HUMANITY is the one power that is strong enough to fuse all the discordant elements which go to make up Congress into solidity in an effort to relieve suffering. The joint resolution appropriating $200,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the floods in the Mississippi river and its tributaries and in the Red river of the North which became a law last week, received the unanimous vote of Congress.

THE framers of the Dingley bill are much interested in a semi-official report from the City of Mexico to the effect that a retaliatory tariff bill is to be introduced in the Mexican congress this cattle provided by the Dingly bill, the Mexicans will place a prohibitive duty on American hogs and packing house products, which comprise one of our most important articles of export to Mexico.

Notices have been posted in all the rolling mills at Coshohocken, announcing a reduction in the wages of the puddlers to $2 75 a ton, to go into effect April 18th. The present rate paid puddlers is $3 25 a ton. A meeting of puddlers has been called for Saturday night to consider the question of accepting the new schedule or striking against it. The wages of all the other employees are reduced to the schedule in operation before the advance of 1895. This is not the promised prosperity that McKinley is to bring, but it is the kind the pe ple are getting.

THE administration and King Hanna are especially sore over the unmistakable rebuke given them by the result of the Ohio elections. They try to make light of the matter by saying that only local issues were involved, but they knew better, and every body else knows better; knows that the administration expected and worked for Republican success, which it would have considered an endorsement. Senator Jones, Chairman of the Democratic National committee, says: "While I am not at all disposed to attach too much importance to purely local elections, I do believe that the result in Ohio is largely due to the dissatisfaction with the National and State government of the Republican party. There is no doubt in my mind, either that the cause of bimetallism has made tremendous strides since last Nevember, and I believe that more has been accemplished for our cause by the very logic of events than was done by all the campaign methods."

Ex-Senator Hill, of New York, warns the Democracy against overconfidence and undue exultation over recent Democratic victories. We don't think the warning at all needed. No one is so foolish as to regard the elections as decisive of anything in the tuture. They merely show, says the Pittsburg Post, a certain drift which may or may not develop into the proportions of a tidal wave at the congressional elections

Politics is becoming a much more uncertain quantity than formerly, for the reason, we suppose, that there has of late been a great weakening in party lines and attachments. The Democrats in 1892, and the Republicans in 1896, achieved great victories, and pre diction followed that the opposition was dead for a long time. This was shown to be groundless as to 1892 and the Democrats, and it will be equally so as to 1896 and the Republicans. In both instances the victorious parties were recruited immensly by all the odds and ends of politics. Their strength was unduly swollen by the immense multitudes always in opposition but with no fixed party attachment. This element as soon as it votes a party in straightway proceeds to vote it out. No administration can fulfill a tithe of the pledges made for it on the stump and in vote-getting platforms. How is it now with the Republicans and prosperity and the advance agent? Since 1872 no president has been re-elected for an immediate second term. Hayes and Arthur were refused nominations. Since Jackson's time the only presidents that have been re-elected in 65 years have been Lincoln, Grant and Cleveland, and they were exceptional men of exceptional parts. It is questionable if a president will be re-elected in the future, unless the pressure of events and mark- for government vessels to $300 per ton. to atoms. As a rule, revas the Philadelphia Record, legislative committees of investigation do not investigate where any serious abuses are to be uncovered; but the committee to inquire into the condition of the miners of bituminous coa! in Western Pennsylvania has proved an exception. From the investigations of bequeathed $300,000 by a deceased the committee it is seen that the company store abuse is practiced in the bituminous coal mines around Pittsburg with a rapacity and contempt for the rights of the workingmen seldom observed elsewhere in the State. Industrial employers of labor, no matter how harsh, would be asbamed to treat workingmen with the iniquity practiced upon them by some mining corporations. There is less excuse for this company store abuse in and around Pittsburg, where stores of every description supply consumers at the lowest rates.

