These scenes of negro lawlessness and intolerance are but the precursors of more to come. As a contempory remarks, the negroes, bigoted, ignorant and arbitrary, cannot reason or comprehend the sacredness of individual opinion. He must be master or slave. He must be under sombody's feet or his feet will trample down all over whom his power extends. Such has been discovered to be his tendency in St. Domingo, Hayti, and in every country where the attempt has been made to establish pure negro government. The Radical leaders are aware of all this, but they close their eyes and ears to the facts, because the ne-gro is now their ally and they are laboring merely for present supremacy. With-out the use of the désperate political machinery which the black element furnishes to their hands, immediate discomfiture and ruln would overtake the Radical leaders. Hence, to retard the near approach of defeat; to brace up their failing structure of wrong and usurpation, and to secure a temporary prolongation of with them. Having thus placed them-power, they are willing to bring debasepower, they are willing to bring debase-ment upon the ballot-box; prepared to no honorable line of seireat, they had make American citizenship a laughingstock and reproach, and determined to plunge the whole country into a disas-trous and bloody war of races.
