Bonny Mary

mother wants to talk to you before you

My hairs are gray, I soon shall be at rest within the grave ; Not long will mother pilot you o'er life's tem pestuous wave.

I've watched o'er you from infancy till now you are a man,
And I have always loved you as a mother only my fears, And made my pillow hard at night, and moist ened it with tears.

I've seen a light within your eve, upon you That told me you were on the road that leads to shame and wee:

O John! don't turn your head away, and on my Stay more upon the dear old farm; there's danger in the town proved it true—

That "Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do."

If you live on in idleness, with those who lo You'll dig yourself a drunkard's grave, and wreck your deathless soul.

Your father, John, is growing old; his days Oh! he has labored very hard to save the farm

But it will go to ruin soon and poverty wil If you keep hitching Dobbin up to drive into the town.

Your prospects for the future are very bright, Not many have your start in life when they ar Your star that shines so brightly now in darkness will decline, If you forget your mother's words, and tarry Turn back, my boy, now in your youth; stay

The Lord of Hosts will save you, with his pow erful right arm. Not long will mother pilot you o'er life's tem-

Then light her pathway with your love, down to the silent grave.

SUNSHINE IN THE HOUSE.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

"Take that home with you, dear, said Mrs. Lewis, her maxner half smi-Take what home, Caddy?" And called in at the store of Mr. Edwards to purchase a few articles, and were now on their way home. There was no smile on the face of Mr. Lewis now, but a very grave expression instead—grave almost to sternness. The words of his wife had taken him altogether by surprise; and, though spoken lightly, had introduced in the spoken lightly, had introduced in the spoken lightly, had introduced in the second floor of his presidence, near Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street, New York, in the shawl and change her dress. Well did the premises in the store of Mr. Edwards to his head, smoothing back the dark harr, just showing a little frost, from his broad, manly temples.

A pleasant group was this for the eyes of Mrs. Lewis, as she came forth from her chamber to the sitting-room, where wife had taken him altogether by surprise; and, though spoken lightly, had introduced in his bed, smoothing back the dark harr, is the words of his head, smoothing back the dark harr, is the words of his head are horse. The words of his head, smoothing back the dark harr, is the words of his head, smoothing back the dark harr, is the words of his head are horse. There was no smile on the face of Mr. Lewis now, but a very grave expression instead—grave almost to sternness. The words of his head, smoothing back the dark harr, is the word of the premise almost to sternness. The words of his head of the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, smoothing back the dark harr, is the word of the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, can be a strength of the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, and the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, and the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, and the premise almost to sternness. The word of his bed, and the premise almost to stern the premise almost the premise almo to his words for tones of cheerfulness.

"Take that home with you, dear." Mrs. Lewis was already repenting this er's face.

suggestion, made on the moment's im"Mother understands," replied Mr.

and gracious knows, they were dark leave his cares and business behind him, and let us see the old, pleasant, smiling face again. I thought this morning that he had forgotten how to smile; but whispered: "If you are smiling and he moves and, who had not spoken a word since band, who had not spoken home?" Block after block was passed, and still there was silence between them.

"Of course," said Mrs. Lewis, speak"Of course," said Mrs. Lewis, speakfor home," said Mrs. Lewis, as she parted with her husband on the next parted with her husban still there was silence between them.

"Of course," said Mrs. Lewis, speaking in her own thoughts. "Of course he is offended. He won't bear a word I might have known, beforefrom me. I might have known, beforehand, that talking out in this way would ever, and evening saw them;

only make things worse. Oh, dear! not for the outside world.

I'm getting out of all heart?" many evenings saw the san "What then, Caddy?"

Mrs. Lewis almost started at the smiles, and the same happy home. A was not Mr. Lewis a better and happy sound of her husband's voice, breakman? Of course he was. And so wo shyly upturned face. would send warmth and radi-with feeling.

"You think so?"

"I know so! Only try it, dear, for this one evening."

Again a shadow dropped down upon the face of Mr. Lewis, which was again partly turned away, and again they walked on in silence.
"He is so sensitive!" Mrs. Lewis said to herself, the shadow on her hus-ban's face darkening over her own. "I have to be as careful of myself as if You thought the smile given to Mr. of the Orray Taft died. Edwards came easily enough?

