

HOW WILL THE RADICALS PASS?

Nearly two weeks have passed since the election, and during that time we have patiently waited to see whether the radicals would display any signs of state-manship in the midst of their triumph...

Forney openly threatens the impeachment of a President whose distinguishing characteristic is a sacred regard for his oath of office, and a firm resolve to maintain and defend the Constitution of the United States.

That President Johnson will be impeached by the radicals during the coming session of Congress we do not believe. They will hesitate before they put their threats into execution.

But, while we do not believe they will dare to impeach the President, we expect to see the radical majority in Congress carve out for their party a policy which will result in nothing but a political, social and financial disaster.

What this nation most needs now is peace and a perfectly restored Union. It is sure that we shall have neither so long as the radical leaders can prevent it.

The City of Philadelphia on the 9th of October, polled nearly fifty thousand votes for the Democratic Congressional ticket, in a poll of one hundred and three thousand.

York gave Clymer 298 majority, a gain of 251 over Woodward's majority, and 113 over McClellan's.

We would rather be defeated a thousand times, battling for the Union and for constitutional liberty, than to be crowned with victory in the ranks of the radicals.

IMPEACHMENT.

Best Butler, J. K. Moorhead, and others among the more blatant radicals, threaten to impeach the President of the United States.

The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualification requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

The Senate shall be composed of members chosen by the people of the several States, not by the people of a portion of the States, but by the people of each particular State, singly taken.

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

This is perfectly clear. The Senate shall be composed of two Senators from each State—not two Senators from each of a portion of the States, but two Senators from each State of the whole Union.

The Newburyport Herald thus comments upon the proposed impeachment of President Johnson:

Now to our minds the proposition of impeachment is one so full of danger that the man who fishes it must be short-sighted or mad.

It is time this insanity ceased. If we are not all crazy, or drunk, or mad, we shall tell all men of all parties, who propose such schemes, away, degs, we'll make you.

The elections were held in Indiana, Ohio and Iowa on the same day as in Pennsylvania. The Disunionists have also carried these States, but by greatly reduced majorities.

"FREE SPEECH."

The lawless disunionists of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, stoned Gen. Frank Blair, on the 9th inst., upon his attempting to make a speech, and also stoned and stoned the hotel at which he was stopping.

Gen. Blair, it is well known, was a distinguished officer of the army during the entire rebellion; he was Sherman's right-hand man in his march from Atlanta to the sea.

There are again rumors afloat about the resignation of Secretary Stanton. The mayor of a French village was notified to take precautions against a cholera visitation.

A jumping match for $1,000 came off at Orleans, N. Y., a few days ago. A man named Bonney over twelve feet five inches, and his contestant fell three inches behind.

There were 174 deaths in Philadelphia last week, 114 of which were from cholera.

There has been some surprise expressed that the Legislature should be unable to carry this District without the aid of the army vote and the hospitals which they used so effectively in 1864.

Many of our readers who are not in the habit of paying particular attention to the figures to be found in an election return will marvel at the apparent endorsement of the Disunion ticket by the voters of Philadelphia last Thursday.

These facts show clearly that a large portion of the vote of the district was cast in favor of the Disunion ticket.

The League treasuries, all over the State, are in a sadly collapsed condition. The $154,000 remaining in the Philadelphia District, has been expended.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

The cholera has broken out to a serious extent in Chicago. Between Sunday and Monday afternoon last eighty-seven new cases occurred and twenty-one deaths.

John Van Buren died on board of the steamer Scotia, at sea. His body was brought on to New York.

A great trout, measuring four feet and a half in length, three feet around the body, and weighing seventy pounds, was caught in Lake Erie.

The glass required for the Paris Exhibition next year would cover an extent of twenty acres.

A servant girl in Chicago assaulted her mistress, and when a policeman was called in, thrashed him too.

In a card, published in the New York papers of the 11th, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton presents herself to the voting population of the Eighth Congressional District of that city as a candidate for Congress.

A Detroit man recently sold his wife for $200 to a sailor, and applied to a justice to marry him to a girl of seventeen.

There are again rumors afloat about the resignation of Secretary Stanton. The mayor of a French village was notified to take precautions against a cholera visitation.

A Western paper publishes the following notice: "Lost or strayed from the premises of such and such a firm, one black and half blooded dog."