It appears from the testimony of witnesses before the committee that every species of wrong known to the company store systen is practiced by these privileged corporations. Forehanded workingmen who demand payment of their wages in cash set an example that is most injurious to the truck system, and a pretext is soon found for discharging them. The prices of all commodities are higher at the company stores than elsewhere, as without the opportunity for extortion upon helpless miners there would be no inducement for maintaining these concerns. In order the more successfully to practice the system, more miners are employed than are needed; and this brings more customers to be plucked at the corporation store. Thus what with short work and the plundering store system the miners of Western Pennspylvania eke out an extremely precarious existence. worthy of obse vat on that the loudest week. The Courts, in their jealous guardianship of the right of private contract, have overturned all effective legislation on the subject. Yet in this case the only right of contract on the one side is the privilege of being plundered. The company store system is as contrary to public policy as are contracts to pay gambling debts or liquor bills; but the Courts that have refused to enforce all such contracts have found no difficulty in maintaining the implied contracts under an iniquitous device for robbing workingmen. and Courts of England put the brand on the store system of paying wages in away. truck as hostile to humane and en lightened public policy.

There is no question that the coal companies which have been under legislative investigation in Western Pennsylvania and other corporations that are guilty of like practice have violated the spirit of their charters. But if these charters should be forfeited nothing would be easier than for the managers of these corporations to go to Harrisburg and for a hundred dollar fee take out other charters under new names. Hence the mere forfeiture of the charter of a mining corporation for exceeding its privileges would do little toward mitigating the profitable company store But while all mining corporations which evade the laws by seiling goods should be prosecuted to the forfeiture of the charters, the Legislature should pass a declaratory statute putting the company store system for robbing honest labor of its wages under the same ban with contracts to pay gambling debts, election bets and liquor bills as equally hostile to sound public policy. It would then be seen whether the Courts, while refusing to enforce a contract to pay a poker debt or a whisky bill, would be so inconsistent as to main. tain compulsory obligations of poor miners to receive their wages in the truck of corporations as an alternative to total loss of employment and starveation. Let the priveleges of mining corporations to cheat labor out of a part of its wages be brought to the test again and again in the Legislature and in the Courts antil the decision shall be finally made on the side of justice and human-

In an exhaustive discussion of the principles of taxation by Mr. David A. Wells, now running in The Popular Science Monthly, the principle is asserted and supported with a wealth of political authority and legal decisions that the rightful object of taxation is the support of government and its limit the actual needs of government.

It is upon this sound principle that the Democrats of the house founded their protest aganst the Dingley tariff They show that the Republican tariff bill violates the principle in both ways. It levies taxes for the benefit of private enterprise and levies far more than the support of the government requires. In effect, it collects a bounty for distribution to favored individuals, and in order that this may be done proposes taxes from $50,000,000 to $75, 000,000 in excess of the government's needs. The Republicans propose a double robbery of the people.

It has been generally conceded that Senator Wolcott would be made a mem ber of the commission. He has been an active leader in the movement for a monetary agreement and widely known as an advocate of the silver cause.

Ex-Vice President Stevenson, Democratic member of the commission is generally known as an advocate of erratic stream to resume the channel bimetallism, and a staunch supporter of Bryan and Chicago platform. He and Senator Wolcott, however, are said to be in accord on the financial question.

General Charles J. Payne, who may be termed the minority member, is a Republican and was a McKinley man. He is one of the most prominent business men of Massachusetts, and is said to be a deep student of the financial question. The trouble appears to have been principally through the refusal of the British authorities to renew last year the regulations requiring British vessels going lones yesterday received a letter from into the seal waters to place their firearms under seal.

Miss Dickinson tets a Small Verdict.

Scranton, Pa., April 10-The closing arguments of counsel in the Ann Dicknson case were made yesterday and Judge Acheson charged the jury. His instructions were not binding, but they might just as well have been, as they clearly suggested a verdict for the defense. He said: "Personally, I believe the the forcible entry into Miss Dickinson's room was justifiable, though I don't ask you to accept my view of the matter. The action of the several defendants in assisting to take Miss Dickinson to the asylum seems to have been none other than neighborly assistance." The jury retired at 5:30 o'clock, and at 12:35 reported a verdict of 61 cents in favor of Miss Dickinson.