"It did not seem to require an effort,"

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

Terms: $2.00 a Year, in Advance.

VOL. VI.

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1873.

NO. 40.

Facts and Fancies. Town has 10,500,000 acres of land un-der cultivation.

A lot of diamonds, worth $40,000, were lately seized while being smuggled into New York.

In the Waverly Park pigeon match, Myers shot 36 birds, missing 5; Quiraby

The latest floral offering in Philadelphia is a boquet frozen in the centre of a block of ice.

The U. S. Registered Letter Department earned the government $85,000

There are twenty million acres of wild land along the Mississippi River, of great rienness of soil.

Four women and one child were killed by an accident, recently, on the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad.

583,434.03.

hot 26, missing 15.

net profit the past year.

that repressed soberfeelings, and made smiling an easy thing. So we smile and are gay in company, at cost of little effort, because all are smiling and gay, and we feel the common sphere of excitement. How different it often is when we are alone, I need not say. You Caddy, are guilty of the sober ome as well as your husband." Lewis spoke with a tender reproof "But the sober face is caught from

And I have aways loved you as a mount of can;

At morning and at evening I have prayed the God of love

To bless and guide my darling boy to the bright "Very certain. You make the sunlight and the shadow of your home

A mother's eye is searching, John, old age enter into our feelings and interests, and there will be no brighter home in When watching o'er an only child to see if he all the land. A shadow on your coundoes right; And very lately I have seen what has aroused same is true as respects our children. Our pulses strike too nearly in union not to be disturbed when yours has lost its even beat.

Again Mr. Lewis walked on in silence, s face partly averted; and again his wife began to fear that she had spoken But he soon dispelled this apression, for he said:

impression, for he said:
"I am glad, Caddy, that you have spoken thus plainly. I only wish that you had done so before. I see how it is. My smiles have been for the outside world—the would that neither loved nor regarded me—and my clouded brow for the dear ones at home, for whom thought and care are ever-living

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were now their own door, where they paused a moment, and then went in. Instantly, on passing his threshold, Mr. Lewis felt the pressure upon him of his usual state. The hue of his feelings began to change. The cheerful, interested exterior put on for those he met in business intercourse, began rapidly to change, and a sober hue to succeed. Like most business men, his desire for profitable results was even far in adand his daily history was a history of He was not as willing to work and wait as he should be; and, like many of his class, neglected the pearls that lay here and there along his life-paths, because they were inferior in value to those he hoped to find just a little way in adwhen the day's business excitement was over, his mind fell into a brooding state, and lingered over its disappointnents, or looked forward with failing hope to the future—for hope in many things, has been long deferred. And so he rarely had smiles for his home. "Take that home with you, dear, whispered Mrs. Lewis, as they moved along the passage, and before they had joined the family. She had an instinctive consciousness that her husband was in danger of relapsing into

I will not forget them.' Jenny, Will, and Mary, met them with a new face, covered with fatherly smiles, and with pleasant questions in Now, Mrs. Lewis had spoken from the moment's impulse, and already partly regretted her remark.

"Take what home?" repeated her the connected with the moment's repeated her the connected with the connected with the 7th Cavalry, response was instant. Little Jenny and was greatly esteemed by officers the connected with the 7th Cavalry, response was instant. "That smiling face you turned upon Mr. Edwards, when you answered his question just now."

"That smiling face you turned upon Mr. Edwards, when you answered his question just now."

"That smiling face you turned upon came and stood by his chair, answering sional qualities. He resided in Adrian, Mich. Mr. Baliran was also a favorite Mary, older by a few years than the in the cavalry. He has a wife and question just now."

Mary older by a few years than the in the cavalry. He has a wife and rest, leaned against her father's should child in Memphis, Tenn. and walked on in silence. They had er, and laid her white hand softly upon called in at the store of Mr. Edwards to his head, smoothing back the dark hair, arred upon his ears.

