[From the Germantown Telegraph.] CULTIVATION OF INDIAN CORN.

As the time has nearly arrived for farmers to commence preparing the soil for the reception of corn, it may be useful to give a few hints connected with this important crop.

Experience demonstrates that the soil should be plowed to a depth of not less than six inches. When the ground is thus prepared future cultivation becomes comparatively easy, as but little exertion is necessary to keep the ground mellow, free from grass and noxious weeds. Besides other benefits resulting from deep plowing, the soil being pulverized to a considerable depth, enables the moisture to rise to the surface during a dry season, and in a wet season facilitates the absorp-and in a wet season inclinates the absorption of water.

The corn crop, or any other product of the farm, cannot be made profitable without the due application of some manurial agent containing the constituents adapted in a general way to the soil. If this fertilizer is not made upon the premises, in sufficient quantity to make the season in the season in the farm, it meet the requirements of the farm, it must be procured elsewhere. It is therely supply the demand in other States, Messrs. Baugh & Son have located offices in nearly all the principal cities of the Union.

ABOUT SEED CORN. The American Agriculturist says: The selection of seed corn is one of the most important things which a farmer does at this senson. Coarse cobs accompany late $2,256 71 maturity, as a rule; fine cobs, well tipped out, indicate perfect maturity, adaptation to the season and soil, and a fixedness of character which it is important to maintain. The curing of corn takes place to a great extent after the husking, and the presence of a great, soft, moist cob in each ear gives a tendency to mold, cob in each ear gives a tendency to mold, which should be sedulously avoided. The was feeding him with pieces of meat, and happening to give him a rare slice, with blood dropping from it, the lion seized the hand that held it, crushing it and growling flercely with angry eyes running unbroken from end to end. These ears will not be found among the biggest round, nor among the longest, usually, but among those of medium size.

A friend used to say, as he showed off his But the animal only growled and la sked big till when turning to a servant. FORGED AND HAMMERED IRON, which should be sedulously avoided.

such as Plough, llorse-shoe and Bar Iron, and One may easily judge by the eye which respectfully invite Blacksmiths and Dealers to ears have the smallest cobs—those which biggest round, nor among the longest, usually, but among those of medium size. A friend used to say, as he showed off his seed corn, "every ear as regular and solid as a white oak pin." And so they were, as nearly as corn ears could be,

TAN BARK FOR POTATOES.

This subject is brought before the farmers of England, by a communication in the Mark Lane Express. M. R. B. Bamford claims thirty-five years' practice and experience in this matter; and has issued a pamphlet giving his method of using it, which is in brief the following: He does not cut his potatoes for setting, but sets them whole, and the largest he can select. The rows are thirty inches apart, and the potatoes are put nine inches from each other in the row.

The land is plowed only eight inches ry. It desired, he will lay the pipes; either the manufactor of the county, with entire success. For the drainage of cellars, &c., nothing better can be used. Specimens may be seen at Kalbfleisch's store, in Gettysburg. bushels of potatoes—not a rotten one among them—to the acre, with nothing among them—to the acre, with horning "Well, captain, got a well, end, but waste tan as a covering. This is of ma'am, always carry one," said the pogreat importance, the tan refuse being lite captain. "Well that's clever. I also fittle or no value, and if it can be put ways did dislike river water, especially to so important and advantageous a use in dog days." as in this case, itshould be widely known and practised.

Work on the farm, when rightly directed, is full of interest, and produces satisfactory results. The farmer is not only a consumer, but he is also a producer, and therefore a benefactor of the hucer, and therefore a benefit of the numan race. The prosperity of this country greatly depends on the development of agriculture. Paralyze this arm and what would be the result? The wheels of the manufacturer would stop, the merchant's doors would be closed, the sails wealth of the world, viz., agriculture.

PLANTING LIMA BEANS.

Most of the books and papers recom mend planting Lima beans with the eye down, but I have had enough of that Beeds are also valuable as food for poultry.—Hammonton Culturist.

PARING POTATOES.—Many persons, in preparing potatoes for cooking, pare off a thick slice from the surface, instead of digging out the eyes. Prof. Biot, in his lectures on the potato, says this skinning process is all wrong, as the strength of the vegetable lies near the surface—the starch growing less abundant as the center is approximated. The starch, near the surface, contains the nutriment—which is not more than seven or eight per cent.—the balance being mainly water.

Being destitute of true statesmanship, and utterly regardless of anything except partisan success, they are ready to adopt any expedient, no matter how dangers and revolutionary, if it promises to insure them a continuance in power. How much longer will the masses continue to follow the lead of these political quacks, who are constantly violating the Constitution, outraging liberty and endangering all the material, political and social interests of the nation? We are glad to see signs of returning reason even in New England.

