Republican party, which was temporarily bridged by the bimetallic plank of the St. Louis platform, is seen to widen. "Little Billee" Chandler stuck a red flag on top of that plank and shook it meaningly in McKinley's face when he made that bimetallic speech in the senate, while eastern members of the house, especially Fowler, of New Jersey, and several New Yorkers, openly repudiated that plank while opposing before the house coinage committee the bill authorizing a monetary conference.

Although the reported row between Speaker Reed and Representative Boutelle, of Me., has been repeately denied by others, neither of the principals have said a word. They do not speak to each other when they pass, and members of the house are wondering how Boutelle will fare when Reed makes up the committees of the next house. He is now chairman of the naval committee.

It is stated that senator Frye has abandoned his right to succeed Senator Sherman as chairman of the committee of foreign relations and that the place will go to Senator Davis, of Minn., who is now third member of the committee, if the Republicans are allowed to fill the committee vacancies that will exist after March 3. There is some interesting gossip in connection with Senator Frye. As second member of the committee he is entitled by all the precedents of the senate to the chairmanship, but he is said to have abandoned his claim because he was told that a fight would be in caucus to keep him out of it on account of his Cuban sentiments The friends of Cuba will be glad to see Senator Davis at the head of the committee; they have not forgotten the red hot speech for free Cuba he made early in the present session.

The receipts of the postoffices of the country are regarded as an indisputable barometer of the condition of business A statement given out this week by Postmaster General Wilson shows the gross receipts of 30 of the postoffices in the largest cities for January 1896 and January 1897. Twenty of the offices show a decrease, the greatest in years. Another proof of the delay in the arrival of promised prosperity, and another proof that those who declared business began to improve the day after the election were mistaken. M.

Cameron May go to Russia.

Washington. February 21.—It is reported here, and apparently on good authority, that Senator Cameron can have the Russian mission if he wants it. It is also understood that he regards the matter very favorably. He succeed his father the late Simon Cameron, in the senate, and has served 20 years, the length of the elder Cameron's three terms. Simon Cameron was secretary of war in Lincoln's first cabinet and his son held the same position during the last of President Grant's second term. When Simon Cameron left Lincoln's cabinet he was made minister to Russia, and it is said that his son is not unfavorable to the idea of accepting this position now, which would perfect the line of succession from father to son. If, however, he should not accept, it is said that the place will be tendered to C C. Harrison, of Philadelphia, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. The Russian mission is regarded as being conceded to Pennsylvania if a suitable person will accept. Contrary to general opinion, it is now said that Senator Cameron does not intend to retire from active participation in Pennsylvania politics. He will remain in politics and proposes to be a factor in political affairs.

County Infirmary Burned.

Youngstown, O., February 22.—The Mahoning County infirmary, located near Canfield, 10 miles west of here, is a heap of smouldening ruing, being destroyed by fire which was discovered before midnight in one of the shafts near the men's sitting room.

One patient, William A. Hartzell, an insane man, broke away from his attendants, rushed into the burning building, iand was cremated. Supt Dickson through whose cooiness large loss of life was averted, issued orders to the employes and to such of the paupers as could give assistance, to remove the insane, and helpless patients to the large barns and outbuildings on the farm. The orders were carried out promptly, the removal being accomplished so speedily that a panic among the inmates was averted. The loss is $50,000.

A Question of Courtesy.

Washington, February 19.—The navy department has received a telegraphic application from Mayor Carlson, of San Diego, for permission for the British cruiser Comus, now at that port, to land its forces to take part in the great land parade on Washington's birthday. Admiral Beardilee, with the flagship Philadelphia, the coast defense vessels Monterey and Monadnock and the cruiser Marion are also at San Diego, and several hundred men trom his fleet will take part in the demonstration. It was deemed a graceful compliment on the part of the British commander to offer his men on such a patriotic occasion, but as the authority to act upon the matter seems to rest with the state department the request has been referred to Secretary Olney. The usual procedure would be for the British embassador to request permission for the crew of the Comus to land with arms, and, ordinarily, such a request would be referred to the governor of the state for his approval before the president authorized the landing,

It does not seem, however, that there is anything to prevent the governor of California granting the desired permission without recourse to the national government, although a precedent might be established by such action which might be embarrassing in the future. Foreign troops were landed at New York during the Christopher Columbus naval review, but to this function foreign navies had been officially invited. It is the custom when commanders of American warships desire to land men for drills on foreign shores to apply to the local authorities, who, in turn procure the necessary permit from the central authority.

Buried Under Snow Slides.

Denver, February 21.—Snow slides have wrought much damage, and at least two lives were lost in the past 24 hours. Mail Carrier J. E Bell was caught in a slide under about 25 feet of snow. Rescuing parties took off 15 feet directly over him, and then gave him up for dead. He lay unconscious until 8 o'clock this morning. When his senses returned he heard water trickling. This water had brought him air and saved his life. He dug to the stream and then to the surface. Then he walked three miles to the nearest house and fell unconscious as soon aa he realized he was saved. James Petty was carried over a precipice with a pack train yesterday, most of the burros being killed and himself only slightly injured.

A snow slide caught the cabin of the Cleopatra mine, Hoskin, killing Martin Meliny and injuring his three partners, His relatives live in Pennsylvania. At Ophir, Col., a slide demolished the railroad station and 12 freight cars The station agent and his wife were in the building at the time. The timbers fell in such shape that the man was but slightly injured and his wife did not receive a single bruise. About as rapidly as the roads have been opened they have been blocked by more slides.

Eight Horribly Burned.

