Here's what the Albany Evening Join nal, the Republican organ at the capital say:

Those Republicaus who have thought that fidelity to party required them to defend the Congressional scheme of reconstruction as a whole and in all its parts, find it "hard sledding" about this time. They hardly know where they are or what they shall be called to swear by next. To make everything sure and cover all possibilities, they might well motify their confession of political faith, and put it in a comprehensive form something like this: "We are for the Congressional plan of reconstruction as it was, as it is, and as it shall be, world without end."
