

"When I am Dead and Buried,"

When I am dead and buried, there will be mourning among men. I have no mourning on my death. How had he found his last wish? And one, "He was too sensitive in this cold-wintered world to live."

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

CENTRE HALL CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1873. NO. 15.

Wait and See.

When my boy with eager questions, Asking how, and where, and when, I have no answer for his whim.

Follow the Flag.

A flag is but a yard or two of bunting when it is looked at as a matter of fact, but for the men who have been willing to die for it at almost any moment, you have seen it something more than

The Cellars of New York.

A report was sent to the Board of Health of New York, and the following extract will show the horrible conditions in which many people live in the city.

Blasting in a Coal Mine.

"Down in a coal mine" is a locality which, although immortalized in a popular story, is not a very pleasant one.

The Story of a Lost Will.

Two or three months ago, says the Detroit Free Press, J. Rowell, a furniture dealer, set about overhauling a desk filled with old papers—papers which had been accumulating on his hands for several years.

A House One Thousand Years Old.

The loftiest house, and the most perfect in the matter of construction, ever seen, was that which a wood-pedlar occupied with his family on a hill in the forests of Santa Cruz, Mexico.

The Wives of the South.

The wives of the South, it is said, are a different class of women from those of the North.

Embarrassing.

There is a habit peculiar to many waltzes, which, when you are touched upon satirically, but which seems to have survived the ironical ridicule.

The Jack of Hearts.

The Jack of Hearts! Wherever I hear those words my thoughts wander back to one sunny May-day, when Clara Bell came on board the steamer.

Clara Bell.

Clara Bell was a young girl, and she was a young girl, and she was a young girl, and she was a young girl.

Murder and Suicide.

A few days ago, James D. Page, of Vallejo, California, was arraigned on a charge of having opened a letter sent by the murderer, Russell, now in jail.

Why Jenks Never Married.

"I think a woman is a tremendous blessing," said Jenks. "When she is a blessing, she is a blessing, she is a blessing, she is a blessing."

A Strange Suicide.

The village of Montgomery, N. Y., has been the scene of a most extraordinary case of suicide.

California Bandit.

Since the withdrawal of the telegraph from the San Joaquin country, says a California paper, in the neighborhood of the town of Fresno, there has been a great influx of desperadoes.

Fun at Home.

Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people. Don't shut up your houses lest the sun should fade your carpets.

Bitten by a Vampire.

In an account of the adventures of a party in "search of the Quinine Plant in Peru," the writer states that one night the party discovered a vampire.

Men of Action.

Some men seem to be sent into the world for purposes of action only. They are not in it to enjoy life, but to do something.

Does Gold Mining Pay?

Twenty years ago the late Mr. Greeley essayed, in the paper founded by him, to prove that gold mining, on the whole, was not profitable.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.

Signs of Death.

In 1870, the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of 20,000 francs ($4,000) for a simple and positive sign of death which non-professional persons could understand and apply.