Cleveland, February 19.—The family of Jacob Ciclez, of No. 663 Canal street, was almost completely wiped out of existence this morning by a holocaust of flame. Eight persons were burned and five will probably die. Jacob and Mary Ciclez, husband and wife, were fatally burned, and their four children, who are under six years of age, received severe burns. Albert Jerno and Joseph Jerga, boarders, were also badly burned.

Ciclez arose about 5 o'clock to light a fire, and mistook the gasoline lamp for the kerosene lamp. The result was a terrific explosion when he applied the match.

The greatest difficulty was experienced in getting the family out of bed and into the yard. All of them are now at the General Hospital.

The father and mother and three of the chidren are dying.

Leaped From Flaming House.

Bradford, Pa., February 21.—The building on east Main street occupied by John Vellaly as a grocery and dwelling house caught fire this morning and several persons had narrow escapes from burning to death. Vellali lived on the first floor and was awakened by smoke. He seized his younger sister and dropped her out of a window, and with another sister succeed in escaping from the building.

James Dominick and his wife occupied the second story. Dominick smashed in a window and dropped his wife and baby to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. Mrs. Dominick was quite seriously injured. Dominick followed his wife and was also injured. Sarah Frank, a lodger, also escaped from a second story window and received painful injuries. The loss was about $5,000.

Will Appoint Hanna.

Columbus, O., February 21.—Governor Bushnell furnished the following statement to the United Associated Press this evening:

"It had been my intention to make no announcement in relation to the action I would take in the matter of an appointment to fill the prospective vacancy in the Ohio representation in the United States senate until the vacancy actually existed; but on account of the manifest interest of the people and their desire to know what will be done, I deem it best now to make the following statement:

"When Senater Sherman resigns to enter the cabinet of President McKinley, I will appoint to succeed him Hon. Marcus A. Hanna, of Cuyohoga county, to serve until his successor is chosen by the Seventy-third general assembly of the state, I trust this action will meet with the approval of the people.

THE POWERS TO GREECE

Asked to Withdraw From Crete In 24 Hours.

AN ARMISTICE IS ARRANGED.

The Christians and Mussulmans Agree to Quit Fighting For a Week—A Great Massacre of Mussulmans Nevertheless Is Feared—Foreign Marines Wanted.

VIENNA, Feb. 24.—A dispatch to The Neue Freie Presse from Athens says that the great powers have requested Greece to withdraw her forces from the island of Crete within 24 hours.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. George M. Curzon, has read dispatches in the house of commons from the British consul at Greece confirming the announcement made that an armistice of one week had been arranged between the Mussulmans and Christians at Selinos, island of Crete, at the instance of the British, Italian and Russians consuls.

Mr. Curzon added that the consul has done his best to calm the Christians, intimating to them that the solution of the Cretan troubles depended on the great powers. Though it appears he made a great impression the dispatches of the consul further stated the armistice would not suffice to save the 2,000 Mussulmans at Candamos and the 10,000 at Spaniaco and Selinos from certain death should a Greek war vessel appear there.

From an interview waich the consul had with the insurgent chiefs the government gathered that the Christian outbreak at Selinos was due entirely to the belief that the Christians had been massacred at Canea and to the encouragement received from the presence of Greek warships and soldiers.

Both Christians and Mussulmans, according to the consul, declared that order would be restored if 300 foreign troops were landed.

Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Conservative, asked if the government would send the 300 troops referred to,

To this Mr. Curzon replied that he could not say whether the government would or would not.

THE SILVER REPUBLICANS.

An Address Signed on Washington's Birthday Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The silver Republicans in the senate and house on Washington's birthday signed an address to the people which has been made public, calling a meeting of a "provisional national committee of the Silver Republican party" to meet in Chicago, Tuesday, June 8, 1897, for the purpose of calling a national convention of all silver Republicans and those who will co-operate them in political action "until the great monetary issue is settled and settled right."

Each state and territory is asked to designate a member of the provisional national committee to represent it in all matters preliminary to the calling of the national convention. Charles A. Towne of Minnesota is named chairman of the committee, until a further organization is effected.

The address declares that the Republican party has abandoned the principles on which it was founded, and that the silver Republicans cannot follow "that party into a shameless abandonment of American interests and the tyranny of an alien money system." It is announced that the address is issued in response to numerous inquiries requesting information regarding party policy.

It is signed by Senators Teller, Dubois, Cannon, Pettigrew, Mantle, Jones and Representatives Towne, Hartman, Shafroth, Allen of Utah and Edgar Wilson of Idaho.

TROOPS NEEDED IN ALASKA.

Gage's Son Gone to Washington to Request Them.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Eli J. Gage, son of Lyman J. Gage, and an employe of the North American Transportation and Trading company, who has just returned from the Alaskan gold fields, is on his way to Washington with dispatches from the company, setting forth the urgent needs of the district and asking that troops be stationed throughout the newer districts to protect life and property from the thousands of desperate characters, who are said to be swarming over the wild regions in search of gold.

P. B. Weare, resident vice president of the company, will follow up the work of Mr. Gage by going to Washington as soon as President McKinley is inaugurated and will urge the new administration to send troops to the American possessions in Alaska without delay.

Woodmansee Asks Him to Receive Republican Clubs' Members.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Hon. D. D. Very important, and, in my judgment, highly proper."

This reply was received from Major McKinley: "I shall try to have such an arrangement brought about."

If you fall ill you have a Doctor to tell you what to take.

It is their Experience and Skill You Pay For.

Then why make an exception in the purchase of your Drugs? If you have a receipe or a prescription to fill, Spices, Flavoring Extracts, Dyes, Paints, Medicines, or anything to purchase that a store devoted to Drugs may keep, don't fail to confound quality with quantity and get an inferior article.

WE HAVE THE BEST.
