Centre Hill, Pa., Aug. 7, 1873.
 Bill Brown's paper is making itself ridiculous by trying to create opposition to John H. Orvis among democrats of this county. Whenever the democrats of this county want any advice, Brown's paper is the last one they go to for it. It is considered of no account by the radicals, and much less by democrats. John H. Orvis will be re-elected to the legislature by an increased vote. His record at Harrisburg is a noble one and the people of Centre county know it, and intend to endorse it. It is the proudest record ever made by a representative at Harrisburg, and the democracy of Centre, aided by the votes of many honest republicans, will tell Mr. Orvis's enemies, how they appreciate his efforts in behalf of honest legislation. The idea of Brown leading the opposition to Orvis, when?

MR. GROESBECK'S POSITION.
 "I am a democrat, but I should be very glad to see the Democracy vote out of its organization into a new one. You will not succeed unless they do. It may be that they will refuse, and prefer to stay where they are for the balance of the century, and until they feel the meaning of the resolution of '78. If so, I suppose I shall try them with this. After all I like them, and I think the only political party which has not yet been completely discredited. There are no banners upon its walls, and victorious shoutings are no longer heard within it; but it is a house still, and I shall not leave it until it is pulled down. Very respectfully,
 W. S. GROESBECK."

Let it be noted says the World:
 1st. That Mr. Groesbeck neither renounces, dislikes, nor has lost confidence in Democratic principles, in the letter of which we here copy the Trade Opposition to Monopolies, Local Self-government, and Strict Construction of the Constitution, as those vital and vivifying tenets of the Democratic faith which he thinks adapted to the present condition of our country, and which must inspire any political party that deserves to live.
 2d. That Mr. Groesbeck does not find association with the Democratic party as now organized, but would find association with the Democratic party, as reorganized and re-constituted, by personal and disinterested regard to the interests of the Democratic household as his political "home," and if the family does not decide to remove its household goods and its household gods into a new house, he proposes to dwell with it in the old one.
 3d. That Mr. Groesbeck neither takes himself, nor advises the Democratic party to take, the stool of repudiation.
 4th. That Mr. Groesbeck does not advise the supplementing of the Democratic creed by any new articles of faith borrowed from its political opponents.
 All of which is eminently orthodox and satisfactory, and betokens the sentiments of a grand Democrat.
 Per contra:
 1st. Mr. Groesbeck wishes to substitute the phrase "Liberal Democracy" as a new and improved designation for the Democratic party, a humanist name, which is to be substituted to disguise its identity, while the consent to take an alias at all would have a humiliating look as if the party had something to be ashamed of. The principles he proposes are no more liberal than those of the Democrats, and he is to be the same principles. We trust the party will never become liberal enough to accept those of its opponents. The Democracy has always been liberal in welcoming the persons of other political convictions, and has been so since its honest conversion to its principles.
 2d. Besides a new name for the vast body of citizens who have so long called themselves Democrats, Mr. Groesbeck desires that they disintegrate and reconstitute a new organization. But if the party is to hold fast the same principles, and to consist in the main of the same men, the new organization will be controlled by precisely the same will as the old one. All the talk about the party being a share of influence in the party councils propounded to their numbers. There is no supposable gain in which the members of the Democratic party would not have an overwhelming preponderance in the new organization, which, controlled by the same elements, would alter all in its substance the same party. What advantage would there be in this?
 The ostrich, which buries its head in the sand in the hope of concealing its body, was never conceived a wise bird.

The Salary Steel.
 It is indeed amusing and refreshing in these hot days, to notice how the rads wriggle and squirm to get around the "salary steel." The rads who have endorsed the action of the President, who by his willing signature made it a law. The rads who are almost universal in their denunciation of the "steel," and who are not content with a new organization, who voted for the measure which gave an increase of salary. This is right. The name of every member who voted for the "steel" should be paraded in the newspaper columns until every child in the land is familiar with the names of the rads who would have the child learn to abhor the name for all time to come. But whilst our radical friends are so busy lampooning the rads, why do they forget to apply the law to the rads who one who made them steel by his signature, which, he knew, if attached to a certain instrument, would give him the largest amount of the steel. Had there not been a provision in the bill for an increase of salary, the rads who voted never have become a law—the rads who have become a law by the President's love of money was stronger than his love of country, and that he would sacrifice every principle of honor and manhood to his own personal aggrandizement, and hence they cunningly included in the bill an increase of the President's salary with their own. With the trap thus baited, no stands before the rads, and no light than an ordinary thief. These are hard facts, to say the least, of the President's yet they are true; and had it been demonstrated instead of a republican President, how vituperated he would have been assailed by these very journals which are now so reticent concerning Grant and the "salary grab." Why is it that they do not make the President up to public scorn and hold him fast the thing which has soiled his name? Do they think that their continued silence will indicate the moral honesty of the thief? If so, morality is certainly so far from being a moral level, that it will not embellish the virtues of man and no longer be entitled. That the President is greedy, avaricious, corrupt, and devoid of all the principles that should characterize a man, who has over the top of his head, daily millions of beings, is manifest, and is daily becoming more so. There is no use in railing against him, as it only vindicates the money of Grant in his connection with the "salary steel." The only way for members of Congress for voting for the bill which would never have become a law but for the President's signature.