The truth was, Mr. Lewis, like a look she gave him; and warmly did her

"And we have cause to be happy," Mr. Lewis answered the father, as he drew his arm many evenings saw the same cheerful smiles, and the same happy home. And was not Mr. Lewis a better and happier ing, unexpectedly, upon her ear, in a all men be, if they would take home oftened tone.

"What then?" he repeated, turning often exhibit, as they meet their fellowmen in business intercourse, or exchange words in passing compliments. Take your smiles and cheerful words Perils of Whaling. "It isn't so easy a thing to put on a smiling face, Caddy, when thought is oppressed with care."

"It did not seem to require much effort just now," said Mrs. Lewis, glancing up at her husband with something of archnese in her look.

The solution of the latter of of the la ing the bark Ansel Gibbs went ashore a the same place, went to pieces, and is a total wreck. The Orray Taft had no oil, but the Ansel Gibbs had 550 barrels of whale oil and 11,000 pounds of bone, most of which was lost. A small amount was saved by the Abbie Brad-ford. No men were lost at the time of the wrecks, but both crows were obliged talking to a spoiled child."

No, it did not require much effort on the part of Mr. Lewis to smile as he passed a few words, lightly, with Mr. Edwards. The remark of his wife had not really displeased him; it had only set him to thinking. After remaining gravely silent, because he was undergoing a brief self-examination, Mr. Lewis said—the wrecks, but both crews were obliged to live on the island until the 2d of August last, and from exposure and the scurvy. The winter was fearfully cold, being the most severe for a number of years, so that the natives of the island died by scores, and the wrecked crews suffered exceedingly. Ten of the crew of the Ansel Gibbs and four of the crew

Under the new judicial system "It did not seem to require an effort," replied Mrs. Lewis.

"No, not much effort was required," said Mr. Lewis. His tones were slightly depressed. "But this must be taken into the account; my mind was in a certain state of excitement, or activity,"

Two Non-Combatants Killed.

An Episode in the Fight With the In-Two Indians of the party who agaged in the fight with Custer in the Northwest, says a reporter, who had made the diversion from the main body to cut off stragglers from the train were for the "Bad Lands." They were hotly pursued by the cavalry and Lieut, Brush, but under cover of the numerous ravines which afforded them a favorable opportunity of escape, succeeded in cluding their pursuers. The Indians are thoroughly acquainted such ground they are more than a match for our best American horses. The two bodies were found by a party

The consequence was that, and tried to turn their horses back. They refused to be convinced, and the have been shot in the saddle. They had turned after seeing the Indians, nd tried to climb the bluffs. The Indians had fired and brought them both down. The Doctor, having the better horse, had nearly reached the top of the bluff, when the ball overteek him. Strange to say, neither of the party were scalped. The Indians took

The warning was just in time.
"Thank you for the words!" said he. And he did not; but at once rallied himself, and to the glad surprise of into that face for sunshine, or listened in. "What do you mean by that?" asked "What do you mean by that?" asked Mary, looking curiously into her fathpulse. Her husband was sensitive to a fault. He could not bear even an implied censure from his wife. And so she had learned to be very guarded in this particular.

"Take that home with you, dear! Ah me! I wish the words had not been had learned to be very guarded in this particular.

"Take that home with you, dear! Ah me! I wish the words had not been had learned to be very guarded in this particular."

"You and mother look so happy," while had not been had learned to be very guarded in this particular.

"You and mother look so happy," while had not been had learned to be very guarded in this particular.

ance through the whole house," said Mrs. Lewis, her tones all a-tremble with feeling.

And the whole house, said brothers, and Gibson as to be easily mistaken for him brothers. Your hearts are cold and was set upon and beaten so brutally dark without them.

fore night.

