Mental Power in Men and women. Regarding this oft-discussed question

Maudsley says: It has been affirm ed by some philosophers that there is

But God an something in me see,
A soul which soon my God did claim,
And took from me that soul again.

And, when from me that soul had fled, I was the same as when first made; and that if a girl were subjected to the same education as a boy she would resemble him in tastes, feelings, pursuits, and powers. To my mind it would not be one whit more absurd to affirm that the antlers of the stag, the human beard, and the coxcomb are effects of education; or that by putting a girl to the same education as a boy she could be sexually transformed into one. The physical and mental differences between the sexes intimate themselves most distinctly at puberty. If the person is hermaphrodite, the mental character, like the physical, participates equally in that of both sexes. If either sex is mutilated, it

Church Burned.—We regret to learn that the M. E. Church building, in process of erection at Houtzdale, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 31st of July. The fire when first seen was inside, and burning in three places. It was evidently the work of an incendiary.

Asarrangments will soon be made for holding the next county fair, we wish to call' the attention of the officers of the society to the need of more drinking fountains upon the fair-ground, for the accommodation of the public during the exhibition. The single fountain now on the ground has proven totally inadequate for the occasion, as hundreds continually crowd around it when only one at a time can drink, and many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before they succeed, with much difficulty, in getting a drink, whilst many must wait for hours, before the board.

sexes. If either sex is mutilated, it approaches in character, the opposite sex. While woman preserves her sex, she will necessarily be feebler than man, and, having her special body and mental characters, will have to a certain extent, her own sphere of activity. When she has pretty well divested herself of her sex, she may then take his ground and do his work, but she will have lost her faminine attraction, and probably also her chief feminine functions.—Scribner's for August.
