In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies— HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA. PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which line they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanily to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, lyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous, Debtilly, Chronic Darrinos, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY. Resulting from any Cause wintever; PROSTRATION OF THE MYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposures, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and Vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is groundly to the system of the specific in the state of the state of the system of the specific in the system of the system of the control of the system of the course sound and healthy, the yellow tings is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this HITEERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into the veins, restore in a neasure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good bealth; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended. WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN Are made strong by the use of cither of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARAS-MUS, without fall.

Thousands of certificates have accumulates in the hands of the proprietors, but space will allow of the publication of but few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS. Hon. Geo. W. Woodward, Chief Justiee of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

Philodelphia, March 18, 1887.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonle, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

DEAD IN THE STREET. Under the lamplights, dead in the street,

There she lies, Face to the skies, Face to the skies,
Starved to death in a city of plenty,
Spurned by all that is pure and sweet,
Passed by busy and careless feet—
Hundrads bent upon folly and pleasure,
Hundreds with plenty, and time and leisure
Leisure to speed Christ's mission below,
To beach the cerring and raise the lowly—
Plenty, in charity's name to show
That-life has something divine and holy.

Boasted charms—classical brow, Delicate features—look at them now Look at her lips; once they could smile; Eyes—well, never, more shall they beguile

Never more, never more words of hers
A blush shall bring to the saintliest face,
She has found, let us hope and trust, Peace in a higher and better place, And yet, despite of all ill, I ween, Joy of some heart she must have been.
Some fond mether proud of the task,
Has stooped to finger each dainty curl; Some vain father has bowed to ask A blessing for her his derling girl,

Hard to think, as we look at her there, Of all the tenderness, love and care, Lonely watching and sore heart-ache, All the agony, burning tears, Joys and sorrows, and hopes and fears, Breathed and suffered for her dear sake.

Fancy will picture a home afar, Out where the daisies and butterenps are, Out where the life-giving processe blow, Par from these adden streets, foulsome low; Fancy will picture a lonely hearth, And an aged counte deed to might. And an aged couple, dead to mirth— Kneeling beside a bed to pray; or lying awake o' nights to hark For a thing that may come in the rain and the

A hollow-eyed woman with weary feet,

HOW TO PROSPER IN RESIVESS.

We recommend the following hints to full grown boys, as well as to young men just entering on the duties of life: In the first place, make up your mind o accomplish whatever you undertake, decide upon some particular employment, and persevere in it. All difficulties are overcome by diligence and assiduity. Be not afraid to work with your own hands, and diligently too. "A cat in gloves catches no mice." "He who remains in the mill, grinds not, but he who goes and comes." Attend to your own business, and nev er trust to another. "A pot that belongs o many is ill stirred and worse boiled." Be frugal. "That which will not make a pot, will make a potlid." "Save the cents, and the dollars will take care of themselves."

Be abstemious. "Who dainties love shall beggars prove." Rise early. "The sleeping fox catches no poultry." "Plough deep while alug-gards sleep, and you will have corn to "The sleeping fox catches sell and keep."

Treat every one with respect and civility. Everything is gained and nothing is lost by courtesy. "Good manners insure success." Never anticipate wealth from any other source than labor; especially never place dependence upon becoming the occessor of an inheritance. "He who waits for dead men's shoes may have to go for a long time barefoot. He who runs after a shadow has a wearisome race."@ Above all things, never despair. "God is where he was." "Heaven helps those who kelp themselves." Follow implicitly these precepts, and ting. THE DANGERS OF BENSINE. Our lady readers should be informed that the liquid called benzine, which they use so freely for removing grease spots and stains from clothing, is a very dangerous article. It is one of the subhighly volatile, inflammable, and when season to declare, "it makes 'em conceitthe venor is mixed with air explosive We have frequently been much alarmed, self as was his wont, to make a solemn satwhen visiting neighbors and friends in the evening, to observe a phial of this fluid standing in close proximity to a lamp, or gas flame, and the odor pervading the room. A very small quantity is capable of doing irreparable mischief. The contents of a four ounce phial, if overturned and vaporized, would render the air of a moderate sized room explo sive; or, if ignited, a whole family might be seriously burned, or lose their lives father, but having neither industry nor from it. It should never be used in the vicinity of flame; and it is important to slife of dissipation and riotous living had remember that through the medium of squandered all his property. For some the escaping vapor, when the phial is time he had lived only on credit. most care.—Exchange. ONIONS AND EPIDEMICS. In the spring of 1849 I was in charge of one hundred men on shipboard, with the cholera among the men. We had onions, which a number of the men ate reely. Those who did so were soon attacked, and nearly all died. As soon as I made this discovery their use was forbidden. After mature deliberation I came to the conclusion that onions should never be esten during the prevalence of epidemics, for the reason that they absorb the virus and communicate the disease, and that the proper use for them is sliced, and placed in the sick room, and replaced with fresh ones every few hours. It is a well established fact that onlons will extract the poison of snakes; this I personally know. Some kinds of mud will do the same. After meintaining the foregoing opinion for eighteen years, I found the following well attested: Onions placed in the room where there is small-pox will blister and lecompose with great rapidity; not only so, but will prevent the spread of the disease. I think as a disinfectant they have no equal, when properly used; but keep them out of the stomach. If need be, he foregoing (which I have greatly abbreviated) can be attested on oath. Let us have all the facts bearing upon JOHN B. WOLF. the sphicot.

IRRESOLUTION.-In matters of great concern, and which must be done, there s no surer argument of a weak mind than irresolution; to be undetermined where the case is so plain, and the necessity so urgent: to be always intending to lead a new life, but never to find time to set about it; this is as if a man should put off eating, and drinking, and sleeping, from one day and night to another, till he is starved and destroyed.

Mr. Twombley sat on the side of the bed, and made an effort to pull off his right boot. The attempt was successful, though it brought him to the floor. On regaining his feet, Mr. Twombley thought he saw the door open. As he Haven. was sure he shut the door on coming in, he was astonished, and dark as it was in the room, he couldn't be mistaken, he felt certain. A cotemporary says he has often been surprised at the ignorance displayed by housekeepers in the selections which they frequently make in the market for family supplies. Many seem to think if they have chosen from an overgrown beast or bird with large bones, loaded with masses of fat upon its flesh, that they have been particularly lucky and secured an excellent dish, when in all probability, they have taken the very worst and least profitable for consumption. In purchasing a quarter of an animal, or pieces from it, we should select such as have the smallest, thinnest, and flatiest bones, covered by the finest grained flesh, with the fat intermixed in thin streaks or layers with the lean. This will almost invariably be found tender, juicy and profitable. On the contrary, meat with large, round, thick bones, of a coarse grain, and showing the fat in thick slices or large lumps, will prove tough, unsavory, and so far as the profitable part of it is concerned, not worth so much by twenty-five per cent. as the finer bone qualities. Poultry which has long, coarse legs, neck and head, ought to be avoided, while that with short, fine legs, long round, and with the same force to fish, for severa kept him and his fellow-soldiers from kinds of the most bony are very good seeing the fulfilment of the great work profitable as those with fewer bones.
