FRIDAY, - - - - - JULY 23, 186. THE Hawaiian annexation treaty ha been advanced another step. Its progrees seems slow but certain.

The Republican leaders last March in introduced a tariff bill which was b their liking, announced that it would be passed by the first tof April. It was amended S47 times, and passed the senare only on Thursdry by a vote of 28 to

STATE TREASURER HAYWOOD SAYS there will be a deficit of $3,500,000 by November 1, whether or not the governor signs all the revenue measures passed by the late extravagant and corrupt legislature, and the courts declare them unconstitutional. None of these bills will go into effect this year, and under the circumstances Mr. Haywood thinks he school appropriation.

BIMETALISM has won victories already this year in many municipal elections It will sweep Ohio, Iowa and Nebraska in the fall. In the congressional elections next year it will capture two-thirds of the representation in the house. It will secure a majority in the senate. In 1900 bimetalitm will sweep the country. The supporters of the gold standard will then experience the sensations of those unfortunates who did not take passage in the ark during the deluge.

The excitement over the Klendyke mines is on the increase and hundreds of per pie are preparing to sail for Alasica. The steamer Portland, which brought down over $7,000,000 in gold on her trip, will be crowded to her ut most capacity. Conservative men who have been in the country claim there is room for hundreds more in Alaska. They admit that all of the fields in the vicinity of Klendyke have been taken, but every river in Alaska is, in their judgment filled with gold.

A Harrisburg dispatch on Wednesday says: There are numerous people on the ragged edge in this state who will remain there for the next few days. They are people who have been asked by the governor to explain why they should have certain sums set apart for them in the bills making appropriations to investigating committees. It is indeed a great victory, worthy of the poweress of this great statesman. The sugar schedule as it left the house gave the sugar trust only what it wanted. The senate, when it took the measure, found in it great opportunity for speculation and immediately began to manipulate the house figures for private profit. The profit was secured, and as a matter of course the imposts provided by the senate before final passage of the bill could not be departed from on final passage. The bill passed the senate containing the speculative tariff figures.

The senate conferees complained that Reed prevented the house conferees from agreeing to the senate imposts. If the senate had been honest in its tariff making it would have adhered to its amendments and thrown the onus of delay of agreement upon Reed. Instead, they abandoned their amendments after only a short delay. This creates the impression that the house is jealous of the rights of the people, will not permit them to be robbed and, by the patriotism of the house and the accommoda tion of the senate the sugar trust is deprived of everything except the smallest

It looks like a well understood and a well played game. The sugar trust will get as much protection as it wants, and the stern virtue of Tom Reed in defeating the senate amendments calculates upon hiding the iniquities of the bouse sugar schedule. But they are there It is a great victory for Reed, indeed:

But tariff plunderers and their agents mind that "the forgotten man" is not dead or helpless simply because he is forgotten. He has been extremely patient under the burdens heaped upon him for the benefit of others, but there is a limit to his patience. He was very patient in France during the first twothirds of the eighteenth century When at last he decided that patience had ceased to be a virtue, the throne crumbled, the "nobles" were sent into exile, church property was "sequestered" for the benefit of the community and the gutters around the Palace de la Concorde ran with blood. "The forgot ten man'' had asserted himself.

In all ages the man who is so apt ito be forgotten when taxes are being im osed is a very dangerous man when he concludes that the time has come to force himself into recognition by the Warning to Gold Seekers.

San Francisco, July 19,-Joseph Ladue, the owner of the town site of Dawand enemy of trusts and corporations son City, Alaska, the nearest town to and purchasers of legislation has won a the K endyke region, started yesterday for his home in Plattsburg, N Y. Besides owning the town site of Dawson City, where land is already selling for as forced the senate to accept the house $5,000 a lot, Mr Ludue brought with him enough gold dust to keep bim in comfort for some time to come. Mr. Ladue stated to a reporter that there was no doubt of the richness of the gold diggings in the Klendyke region. He thinks there is enough gold in the ground to keep all the miners who can work busy for the next 20 years. Mr. Ladue, however, issues a timely warning to the thousands who are preparing to rush to the gold fields this year. He