Three villages in Maine have this Spring purchased from one nursery firm in that State, three thousand dollars worth of fruit trees. A commendable in-terest in fruit tree planting is being de-veloped all over the country.

WASH FOR TREES.—The Horticulturist says that "one pound of potash to six gallons of water is a good wash to apply to trees on whose bodies or limbs are insects, moss, etc."

A GRATEFUL TIGER.

A caged tiger had a live dog thrown to it, one day, for its dinuer. Not being very hungry, the usally fierce creature did not touch the trembling little victim. This quietness gave the dog courage, and he began to lick the tiger's eyes, which were sore. This act seemed pleasant to the wild beast, and the dog continued it, from time to time, till the eves of this savage animal got well.—

The tiger from that time took his tiny, four-legged doctor under his patronage, boked upon him kindly, and allowed him to eat when he chose of the food thrown into his den. Henceforth they lived like bosom friends. Thus, you see, even a fierce tiger can be grateful for a little favor. How much more, then, should children learn to be grateful to their friends for the great favors they have received?-When I see

Anecdote of Sydhry Johnson,—"M. W. M.," says an exchange, sends us the following anecdote of the late General

Sydney Johnson:
While Sydney Johnson resided on Oyster Creek in Texas, he kept a tame Mexican liban, to which he was very kind, and which followed him everywhere like a dog. One day, while at dinner with Gen. Lamarand Rev. Mr. Fontaine, his tail, when turning to a servant, the General told him to hand his pistol, which the frightened negro did, and General Johnson taking it in his left and, blew out the lion's brains, but the hand was hopelessly maimed. A Texas paper tells of a young couole who eloped on horseback, accompa-nied by a clergyman who was to marry them. The lady's father gave chase, and near by, she accosted him as follows:

"Well, captain, got a well, eh?" "Yes, Large Herring.—The Alexandria Gazette says: A herring, eighteen and three-fourth inches long, twelve and one-half inches round the body, and two and one-fourth inches thick through the back, and weighing three and three-fourth pounds, was caught yesterday at Fowke's landing, and was sent to this city this monrning with a lot of other fish. This is the largest herring, it is said by old fishermen, ever caught in the Potomac. What Summer thought of Military Gov-organism two years ago.

Charles Sumper, who is now dissatis-fied with the military despotism established over the Southern States because it is too legicut to sait him, during the session of 1865 offered in Congress a series of resolutious, of which the following is

And be it further resolved, That a government founded on military power, or ernment founded on military power, or having its origin in military power, can-not be a "republican form of govern-ment" according to the requirement of the Constitution, and that its recognition will be contrary, not only to the Consti-tution, but also to that essential principle of our government, which, in the lang-uage of Jefferson, establishes "the supre-macy of the give over the military and macy of the civil over the military authority."

Last year I planted part eyes down, and part I threw in anyway.—Those I planted with eyes down came up two days later, and were not half as vigorous or productive. A good support is made by planting sunflower amongst them at the same time. Break off the lower leaves as fast as they grow, leaving but a few at the top, or they will shade the beans too much. The sunflower teals on the unflower teals on the unflower teals on the unflower teals on the unflower teals as fast as they grow, leaving but a few at the top, or they will shade the beans too much. The conduct of the Redicals in summarily and contemptuously rejecting soldiers appointed by the President to fill civil stations, is subjecting these hypocritical partisans to much uncomfortable criticism and animadversion. The Radical Senate recently slaughtered a gal-lant soldier who was nominated for the Collectorship of the Port of Philadelphia, and on Monday last rejected. Colonel Maish, named as an Assessor, "who carries in his body a butlet received while fighting for his country." In the Senate on Tuesday Mr. Yates, of Illinois, sounded the note of extermination in

The President booked soldiers who "The President booked soldiers who had turned renegades, and when they were rejected had filled the country with the cry that the Senate had rejected men who had fought for their country. The Senate had a right to reject nominees who were not Radical."

From the above it will be seen that relities and not moritorious services in politics, and not meritorious services in the field, is the passport to favor in the Radical Senate. No matter how bravely a man fought—unless he is tarred with the Radical stick he must "walk the plank." Oh! how they love the soldiers!-Agc.

ANOTHER SOLDIER SLAUGHTERED.

On Saturday last the Radical Senate ejected the nomination of General Peter Lyle, whose name was sent to that body to fill the position of Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, now vacant. Gen-eral Lyle was appointed by the President without any solicitation on his part. He without any solicitation on his part. He boys and girls unkind and insulting to their, parents, who have done and suffered so much for them, I tell them the story of the tiger and the doz, and say, "Children, don't be less grateful to your parents than the tiger was to the little dog."