with these "Bad Lands," and their toward the top. The water rises naturponies are used to climbing them. In such ground they are more than a and is taken from this depth by steam with an accomplice. Instead of going level of the evaporating vaits. Each point of infantry. They proved to be the bodies of Dr. Honsinger and Mr. Baliran, the cavalry suller. Dr. Honsinger and the cavalry suller. Dr. Honsinger are said through the body by a Henry rifle ball. Mr. Baliran was killed by two arrows which entered his back, coming out through his stomach. Ever since we left Fort Rice, in spite of the growing out through his stomach. Ever since we left Fort Rice, in spite of the growing out through his stomach and the iron is precipitated to the bottom, the store or moss agate, wandering from half a limit to two mines; but Dr. Honsinger was never known to leave the column. Wr. Baliran seldom left it. Dr. H. was the last man in the expectition who was the last man in the expectition who was the last man in the expectition who was a saily explained. The day was one of intense heat. The Doctor's horse had and no water since morning. The river lay only a mile away. The train would evidently camp on the river was the surveying early with a cavalry guard. There seemed to be little danger in going to with his soldiers. A couple of miles as a back along the river was the surveying party with a cavalry guard. There seemed to be little danger in going to which are found to be cheaper and between the same reason. One of our Indian secunts who could not speak English met the two as they were descending into the valley. The sall is should to be cheaper and between the same reason. One of our Indian secunts who could not speak English met the two as they were descending into the valley. The quick eye of the secunt had seen the Indians. He stop-

Mr. Baliran's money, amounting to about $100, and the Doctor's watch. The bodies were not mutilated. Per-

1870. The occupants of the premises at the time were the deceased, his two sons, Washington and Frederick, a woman servant and her son, a young man of twenty-four, named Kelly. All The truth was, Mr. Lewis, like a great many other men who have their own cares and troubles, was in the habit of bringing home a sober, and, too often, a clouded face. It was in vain that his wife and children looked into that face for sunshine, or listened into that face for sunshine, or listened looked into that face for sunshine, or listened looked into the fact was in the building before the family retired. There were no signs of housebreaking, and it is probable that, as the house and it is probable that, as the house was undergoing repairs, and as the front door was left wide open during the whole day to allow of the easy in gress or egress of the workmen, the per petrator of the deed entered from the street in the ordinary way without at-tracting attention, secreted himself in the library, and awaited the coming of Mr. Nathan, to possess himself of the key of the safe which it was his intention to rifle. The instrument used by the murderer was a ship carpenter's iron dog, which it was supposed had been stolen from a house in Fifth avenue in 1869 by burglars who used it and let us see the old, pleasant, smiling face again. I thought this morning that he had forgotten how to smile; but I see that he can smile, if he tries. Ah! I see that he can smile, if he tries. Ah! I he had forgotten how to smile; but heaven."

Superintendent Jourdan as a most important clue. Some of the burglars portant clue. Some of the burglars who had entered the Fifth avenue mandatelen the dog therefrom sub-So Mrs. Lewis taiked to herseil, as she moved along by the side of her husband, who had not spoken a word since her reply to his query, "Take what home?" Block after block was passed, the felt a rebuke in her words. But the rebuke did not throw a thill over his feelings; it only gave a new home?" Block after block was passed, the felt a rebuke in her words. But the rebuke did not throw a thill over his feelings; it only gave a new home?" Block after block was passed, the felt a rebuke in her words. But the rebuke in her words. But t der. This murder has received new in terest from the confession of Irving in California, who confesses to a partici-

Assaulting an Editor.

A Harlem, N. Y., correspondent gives the details of the brutal assault upon the editor of the Local of that place. The paper had been out spoken in local politics. Threats annoymous and open were made, but the editor kept on. Some months ago Gibson, the editor, having received a caution not to attend a meeting, persisted in attending, and there made an exposure. Within two or three nights a young man so like the penalty of his unluckly resemblance for years. Gibson, despite this warning, persisted in his course. A man accosted him at the door of his office, asked him if his name was Gibson, and on his affirmative reply threw the contents of a tin cup in his face. The cup contained vitriol, and as a result, the editor had one eye burned out and the sight of the other impaired. It seems probable that as Mr. Gibson had a clear view of the assailants, there were two in company, and as he did not know them they were imported scoundrels-murderers by the job.

him and the bill was paid be-

A whirlwind on a Manitoba prairies is related to have formed a "hay spout."

The Oneida Communists are controlled to have formed a "hay spout."

How Salt is Made at Kanawha.

