A Philadelphia Radical Exposed.

Philadelphia radicalism is as corrupt as was Tammany in New York. A recent investigation into the charges of corruption and bribery in the City Councils began on 12th, and, so far, the testimony shows an amount of venality rivalling that exposed in New York last year. The testimony of a trustworthy witness, fully corroborated, shows that there was a woad party that a large sum of money was raised for the purpose of bribing members of the Councils to vote for the woad party on Broad at ; that the affair was concocted and carried on in the office of one member of the Councils, and that when a member threatened to "go back" on the whole concern, threats were made to kill him. The testimony, so far as taken, implicates many outsiders. It is believed that those who are exposing the affair do so at the risk of their lives, some of whom, concerned in it being also implicated in the Brooks, Mara, and Dougherty affairs.

Thus far, in the proceedings of the constitutional convention—as will be seen in another column—two two-republicans have shown themselves capable of rising above the low partisan, and opposed to prostituting that august body to party machine. These two high-minded gentlemen, who understand the dignity of their position and the high sacred purposes for which the convention was called, are Wm. M. Meredith, of Philadelphia, president of the convention and H. N. McAllister from our county. When Mr. McAllister was placed upon the republican ticket—as delegate at-large—we at once felt certain, that one honest republican would be a member of that body; we always gave Mr. McAllister credit for sincerity and never doubted his honesty of purpose in advocating measures to which our party was opposed. He is not one of those republicans who endorse every abuse his party is guilty of. He is a republican who will not hesitate to do credit to a political opponent when he sees he merits it. This is the line for every true patriot to pursue, and it is the spirit that must control the men who are to frame our fundamental law, if they would be true to their sacred trust.

We do not follow the course of some papers that differ with Mr. McAllister in politics and take this occasion to taint the radicals on account of his course at the organization of the convention. We know that these same journals would denounce a democrat for doing what Mr. McAllister has done, had our party been in a majority and some of our ring rosters been there to run the convention in the interest of party as did Harry White and M'Veigh for the radical.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

First Day's Proceedings.

Promptly at the hour of twelve the constitutional convention met in the hall of the home newspaper. The hall was called to order by Hon. E. Jordan, secretary of the commonwealth who read the governor's proclamation containing the names of the delegates. The delegates were crowded by citizens and strangers. Eager questions were asked and answers were given. The roll call was made by Mr. Jordan, and the roll called as follows: Curtis, Black, Woodward, Walker, Gowen, Darlington, Hopkins, and other distinguished members.

THE WOOD TRADE—LOOK OUT FOR AN ADVANCE IN WINTER CLOTHING.

To judge from the general aspect of affairs in the wool trade in this city the fire in Boston was an ill wind that blew an immense injury to the Bostonians, but one that was an indirect benefit to the trade of this city and Philadelphia. The almost total destruction of the wool trade in Boston, where the stock in store was estimated at about 12,000,000 pounds, or a trifle over an eighth of the whole clip of the United States, cannot but enhance the value of the stock now in store in this city, which at a liberal calculation, is valued at 12,000,000 pounds. The wool trade in this city is not only an immense business, but it is also an important one. The wool trade in this city is not only an immense business, but it is also an important one.

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

A meeting of considerable importance in the interests of the Evangelical Alliance was held 12th, in Brooklyn, at the Church of the Pilgrims. The immediate business was the presentation of a statement by one of the Secretaries, the Rev. Dr. Philip Schaff, respecting the forthcoming Convention of the Alliance in New York City—the first to be held in this country. Among its points were the following:

The Evangelical Alliance was organized in London in 1846 to promote Christian liberty and unity among Protestant denominations throughout the world. It was not a sectarian body, but might rather be compared to militia force to be used in special emergencies, as when liberty of conscience is threatened, or when open persecutions of individuals for their religious opinions exist. There had been thus far five general Conferences held, one at London, one at Paris, one at Geneva, one at Berlin, and the last at Amsterdam in 1871. The sixth meeting was to have been held in New York in 1870, and preparations for it were nearly completed when the news of the rupture between Germany and France and the immediate opening of the conflict rendered its postponement necessary. As it is twenty European delegates, ever, but hastened back on an discovering the threatening aspect of affairs on the Continent.

