RYS PLOUR FOR BREAD. Mr. William Ray Smee, writing in the London Morning Star, directs attention to the use of rye bread on the score of chespness. The writer adverts to the fact "bread made from rye is eaten by, all ranks of society in the northeast of Europe, and is scarcely ever absent from the tables of the noble and wealthy, because two sorts of bread are considered more wholesome and nourishing than the exclusive use of one," Of the two kinds of bread, the rye and the finest wheaten, made at the Vienna bakery o the Paris Exhibition, and served at the adjoining lager-beer drinking hall, the rye bread was largely taken in preference The case of a German is cited, who in his own country used to eat a slice of wheat on bread and a slice of rve bread togeth er, and who, on coming to reside in England, suffered much in health from the entire use of wheaten bread. To be somewhat more specific than Mr. Smee in relation to the use of rve bread by the people of the northeast of Europe, we would add, that rye is the chief staple for farinaceous food of Sweden, Northern Russia and the southern part of Norway, also Germany and the erger part of France. It is, indeed, said to nourish a more numerous population than wheat itself. In France and Ger many it is usual to eat the bread of the flour of the two grains mixed in nearly equal propertions, and called metail.

Ryè flour contains some gluten or nitrogenous element, and also starch and au gar. The proportion of the former in rye to that in wheat has been estimated as five to nincteen. Rve may be ken for a length of time without losing its flavor or being otherwise changed; and hence the country people in France, only bake every eight or ten days. Th Swedish peasantry carry their economy of labor and fuel still turther, in baking their rye cakes only twice in the year. . TOMATOES.-Tomato plants may now be transplanted from the hot-bed at any time. They should be set firmly in the soil, which should be well-manured and for the first week or two, should the weather be warm, be protected against the sun during four hours of the day. If the nights be cool or frost threatened they should be covered in some wayold newspapers, with stones or clods at the corners, are as good as anything-for the first two weeks. Mulching with grass and frequent stirring of the soil have an assuring effect in producing an abundant crop.

Some people allow the vines to run over the ground entirely, and we admit that they will produce as greatly this way as perhaps any other, but, coming in contact with the soil, their flavor i destroyed and they become insipid and worthless. Our mode is to "bush" them as we do peas, only more extensive ly, and wh have the best of croys. Th expense of trellises and frame-work, which amateur gardeners indulge in, is just so much money thrown away.

PLANTING LIMA BRANS.-It is not generally known, or it known practiced by few, that Lima beans, so liable to rot after planting in a wet spell, can be protected against this danger by simply greasing them well before planting. It hould be done thoroughly, and unless the season be extremely wet it will prove a sure remedy. A few years ago, while a neighbor had to plant his bed a third time ours was wholly uninjured. This is a hint worth acting upon. It may insure many a crop of early Lima which everybody admits is the "bean o

PRUNING ROSES.—The past winter was very hard upon the rose bushes, especially where they were lightly strawed-up. In pruning them it should be done with a liberal hand. There need be no fear of injury. Nothing stands pruning better than the rose, and we think it is a benefit to it to be killed down to the ground every two or three years! Therefore, whenever any considerable dead portion of the wood appears, cut nearly or quite down to the ground and it will give vigor to the root and new shoots, and the flowers will be

LOOK TO YOUR CELLARS.-Now is the time to clean up the cellars, as it is a work that should not be left until warm weather is upon us. By that time any vegetable matter left remaining will de compose and produce an atmosphere most deleterious to health. The mean stands should be emptied upon the asparagus beds or manure heap, and must brine will kill even trees as thick as an arm if applied in large quantities. The cellar should then be thoroughly whitewashed, and burnished up nice enough to dine in. A flithy cellar is an abomination that no housekeeper who has any claim to tidiness will allow to remain an hour longer than can be helped. The health of the entire family may be seriously endangered by it, and we have no doubt that in many instances fevers have resulted from unwarran table neglect in this matter.

BOILING PEAS FOR PLANTING.-It is stated on good authority—we have never tried it-that by putting peas into boiling water for about one minute before planling, the crop produced will be free from the bug. This seems to be an easy and plausible remedy; the par-boiling of the On the Hill, Baltimore street, Gettyrburg, Pa.—Constantly on hand, or made to order, all tinds of seed will also doubtless help germin-

CHICKEN CHOLERA.—This disease is raging im Beaver creek and in the neighborhood of Mount Pleasant, Md. In some instances, we learn, farmers have lost their entire stock of poultry-chickens, geese, ducks, turkeys, etc. The Mesars. Whitmores, Funks, Newcomers, and others, are among the sufferers.-Boonsboro' (Md.) Odd Fellow.

DELICATE PUDDING .- One quart of milk; while boiling stir in one pint of flour after it is sifted, six eggs, six tablespoonfuls of white sugar, one spoonful of butter, grated peel and juice of two lemons. All the ingredients must be well beaten together before they are stirred into the milk; stir one way, without stopping, till it has boiled for a minute or two; take it off and turn into your pudding dish. It is to be eaten cold; with sugar and cream if you like.

A HOREE, 19 hands high and weighing 2,000 pounds, is to be seen in a safe truck team in New York city. He was fooled in 1862, in Winchester county, of Canadian parents. He is said to be the largest corse in America.