We recently visited the great Kan and to see the process of manufacturing this article of universal table use. The deposit exists here in the form of brine, which is drawn up from wells from 300 has to 1.000 feet in depth. It is found on th sides of the Kanawha river for fif- vitude for life.

down the river for the Western market or to be transferred to the Chesapeake and burst the "bubble." Bidw the Kanawha and Ohio Rivers to all the McDonnell's magnificent dressing case, large packing cities in the West, and worth five kundred dollars, is still in munication with the East. The the Sheriff's office in New York, under retail price of the salt here is $1.60 per attachment.

Some time of 50 lbs. From the impurities in the manufacture 120 lbs. of bromine are made daily, which is sold for 75 cents a pound. Lands in the valley for agricultural purposes are worth from $100 tb. tural purposes are worth from $100 to $150 per acre, and the lands that will yield brine worth from $500 to $2,000 to $150 per acre, and the lands that will yield brine worth from $500 to $2,000 t

oer acre. they
The only drawback to the prosperity life. like monopoly. It would seem that an article of necessity, in use upon every man's table, should have all the advantage of account of a constitution of a co age of competition, and be furnished s cheaply as possible. It is claimed salt butter in a very creditable manner before Kanawha came into their mar-Now that communications are on with Onondaga and Liverpool, we all soon have opportunity to judge of their comparative merits.

of thees monstrous dog-horses.

In the olden time, before communi cation was opened through St. Paul, the mail reached the settlement just one in six months, by way of Hudson's Bay. One enthusiastic resident took the London Times, receiving it in half-yearly

Did not Like it
A South Boston woman of wealth who lons from two to four quarts of cream, had run up a milliner's bill, when it which they sell at the rate of one dollar had run up a milliner's bill, when it which they sen at the late of one dathar was presented, gave the money to her per gallon. They then put about a bushand to pay it but he instead put tablespoonful of brown sugar in liquid was presented, gave the money to her husband to pay it, but he instead put the money in his pocket, and gave a forged receipt to his wife. After several months of waiting, the creditor dunned the lady for her money. "Why," said she in surprise. "your bill is paid, and I have your receipt in my pocket." Thus was the forgery discovered; but it is hardly necessary to state how that woman whirled out of that shop and went for that recreant husband; she is the most experienced dairy-woman whirled out of that shop and went for that recreant husband; she public will not pay enough for pure to the money in his pocket." went for that recreant husband; she public will not pay enough for pure

The King of Forgers,

awha Valley to examine the salt works | The Last Voyage of McDonnell, the Bank The attempt of the Bank of England forgers to break jail in the old country, called attention again to those both sides of the Kanawha river for fiften miles above Charleston in West Virginia. The brine at the Snow Hill Furnace Works, which is in the heart of the saline district, is reached by boring to the depth of 900 to 1,100 feet. The well at the bottom is three and a half inches in diameter and grows larger toward the ton. The water rises nature toward the ton. The water rises nature toward the ton. pumps into a large, reservoir above the level of the evaporating vats. Each pump delivers from 15 to 40 gallons a minute according to its capacity, and it obtained letters of credit on a house in met the two as they were descending into the valley. The quick eye of the scout had seen the Indians. He stopped the Doctor, and said: "Indians, Indians." "No, no," said the Doctor; "they are cavalry, cavalry." The scout book hold of their bridle-reins and tried to turn their horses back. and Ohio railroad at Charleston for the ordered a magnificent trunk for his voy scout left them to their fate. It must have been soon after that the Indians were upon them. The nature of the wounds showed that both men must cost about $30,000. One very great additional and Onio railroad at Charleston for the same of the works is about $125,000. The copper works is about $25,000. The copper works is about $25,000. One very great additional and Onio railroad at Charleston for the same of the vantage which the manufacturers here ave is the extreme low prices of fuel lieved by the detectives that McDonnell and the facility for transportation. The best of splint coal is taken from the mines close by and delivered at a cost of from one delivered at a cost of from one delivered at a cost of the was seized she from one dollar to a dollar and a quart-er a ton. The sait has water carriage by

