PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE, And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its aftendant ills, will find in the use of this BITERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instill new life into the veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years. NOTICE.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, 'never icel well.' They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended. Are made strong by the use of either of these emedies. They will cure every case of MARAS-MUS, without fail. M(3), without fail; Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietors, but space will allow of the publication of but few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

FOR THE GETTYSBURG COMPILER, THE ORPHAN'S LAMENT.

Oh me'er will I forget the morn,

When I was left and and forlorn— My mother called from earth away, And I an orphan doomed to stay.

When sister, brother, friends, who all Around stood gazing on the pall, In supplication sought relief, And bitter tears spoke their great grief.

A child—but little did I know, Why they should grieve or sorrow so; And why, O sister, do you weep, While mother dear-thus gently sleeps.

Oh cruel, grievous, sad mistake, That mother ne'er on earth shall wake! No more to hear that mother's voice, No more with her shall you rejoice. When evening came to claim its due,

Ah, then my grief began anew—
That mother's smile, that mother's kiss-There's naught in life to equal this,

On that and morn began the strife-That cruel fite—the orphan's life— Then cast upon life's troubled sea, This world has been a blank to me. Oh mother! though with thee I part, While grief and sorrow fill my heart, By me thou ne'er wilt be forgot

Jesus called thee to realms above, To share in His most precious love! While I upon this cold world roam, Aid me in gaining that true home! Oh then my hope on earth will be, In heaven above to meet with thee;

Whate'er on earth may be my lot,

And there secure, no'er more depart

To worldly strifes, that wring the heart. Mother! farewell, a last farewell! In my sad heart fore'er will dwell The mem'ry of thy loving grace, Which length of time shall ne'er efface.

This no one enters his cage, and he misses the small majority proves that, although grooming and attentions that had bedisfranchised by military violence, the minority of the remaining one-third, by an active canvass, can carry the State for the Democrats at the coming Presidential election. It is this decided change that has induced the Radical leaders to hasten their plans for holding power by means "outside of the Constitution."

No more open confession of the infamous conduct of the party in power is needed than the bill with reference to the Supreme Court of the United States That measure is an acknowledgment of their own established convictions that their reconstruction scheme is so palpa-bly unconstitutional that it will be proounced so by a court consisting chiefly of judges of their own party, unless that tribunal's power of decision shall be, previously regulated, bounded in, and ourbed by Radical action.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL.—In a speech at the 8th of January celebration, Attorney General Stanbury declared: "I do not hesitate to say that the whole of these Reconstruction acts of Congress, from beginning to end, first, second and third in the series, are unconstitutional and void. There are times when men must speak out. I will not attempt to school myself into reticence upon these great questions, and I could not, if I would."
