

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Postponing an Old Sinner.

The Milford and Matamoras Railway act, is an old sinner, who has been robbing the state treasury of $10,000 annually for a number of years.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Gen. Cass. At our county convention held last week, it was not deemed necessary to instruct the representative delegate for any use for governor.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Bellefonte Republican crowd over a radical victory in their ward elections, and has brought out a deal rooster and lousy con.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

A committee in the contested case of McClure vs. Gray, was drawn in the senate yesterday, says the Patriot.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Ex-Governor Stokes has been convicted of collecting fraudulent claims against the Government by his own letters, furnished by one of his confederates, who turned evidence.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The following bill passed the state senate, on 10th ult., it should pass the house also. All laws of this character cut off legislative jobs.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Columbus Conventions. On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The nominees of the Prohibition Convention are, for President, James Black, of Pennsylvania, and Vice President, John Russell, of Michigan.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Labor Reformers put forth an elaborate platform, which is generally regarded as one of the best of the kind. The objection can be urged, except its apparent impracticability under circumstances.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The news from Mexico is important. The revolution is spreading in Colima and Guadalajara, and the greater parts of the Puebla and Vera Cruz are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The dead body of ex-Governor Felix Diaz has been taken to Mexico, and is supposed to have been treacherously murdered. Porfirio Diaz is in command of the revolutionists at Zacatecas.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

A personal paragraph concerning ex-Senator Edmund G. Ross, of Kansas, states that that gentleman, who refused to be bribed or driven into exile for the impeachment of ex-President Johnson, is now publishing in the southern part of Kansas, a weekly paper, from which he derives his support.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany Arming Again. London, Feb. 23.—The Germans are arming. Two corps are ordered to be ready for service. These preparations are the greatest since the political parties at Versailles, and the possibility of a change of government in France.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany reserves the right to decide as to any new government in France. Should she deem the government unlikely, either by inclination or incapacity, to execute the treaty of peace there will be another invasion.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The detective system in this country has become as corrupt as everything else. If a reward is now offered for the discovery and arrest of a criminal, it is said that the rogue escapes before the detectives will not help each other, least they lose the reward which they would hope to get if they worked singly and caught their man.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

In New York city, as the Custom House revelations show, we often get a rogue to catch a rogue but he don't do it.

Democratic County Convention.

The members of the late democratic county convention met at Bellefonte, on the 10th inst., for the purpose of electing delegates and officers. John Heller was called to the chair; Wm. Alexander and J. H. Orvis, were chosen secretaries.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Orvis then read a series of rules for the government of the democratic party in the county which were read and unanimously adopted, as follows:

The Democratic County Convention of the county of Centre, Pa., in session at Bellefonte, on the 10th inst., resolved that the following rules be adopted for the government of the party in said county.

The object of delegates to represent the different districts in the annual democratic county convention, shall be held at the usual place of holding the annual county convention, on the Saturday preceding the second Tuesday in August, at 10 o'clock P. M. of said day, and continuing until five o'clock P. M.

The repeating bill was finally postponed, and the meeting adjourned for one week, to be held at the usual place of holding the annual county convention, on the Saturday preceding the second Tuesday in August, at 10 o'clock P. M. of said day, and continuing until five o'clock P. M.

Our representative does not send us the Record, for fear we may see what he is doing, but these things leak out through other papers. The Age, says, as will be observed, this motion to postpone was only ostensible, of course it was, and the real object was to stop the Record, which was in his seat or not—he was out on purpose no doubt.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

We suppose Mr. Meek, can explain, as usual, to the satisfaction of green ones, —only $10,000 a year, of the taxpayer's money.

Ex-Governor Stokes has been convicted of collecting fraudulent claims against the Government by his own letters, furnished by one of his confederates, who turned evidence.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The following bill passed the state senate, on 10th ult., it should pass the house also. All laws of this character cut off legislative jobs.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Columbus Conventions. On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The nominees of the Prohibition Convention are, for President, James Black, of Pennsylvania, and Vice President, John Russell, of Michigan.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Labor Reformers put forth an elaborate platform, which is generally regarded as one of the best of the kind. The objection can be urged, except its apparent impracticability under circumstances.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The news from Mexico is important. The revolution is spreading in Colima and Guadalajara, and the greater parts of the Puebla and Vera Cruz are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The dead body of ex-Governor Felix Diaz has been taken to Mexico, and is supposed to have been treacherously murdered. Porfirio Diaz is in command of the revolutionists at Zacatecas.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

