In Pennsylvania the League of American Wheelmen has taken up the subject and has given official endorsement to the McQuown bill, otherwise known as the Hamilton Good Roads bill, which provides for the maintenance and repair of roads by township supervisors, under the auspices of the Secretary of Agriculture. The association considers this bill well calculated to secure the object aimed at, and as this is the opinion of men who have studied it from a practical standpoint, instead of a political one, it is entitled to much weight.
