PRIDAY, JULY 3, 1808. BALT AND LIME FOR WHEAT.

At a recent meeting of the Farmers Club of the American Institute, in New York, Mr. George Steele, of Thorndale Chester county, Pa., stated that he has used sait with lime, and alone, as a manure for wheat, for a number of years, with good effect. He thinks that one and a half sacks of merchantable ground sait, or an equivalent of dirty sait, and 25 bushess of lime per acre, dressing of stable manure, and the grass after the wheat is as good. The sait and lime have been applied after plowing, and harrowed in; the lime spread with a shovel or lime spreader, as soon as slaked, while in a powdered condition, and the salt sown broadcast, or mixed with lime before spreading, or the lime laked with brine. The rocks on Mr. Steele's farm are shale siste. The soil. gravel, clay, and loam, exhausted about 74 years ago, and its cultivation abanfrom barrenness by an improved system manure. The land to which the salt was applied had been frequently limed, which fact may be important in considering the effect of the salt applied alone. Mr. B. believes it to be as good for this land as the salt and lime.

TOBACCO FOR ANIMALS & PLANTS.

I have found by experience that a strong decoction of tobacco will destroy vermin on either animals or plants. I have used it extensively during many years, for destroying ticks on sheep and lambs; have dipped thousands of them in tobacco water, made by boiling coarse, damaged, cheap tobacco, or stems and waste, in water, and have found it an effectual cure for the scab, which disease is caused by the working of an insect or mite in the skin of the sheep. It is a sovereign remedy for the blue lice on entitle and horses.

Tobacco water will destroy the aphis or plant louse. Gardeners find their green house plants need to be submitted to a delicate using of this wash occasionally, to place them in a condition to be e healthy and vigorous. When applied to fruit trees, of course waste tobacco is used; add one pound of copperas to five gallons of the wash. Plug tobacco con tains copperas in quantities sufficient to kill any animal that has not accustomed itself, by slow degrees, to its use.

Almost every tree or plant is infested and will, if in sufficient numbers, destroy its vitality. The hop, in sections infested with the hop aphis, is frequently either wholly or partially destroyed; when, by one or two thorough applications of tobacco water, by means of a for the prompt filling of orders. force pump or garden engine, as they commence their work, the whole aphis army might be swept away. When the vine is trained low, upon seven feet stakes and twine, a garden engine is unnecessary, as the wash can be applied as effectually and with less water, with a common large syringe.

Tobacco smoke will stupely any animal, and used in a sufficient quantity, has a fatal effect upon all which plug tobacco will destroy. Indeed there seems to be but one animal-mamalia-upon which tobacco, in either shape, does not have an immediate futal effect. However, if that animal would otherwise be infested with insects, trichinœous in their nature, in the mouth, tobacco will keep them away. Perhaps that is their case.

If a sheep or calf is covered with a rubber or leather spread, or thick blanket, and a smoke of tobacco is made under the covering, in half an hour or less every tick and nit will be destroyed. Current worms may be served in the same manner. This is not only an effective remedy against vermin, but of good use for most obnoxious weeds.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

IMPORTANCE OF PRESENCE OF MIND. 1. If a man faints, place him flat on les back and let him alone.

2. If any poison is swallowed, drink instantly half a glass of cool water, with ground mustard stirred into it. This omits as soon as it reaches the stomach. For fear some poison may remain, swallow the white of one or two raw eggs, or drink a cup of strong coffee. These two-being better antidotes for the greater number of poisons than any dozen other articles known, with the advantage of their always being at hand; if not, a pint of sweet oil, or lamp oil, or "drippins," or melted butter, or lard, age good substitutes, especially if they immediately.
3. The best thing to stop the bleeding of a moderate cut, instantly, is to cover it profusely with cobweb, or flour and sait, half and half.

4 If the blood comes from a wound by jets or spirts, be spry, or the man will die in a few minutes, because an artery is sev ered; tle a handkerchief loosely around; near the part, between the wound and the heart; put a stick between the handkerchief and the skin and twist it around until the blood ceases to flow; keep it there till the doctor onnes; if in a position where the handkerchief cannot be used, press the thumb on a spot near the wound, between the wound and the heart; increase the pressure until the bleeding ceases, but until the physician arrives, so as fo glue up the wound by the coagulation or cooling of the hardening blood.

5.1If your clothing takes fire, slide the hands down fire dress, keeping them as close to the body as possible, at the same time sinking to the floor by bending the kness; this has a smothering effect upon the flames; if not extinguished, or a most hands are soften. He down on the great headway gotten, lie down on the floor and roll over and over; or better, envelope yourself in a carpet, rug, bedcloth, or any garment you can get hold of, always preferring woolen.

& If the body is tired, rest; if the brain is tired, sleep. 7. If the bowels are loose, lie down in a warm bed, remain there and eat nothing until you are well.

BUELER's mania for spoons has become so great that he carries pewter ones with him to parties to put in the goblets when he steals the stiver ones. This is a Yankee trick worthy of the genius of a Rob-ash, it is said to betoken a dry summer.' "If this is correct," says an English paper, "the present summer will be a fine one, as the oak has taken the lead this year."