Dr. Schaff then observed that the subsequent session provided, as the last meeting was held at London, one at Geneva, one at Berlin, and the last at Amsterdam in 1871. THE ILLINOIS SENATORSHIP.

Information received from Illinois is to the effect that Mr. Washburne, minister to France, is a candidate for United States Senator in place of Trumbull, whose term expires on 30th inst. Mr. Washburne's claims will be put in issue at a caucus to be held on 30th inst. The contest is between Washburne and Oglesby, with chances in favor of Washburne.

In several cases recently tried in different parts of the country, the liability of life insurance companies to holders of policies on lives which have terminated through suicide or intemperance. In regard to the question of suicide the decisions in this country have widely varied. In England the courts have uniformly decided that if a person taking his own life has sufficient intelligence to know that the act which he is engaged in will prove fatal, he violates the conditions of the contract, and the policy is void.

THE EPIPHANY.

Pottsville, Pa., November 15.—The horse disease is becoming general throughout the county. It is now spreading rapidly by canal from Schuylkill to Luzerne counties. The horses are affected with a feverish disease, and are unable to work. It is feared that several colic will have to suspend work. The last case of the disease was reported from the Pottsville. The disease is now spreading rapidly throughout the county.

Buffalo, November 15.—A large number of horses which have been working in the city have been taken ill with a feverish disease, and are unable to work. It is feared that several colic will have to suspend work. The last case of the disease was reported from the Pottsville. The disease is now spreading rapidly throughout the county.

BOSTON.

Items of Interest.
Boston, November 15. The city is generally resuming its old aspect. The work of clearing away the debris is going on rapidly. The temporary structures are in one sense or to some extent, but they were never suggested to minds not already trained by deep and continued thinking; they would never have occurred to an untutored savage. A hazardous view with the lightning flash at night, yet he would never think of hitting the one to his character. The first idea of the probability and manner of utilizing these potent agents was reserved for observing and trained minds to accomplish. Thus it has been with the thousands of discoveries of science and the almost infinite number of mechanical devices which labor and emigrate man's condition. They have been achieved only by the patient investigation and energy of educated minds.

Nowwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last fall, when the A.D.N.E. assumed its present noble proportions and re-appeared, it is now more than doubled during the past year; proving that the American public is appreciative of the high literary and scientific merits of the A.D.N.E. The publishers are authorized to announce to our readers that they will be glad to receive from any subscriber a copy of the A.D.N.E. for one year, for the price of a year's subscription. The quarterly titled plates, for 1873, will be reproduced in four plates, DAVIS, for the four seasons. These plates appearing in the issues for January, April, July, and October would be sent for the price of a year's subscription. In several cases recently tried in different parts of the country, the liability of life insurance companies to holders of policies on lives which have terminated through suicide or intemperance. In regard to the question of suicide the decisions in this country have widely varied. In England the courts have uniformly decided that if a person taking his own life has sufficient intelligence to know that the act which he is engaged in will prove fatal, he violates the conditions of the contract, and the policy is void.

THE EPIPHANY.

Pottsville, Pa., November 15.—The horse disease is becoming general throughout the county. It is now spreading rapidly by canal from Schuylkill to Luzerne counties. The horses are affected with a feverish disease, and are unable to work. It is feared that several colic will have to suspend work. The last case of the disease was reported from the Pottsville. The disease is now spreading rapidly throughout the county.

Buffalo, November 15.—A large number of horses which have been working in the city have been taken ill with a feverish disease, and are unable to work. BOSTON.

Items of Interest.
Boston, November 15. The city is generally resuming its old aspect. The work of clearing away the debris is going on rapidly. The temporary structures are in one sense or to some extent, but they were never suggested to minds not already trained by deep and continued thinking; they would never have occurred to an untutored savage. A hazardous view with the lightning flash at night, yet he would never think of hitting the one to his character. The first idea of the probability and manner of utilizing these potent agents was reserved for observing and trained minds to accomplish. Thus it has been with the thousands of discoveries of science and the almost infinite number of mechanical devices which labor and emigrate man's condition. They have been achieved only by the patient investigation and energy of educated minds.

Nowwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last fall, when the A.D.N.E. assumed its present noble proportions and re-appeared, it is now more than doubled during the past year; proving that the American public is appreciative of the high literary and scientific merits of the A
