The Utica Steam Engine Company (formerly Wood & Mann) is the largest Steam Engine works in the United States. They have their machine, boiler, blacksmith, and steam forge shops, brass foundry and pattern shop, all complete of their kind. They have now in successful operation over 2,500 engines, while the rapid increase of their business and the growing demand for their work affords conclusive evidence of the favor with which it is every where received, and the universal satisfaction it gives. All their machinery combines beauty of design, perfection of workmanship and material, and in point of efficiency, durability, strength and economy, it is unsurpassed—Iron Would,