Some time time before he was extrathey get me there you can bet I'll get The only drawback to the prosperity of the large salt manufacturer is the danger of over production, which depresses the price. To guard against this was quite chivalric in his notions of forgery. He would never forge the name gery. There is too much by the strong parties in the business rent the works of their weaker brethren to of a poor man or a poor corporation. It lie still. This prevents competition to a said that he was so marvelously a certain extent, and looks a good deal expert that he had only to get a glance

A New York paper gives this instance as cheapiy as possible. It is claimed by the salt manufacturers here that by the salt manufacturers here that they make the purest and best salt in the world. This will be received with some grains of allowance in the East, where they managed to pack meat and where they managed to pack meat and bear dand moustache, called on Police beard, and moustache, called on Police Superintendent Matsell and said that he had been swindled out of $140. In Shandakin, Ulster county, he carries on business as a chair maker, keeps a saw nill, and works a farm. He comes to New York about once a month to fill orders for chairs, and collects considerable money. On Wednesday he arrived The Hudson Bay Company.

The Hudson Bay Company had, in took a room at a hotel. In the evening an early day, nearly a monopoly of the rade of the north-western section, and ly-dressed young man, who by adroit trade of the north-western section, and they were as independent of all the arts of winning custom by obliging manners as the French merchants in the days of Moliere. The store was shut up three hours in the misdle of the day for dinner and the customers. shut up three hours in the misdle of the day for dinner, and the customers roasted in the sun outside until it opened. A clerk throws the desired goods at a purchaser and seizes his money abruptly. No wrapping-paper is furnished, but each customer brings a large colored handkerchief for tea, another for sugar, and so on. Only one quality of tea is sold; but that is good. A certain number of chests are opened every morning. If they should be empticed by noon none will be opened until A certain number of classics are opened every morning. If they should be emptited by noon none will be opened until the next morning, though some customthe next morning, though some customers may have come twenty miles to buy tea.

The commerce of the settlement in that day was carried on by means of carts, to which were hitched single oxen or ponies. The same carts are used now on the hunt. These carts are made without metal; the wheels are tired with deer-thongs. The long trains of several hundred carts, with great cumbrous wheels, are strangely gortesque. In the winter this gives way to dog-sledges. Such dogs! I trembled at sight of them, until I found that they were not given to biting. One man kept twenty-four of thees monstrous dog-horses.

The commerce of the settlement in that day was carried on by means of carts, to which were hitched single oxen or ponies. The same carts are used now on the hunt. These carts are made without metal; the wheels are tired with deer-thongs. The long trains of several hundred carts, with great cumbrous wheels, are strangely gortesque. In the winter this gives way to dog-sledges. Such dogs! I trembled at sight of them, until I found that they were not given to biting. One man kept twenty-four of thees monstrous dog-horses. money." So saying he went out, but Mr. Whitney remained, as he says, remonstrating with the lottery dealer, but could not influence him either toreturn a deadly enmity which has existed bedollar of his own money or the $300 which he had won.

The Transportation Question.