ILL MEEP 'EM AWAKE

Near Newark lived a plous family who had adopted an orphan, who, by the way, was rather underwitted. He had imbibed strict views ou religious matters, however, and once asked his adopted mother if she didu't think it wrong for the old farmers to come to church and fall asleep paying no better regard to the service. She replied she did. Accordingly before going to church the next lates he was appointed by the x without any solicitation on his part. He is widely known in this community as a gentleman of the strictest integrity, and possessing business capacity of the highest order. He is loved, honored, and respected by all who know him. He was a gallant soldier in the late civil war, and "stood in the trenches" when the Sumners and Wades and Chandlers and Forneys were reposing at home upon beds of ease and luxury. Yet he fell before the partisan blows of a corrupt and contemptible cabal, who are now driving the nation fast and surely on to destruction. This is the fourth rejection for the position of Collector of our Port. The great mercentile interests of this community in the meantime are left to suffer, because the President will not appoint a fanatical negro-worshipper. meet the requirements of the lamb, we must be procured elsewhere. It is therefore inportant in this contingency that the most valuable should be obtained, and this can best be done by buying from reliable manufacturers of concentrated manures which have stood the tests of repeated trials. Upon several farms in the vicinity of Germantown, Baugh's Raw bone Phosphate was used last year for corn with decided success, the yield in several instances exceeding the yield in several instances exceeding the purchasers. This is incontestible evidence of its value with those who used it as well as with others who observed is beneficial effects. Commencing the first year with a few hundred tons, Messrs. Baugh & Son now dread tons, Messrs. Baugh & Son now what his scars or services, who would not be set aside, insulted, and trampled upon, by these mean and petty tricksters in their insatiable thirst for public plunder. The development however is der. The day of reckoning, however, is fast approaching, and we predict that the people of Philadelphia will, before many people of remadelphia with before thany months, resent in a proper and becoming manner the gross insuit that has been thrown upon one of her honored sons by the Radicals in the Senate of the United States.—Philadelphia Aye. Another Brave Soldier Gone.-The Rump Senate has slaughtered another brave wounded soldier. Col. Levi Maish, of York, who bears in his body a bullet received whilst gallantly leading his regiment in action during the war, has been rejected by the Rads, as Assessor of Revenue for the 15th District, besor of Revenue for the 15th District, because he is a strong and fearless Democrat. Thus every day one or more of the army veterans are rejected for offices which they would faithfully and advantageously fill, and to which they are justly entitled by hard service and wounds. It is too bad. In every case, however, in which the President accounts to the Registed with a propint cedes to the Radical desire and appoints some lazy Radical stay-at-home scalla-wag, the Rump Senate promptly con-firms. This shows that the Radical leaders care nothing for soldiers unless they are confirmed Radicals and except they bind themselves to follow the dic-tation of the e leaders instead of the requirements of conscience, patriotism and their outh of office.—Patriot & Union.

A RETROSPECT.

In the Washington Chronicle of October 10, 1866, there was a special disputch, as follows: "Davenport, Iowa, October 29.

"Say to Andrew Johnson that the City of Davenport, (Price's home,) which last' year went Democratic, has now swung around the circle, and given Price for Congress, 901 majority.

Journ L. Davis, Mayor."

The publication of this dispatch secasioned a sharp correspondence in the Intelligencer on one side, and the Chron-icle on the other, as to whether there had or not been a Republican gain in Daven-port. It was not then of much conse-quence to the outside world; but in the election held in the same City of Daven-port, on the 6th instant, this same "John L. Davis, Mayor," who sent the glorify-ing dispatch to the Chronicle. six months ago has been besten for the Mayordiy ago, has been beaten for the Mayoralty 855 votes, and the result is heralded by the Davenport Democrat under the head of "Unprecedented triumph—Price, Russell & Co. rebuked." We have seen no special dispatch from Mr. Davis this time announcing the result. So we go! With the turn of the tide the froth that Intelligencer. The last Legislature passed a law allowing the public officers of Phila-delphia city and Allegheny county to surrender to physicians and surgeons, for dissection, the bodies of deceased persons which are required to be buried at public expense. Whoever, therefore, shall be so unfortunate as to die at those places, friendless and penniless, will certainly go to the great resurrection in pleces. Formerly malefactors only were given to the doctors—now paupers are to share the same fate. "Dimes and dol-Bullock, the Radical Governor of et's the worst of crimes." So, at least,