A personal paragraph concerning ex-Senator Edmund G. Ross, of Kansas, states that that gentleman, who refused to be bribed or driven into exile for the impeachment of ex-President Johnson, is now publishing in the southern part of Kansas, a weekly paper, from which he derives his support.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany Arming Again. London, Feb. 23.—The Germans are arming. Two corps are ordered to be ready for service. These preparations are the greatest since the political parties at Versailles, and the possibility of a change of government in France.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany reserves the right to decide as to any new government in France. Should she deem the government unlikely, either by inclination or incapacity, to execute the treaty of peace there will be another invasion.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

In New York city, as the Custom House revelations show, we often get a rogue to catch a rogue but he don't do it.

How the Skull Protects the Brain.

A child's brain, which would be fatal in old age. This is owing to the skull being thin, uniform in texture, and elastic, in childhood; and in old age, it is thick, uneven, and brittle.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

From Easton. The following bill passed the state senate, on 10th ult., it should pass the house also. All laws of this character cut off legislative jobs.

On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Columbus Conventions. On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The nominees of the Prohibition Convention are, for President, James Black, of Pennsylvania, and Vice President, John Russell, of Michigan.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Labor Reformers put forth an elaborate platform, which is generally regarded as one of the best of the kind. The objection can be urged, except its apparent impracticability under circumstances.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The news from Mexico is important. The revolution is spreading in Colima and Guadalajara, and the greater parts of the Puebla and Vera Cruz are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The dead body of ex-Governor Felix Diaz has been taken to Mexico, and is supposed to have been treacherously murdered. Porfirio Diaz is in command of the revolutionists at Zacatecas.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

A personal paragraph concerning ex-Senator Edmund G. Ross, of Kansas, states that that gentleman, who refused to be bribed or driven into exile for the impeachment of ex-President Johnson, is now publishing in the southern part of Kansas, a weekly paper, from which he derives his support.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany Arming Again. London, Feb. 23.—The Germans are arming. Two corps are ordered to be ready for service. These preparations are the greatest since the political parties at Versailles, and the possibility of a change of government in France.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Germany reserves the right to decide as to any new government in France. Should she deem the government unlikely, either by inclination or incapacity, to execute the treaty of peace there will be another invasion.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

In New York city, as the Custom House revelations show, we often get a rogue to catch a rogue but he don't do it.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Columbus Conventions. On the 22nd ult., two National Conventions assembled, compared their records in Columbus, Ohio, by placing Presidential tickets in the field.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The nominees of the Prohibition Convention are, for President, James Black, of Pennsylvania, and Vice President, John Russell, of Michigan.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The Labor Reformers put forth an elaborate platform, which is generally regarded as one of the best of the kind. The objection can be urged, except its apparent impracticability under circumstances.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The news from Mexico is important. The revolution is spreading in Colima and Guadalajara, and the greater parts of the Puebla and Vera Cruz are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

The dead body of ex-Governor Felix Diaz has been taken to Mexico, and is supposed to have been treacherously murdered. Porfirio Diaz is in command of the revolutionists at Zacatecas.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

A personal paragraph concerning ex-Senator Edmund G. Ross, of Kansas, states that that gentleman, who refused to be bribed or driven into exile for the impeachment of ex-President Johnson, is now publishing in the southern part of Kansas, a weekly paper, from which he derives his support.

Make Myself Intelligible.

Mr. Morton said he would not only be in his mind or his moral feelings, except in the case of the 9th inst., had introduced an amendment directing the Committee to inquire into whether all one of the members of the House of Representatives in France were guilty of corruption in connection with the transactions. Does the Senator want to know who I did not do? It was because I considered it infinitely beneath me. (Applause in the galleries.)

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said he had given Mr. Remington a letter of introduction to France. He had merely addressed a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done so.

Centre Hall, Pa., March 17, 1892.

Mr. Conkling said that Mr. Schurz had written a note to the Honorable Mr. Remington, which he had stated on a former occasion. Mr. Schurz—if the Senator had investigated all these transactions, and that he would settle them, and that he had a personal interest in them, even then he would not have done