What a New York Merchant has to Say on the Subject. At the cheap transportation meeting in New York, represented by $500,000,000,000 in capital, A. W. Tenney, in the course of his remarks, said: The subject of Cheap Transportation concerns not the banker, the merchant, and the pitalist of our States alone, but it oncerns the mechanic, the farmer, the manufacturer, and the consumer of this entire land. To a man of wealth it matters little what may be the price of barrel of flour or a ton of coal, but to those sons of toil who earn their daily bread by the sweat of their brows and the blood of their hearts it matters much what they pay in dollars and cents for the necessities of life. It is to them an earnest and sober question. Workmen! why is it that you are paying $11 and $12 for a barrel of flour ing $11 and $12 for a barrel of hour when you should not pay more than $8, and perhaps not more than $7? The reason is found in the great expense necessary to transport that barrel of four from the wheat-fields of the West flour from the wheat helds of the West to the grain-marts of the East. Why is it you are obliged to pay $9 and $10 for coal when you should not pay more than $6, and perhaps not more than $5? The reason is not because of the scarcity of coal nor the want of laborers, nor is the fault to be found in Elizabethport or in and around the markets of New York. The reason is the great price charged by railroads for the transporta-tion of the coal from the mines of Pennsylvania to the coal markets of New York. Why is it that the farmers of the West are, as a class, poorer today than they were five years ago? Why are their farms more habitually rtgaged, and the owners themselves The answer is simply that the labor of their hands has proved unremuner-ative, from the fact that they have been unable to pay the enormous freight charges for transporting their products to the buyers and consumers in the East. The question of cheap trans-portation then applies itself directly to the industrial interests of the country; and if we would have general prosperity among all classes of our citizens, we must foster and protect with jealous care the industries of the Republic. We nust have the benefits of cheap transportation at once for the farming inprosperity depends not upon the prosperity of a few, but upon the general prospealty of all. The draft drawn at sight upon the blood and sinews of the door man will have to be honored and paid sooner or later by the blood and sinews of the rich man. What we want is that every man will stand shoulder to shoulder with his fellow man, and that every branch of industry shall be the equal and the counterpart of every father, and no scoper is it settled on she returns the child cries to go to its equal and the counterpart of every father, and no scoper is it settled on special committee, whose report at the same time theatrically as shoot! at the same time theatrically as shoot! at the same time theatrically as shoot are aring open hig vest. I made a short explanation of my conduct to the Senate, after which the affair was referred to a special committee, whose report and the evidence annexed thereto occupy one large printed volume, in which future generations will find a huge and somewhat incongraous mass of facts of the evidence annexed thereto occupy one large printed volume, in which future generations will find a huge and somewhat incongraous mass of facts of a very ludicrous and interesting character."

In Minnesota there were reported for tions of new States, developing the untood guard over him:

"Mac, what can they give you on the I honor here to-night the City of New won't take it.

for a dozen years. The filling comes out in six months. A man over the way is in need of a temporary loan. picked in the morning, when they are two days old. He lies, and will lie about anything. The book-publisher advertises that his book is selling by all this deception and lying? Why so much falsifying and cheating? In the ame of all that is good we beg you to o as you agree!

which he had won.

A Brital Woman,
Moria Monico, a young woman of great beauty and courage, is the leader of past of the former. The lathest won the most rathless and extortionated and a year which the next ruthless and extortionated and a year which the waster the midd to if a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare were tree in the midst of a battle and sare was freal to him.

If we was not a were the read in the waster of the third in the Death from Eating Toad Stools.

This community, says a Darien, Conn. letter, has been in a state of excitement occasioned by the sudden death of a well known and respectable lady, long a resident of the town. The circu ces of the case are as follows:—On Sun-day morning last Mr. Albert Brush, a lawyer practicing in Norwalk, son of Mr. A. C. Brush, and Miss Lillie Brush his sister, went into a tract of wood, near Noroton depot, to gather mushrooms. Their object in this was to present a rare treat to their father on his return from church. They obtained a peck basket full of what they supposa peck basket full of what they suppos-ed were mushrooms, but which proved to be toadstools—a deadly poison when taken into the stomach. They returned taken into the stomach. They returned home very happy in their success; had the mushrooms dressed, and Mrs. Brush conked them with great skill. Mr. Brush came from church at one o'clock, and at once the family sat down to dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Brush and their son ate heartily of the mushrooms. The daughter simply tasted, but did not swallow any of them. During the afternoon more than once the conversation turned upon the delightful meal they had enjoyed, and how thankful they should feel that children could exercise so much forethought in behalf of their parents. At one o'clock Monday morning the three who had eaten of the mushrooms were taken deathly sick. Each arose and began vomiting, at the same time suffergan vomiting, at the same time suffergan vomiting, at the same time same, in general surface only a day ing excruciating pains in the stomach. Medical aid was called, but little could two before that he had publicly thr

The Baby Shown to Visitors.

It is an odd fact no baby ever did, and no baby ever will, behave in com-equal and the counterpart of every father, and no sooner is it settled on ther, as we go forth to lay the foundathe size of a common bedcord, put it in the mouth of the horse like a bit, and tied it tightly on the animal's head, passing his left ear under the string, about anything. The book-paths advertises that his book is selling by the tens of thousands, when he has not sold a thousand. He is a liar, and not one door from the murderer.

