The people of the United States now thoroughly understand the position occupled by President Johnson and his accusers. They have read and weighed the evidence on both sides. They see that nothing has been proven against the President; that no law has been violated by him in such manner as to constitute any offense, much less such a "bigh crime and misdemesnor" as would justify his impeaciment and removal from office. It is the conviction of every candid innn in the nation, without respect to party, that Mr. Johnson has been proven by this very trial to be entirely innocent of any impeachable offense,

Whatever may be the verdict of the Senate, that of the great jury composed of the American people, will be in favor of the accused. Should the Senate conviet, in the face of the failure of the warrant at, were be to those guilty of such an outrage upon law and justice, merely that nitrin hate might be gratified. The deposition of the constitutionally elected President would be looked upon by the people as a revolutionary step of most dangerous character, and they would condemn it at the ballot box in such a manner at to consign every Radical leader of the present day to eternal infamy. Impendiment was a blunder, and Radicalian alone must bear the consequences, let the trial terminate as if

-Mr. Boutwell commenced his speech on Wednesday. Under an order adopted on that day, it is thought that all the managers and President's counsel will either speak or file written arguments. The end of the trial will not be reached for a week yet.

Ir the Radicals who make up the majurity of the highest legislative body in. this country had one particle of respect for the United States Senate they would furnantly and ignominiously expel Secretary John W. Forney, who is ex-oficio Clerk of the Court of Impeachment, and who, while acting as an officer of that Court, uses "my two papers, both dally," nly to vilely abuse the President of the United States, but to bully Senators sitting as jurous to give a verdict, not according to the evidence in the case in question, but as partisans and in accordance with the dictates of the extrement and most reckiess Radical leaders. Such heta should expel Forney from his secretaryship as summarily as his infamous Forrest-Jameison letter exited film from the society of decent mee.

THE TIDE OF REACTION STILL SWEEPS On. -The great tide of reaction against the revolutionary policy of the Radicals of New York immense Democratic gains have just been made, and in New Jersey Jersey City by 886 majority, a gain of 1971. Hudson City gives 1000 Democratic majority, a Democratic guin of 500. Hoboken has been carried by the Demograts election in Bergen has also gone Democratic, being a Democratic gain.