'There are at present about 3,500 people in the country, and that number is about all that can be accommodated this winter. Provisions are high, as it costs 10 to 15 cents a pound to land goods at Dawson City, and it is impossible to get more provisions in this year than will supply the present population. If miners rush up there this summer, unless they take with them their own supplies, they will suffer great hardships I ad vise everyone going to take supplies sufficient to last at least 18 months. The fare to Dawson City from San Francisco is $150, and it will cost at least $500 to transport supplies for one man. The steamer Excelsior will leave here for Alaska on July 28 and already all her passenger accommodations are engaged. This will be her last trip this year. The Excelsior goes to St. Michaels, at the mouth of the Yukon, and passengers and freight are transferred to a river steamer and carried 2,000 miles to Dawson City. Overland the route is about 500 miles from Janeau." Mr. Ladue advises people to wait until next spring before going up.

Naval Cadet Dismissed.

Washington, July 19 -Naval Cadet George S. Harris of Georgia is to be dismissed from the navy. He entered the Naval Academy last May with the new fourth class, and on the night of July 4 set off a big cannon cracker on the berth deck of the Santee while the rest of the class slept. The whole crowd was ordered on deck by the officer in charge and made to toe a seam for two hours. but this sweating process failed to bring forth an acknowledgment from the guilty cadet, and as a result the entire class was placed under arrest fer three lays and confined to the guardship Harris at last confessed, the other members of the class were released, and his lismissal was recommended by the superintendent of the Naval Academy The Georgia delegation worked hard to save the young man, but the sceretary was obdurate and to day issued orders directing his dismissal.

On the road they met a seemingly old man, who said he had been robbed the alleged victim produced a pack of cards and explained. Then the snarpers induced Mr. Schoonmaker to try his luck. He won $4 000 in two bets. Mr. Schoonmaker was next induced to draw $2,000 from the Paterson Savings bank to show that he was an honest man and could have paid the bet if he had lost. The money was placed in a tin box carried by "Griggs." on the way back to Singas the sharpers eft Mr. Schoonmaker, ostensibly to discuss a business proposition, and got away with the money

The whole Klendyke creek, says Gen eral Duffield, with the gold mines loca ted along it is within British territory and cannot be affected by any variation in surveying the 141st meridian. The head waters of Forty-mile creek are in Alaska, with 30 miles of the creek on the British side. All the paying gold deposits are on the American side, and unless subsequent discoveries are made in that field, any change in jurisdiction will not be important.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 18 .- John Norman, a carpenter, while crossing the central viaduct on Friday evening, heard the screams of a woman on the docks below. He looked over and saw a boy struggling in the river.

He leaped to the rail and, poising a moment, dived 101 feet through the air to the river. He struck the water cleanly and in a second came to the surface. The boy had sunk, but Norman went down again and brought him up unconscious. He struggled with his burden to the dock, where the two were dragged stored to consciousness, and in the meantime Norman walked away.

Senator Tillman never loses an opportunity to remind the country of the contempt he feels for the Democracy of ex-President Cleveland. The latest occurred during the debate which resulted in the insertion by the senate of a clause in the general deficiency appropriation bill limiting the cost of armor plate for naval vessels to $300 a ton. Senator Tillman referred to the remitting of a fine that was imposed upon the Carnegie Steel Co., by the secretary of the navy, for furnishing bad armor, by the president, when he was interrupted by Senator Allen who remarked: "And it was a Democratic president who remitted that fine." Mr. Tillman turned to the gentleman from Nebraska and said with studied politeness: "Please don't leave out 'so-called' in referring to the Democ-

The senators do not enjoy being snubbed by Mr. McKinley any more than they did being snubbed by Mr. Cleveland, as they have very plainly shown in their private talk to each other since it became known that Mr. McKinley had decided not to furnish the senate with the correspondence with Great Britain relating to the Seal fisheries, asked for in a senate resolution unanimously adopted nearly two months ago. Copies of the correspondence have been prepared, but this week it was decided not to send it to the senate, on the ground that it would be "incompatable with the public interests" to do so. As an additional reason for not complying with the respectful request of the senate, officials say it was feared that a publication of the correspondence might result in making the English mad. Probably uniqueness of this excuse is expected to make up for its lack of plain, everyday common sense. Meanwhile the administration has made public its instructoins to Ambassador Hay, which charge the government of Great Britain with