THE ASIANTEE WAR.
 The latest advices from the West African coast by way of London represent the Ashantee war as more serious than at first supposed. Writing from Sierra Leone, under date of June 20, the correspondent of the London Times gives a full account of the progress of hostilities up to June 14, when the town of Elmina was burned by the English because the Elminas were in active sympathy with the Ashantes. Before taking this step a proclamation was issued ordering the Elminas in the Castle of Elmina to all loyal people who were willing to take the oath of allegiance. The town afforded good shelter to any force advancing against the castle, and a large number of the Elminas people before the war began. Colonel Festing, with a force of Marine Artillery and Marine Light Infantry, landed at Cape Coast on the 8th, and assumed command of all the troops on the West Coast of Africa.
 The Ashantes now hold the entire country up to Cape Coast an Elmina, and have burned a village little more than a mile from Cape Coast Castle.
 An engagement between the Fantoes and Ashantee's took place at Donkwa, a village about fifteen miles inland from Cape Coast, in Denmark country. It began on the 4th, and that days fighting was intense. On the 6th the light was renewed, the Ashantee forces having concentrated during the night. After a stubborn resistance, the Fantoes were driven from all their positions with great slaughter. No English troops or houses were present at this engagement. The Fantoes fled in great confusion to Cape Coast, and were greatly harassed during their retreat, especially by a band of Ashantes which had been harbored by the Elminas.
 The town of Cape Coast is now in the hands of the Fantoes, over thirty thousand people having sought refuge there. Great distress exists among them from scarcity of food and water. The rains are unusually late, having only fallen three weeks behind hand. The only drinking water safe to use at Cape Coast is the rain water which is stored in large tanks. The water from the wells tends to be brackish, and is not used. The Fantoes mostly of all are European.
 From private letters received at Sierra Leone, it is stated that the Fantoes have killed a number of Ashantes this summer.

 The United States Vice-consul at Valencia announces that two of the vessels seized by the insurgents have sailed from that port with troops for Africa.

RELEASE OF THE BISHOP OF GRENADE.
 Madrid, July 29.—The Bishop of Grenada, who was held a prisoner of the Carlists, was released yesterday. The government forces in the city are actively resisting the assault, and the confident of driving off the Carlists.
A BATHING PARTY SURPRISED.
 Two Hundred Naked Urchins Chased through the Dry Dock.
 A novel and interesting sight was presented last night to the inhabitants of the East River and Sixth street by the appearance of a large party of boys, who, making quick time towards Avenue D, followed by a squad of the Eleventh Precinct police officers in hot pursuit. It appears that for the past month the boys in the vicinity of Sixth street have been engaged in a game of hide-and-seek with the police officers, and the boys, who are hundreds of men and boys, who, unimpeded by the feelings of the tender sex, stripped and dived from the docks. The matter having been called to the attention of the Chief of Police, he issued instructions to patrolmen to arrest any person found bathing without a bathing suit. Although this order was known to exist, the boys were, as usual, filled with defiance, and the police officers, on the whole, were twisting and squirming in the water hour after hour. Matters progressed finely until last night, when a sergeant accompanied by a number of patrolmen, issued orders to the boys to divide into three squads. The first squad, divided in the direction of pier 65, the second to the foot of Fifth street, where a boat was in waiting, while the remainder passed through a lumber yard and secreted themselves behind a grand old building and raft-log. In the meantime the sergeant, in order to gain a commanding position, where he could deliver his orders, walked carefully along Fifth street pier, and then behind the raft-log, and the boys, who were unable to find their way, grabbed those of their neighbors, and without waiting for further ceremony struck a blow for escape. So scattered was the crowd that it was impossible to catch all the boys, and the sergeant, who was able to capture only one, directed for the lumber yard and Sixth street dock. As soon as the naked army had left the water the two squads of police officers, who were waiting in the space of ten minutes an indescribable clothing commotion, and the boys, who were unable to find their way, grabbed those of their neighbors, and without waiting for further ceremony struck a blow for escape.