Everywhere, everywhere we hear lying, lyin

Foote and Benton.

"A scene occurred in the Senate be tween Mr. Benton and myself which should here briefly explais. In the summer of 1850, while Mr. Calhoun spectrul aimsions to the Hustrious de-ceased. I stepped to the chair of Mr. Butler, Mr. Calhoun's own Senatorial colleague, and urged him to say some-thing in response. He seemed not ex-actly to understand the import of Mr. Benton's words, and therefore responded to him in a very confused and ineffective avoid doing injury to any one else; for I undoubtedly did not intend to suc-cumb to his violence while in the deportation at once for the farming interest of Illinois, for the cotton port of Mississippi, for the coal mining of Pennsylvania, and for the manufacturing interests of New England. The interests of the North, South, East and West are mutual and reciprocal. You cannot, you cannot over-enrich one class of your citizens without correspondingly impoverishing another. True prosperity depends not upon the general perity of a few, but upon the general as she can rattle, and both talk at once the formulation of the manufacturing interests of the North, South, East and West are mutual and reciprocal. You cannot, you cannot over-enrich one class of your citizens without correspondingly impoverishing another. True prosperity depends not upon the general and no baby ever will, behave in company. The mother always brings armed he paused, and in a second or two allowed Gov. Dodge, the venerable sented him self Mr. Benton saw I was armed he paused, and in a second or two allowed Gov. Dodge, the venerable two shies class of the pause division is, dressed in its clean dress, and its father and its aunt come in smiling at the same time. After the visitor has kissed the baby and taken to him the prosperity depends not upon the general company. The whother always brings armed he paused, and in a second two allowed Gov. Dodge, the venerable two silvers the baby and taken to him to his chair. Before he had fairly reseated himself, Mr. Dickinson, of New York, asked me for my pistol, which I willingly handed him. Then it was class of your citizens without correspondingly impoverishing another. True prosperity of a few, but upon the general company.

There is a good deal said in censure way is in need of a temporary loan.
You lend him a small sum, which he promises to retun at a given time. He keeps it a month over the time. An auctioneer tells you that a certain picture is by a master artist, when he knows it was painted by a fourth-rate painter. He is not worthy of trust. A salesman lies about his goods. A bootmaker lies about your boots. The jeweler lies about your watch. The gossiper at the dinner table tells exaggerated stories to astonish the ladies, and is nothing more than a liar. The florist assures you that his flowers were picked in the morning, when they are

Kentucky papers give an account of a deadly enmity which has existed between two brothers, named Jasper and Clay Wadkins, for a year or two past, and has resulted in the murder of the latter by the wife of the former. The Burksville Courier says that Clay was badly wounded. At any rate, Clay, as he was leaving his mother's house, received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the hands of either Jasper Wadkins or of his wife. The load took effect in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the hands of either Jasper Wadkins or of his wife. The load took effect in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the hands of either Jasper Wadkins or of his wife. The load took effect in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the hands of either Jasper Wadkins or of his wife. The load took effect in the back, and would in all probability have received the contents of a double-barreled shot-gun in the fact of the former. The barreled have the back and the back in the b horses.

Destruction of a Slayer.

"When steaming t) the southward, along the Arabian coast, on our way to Zanzibar to join the admiral, says the locomotive did not fire the barn, but the grass and it was the grass which

Scene in the U. S. Senate Chamber.

On some of the wooden railways of Canada trains have been run at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour. The last murderer hanged in Virginia remarked that he "was going to meet his little babies in heaven." Should Don Carlos gain the throne of The most bashful girl we ever heard of was the young lady who blushed when she was asked if she had not been Mother says I musn't" is the way in which Peoris boarding-house keepers gently insinuate a refusal to give credit to uncertain young men. A decree has been issued at Havana that on and after Oct. I half of the duties on articles of luxury imported into Cuba must be paid in gold. Cubs must be paid in gold.

It is said that the high notes of a violin string are secompanied with sufficient communion to explode iodide of nitrogen on paper affixed to it.

The London Morning Post says that during the last ten years 2,302,234 persons emigrated from Great Britain; of these, 768,165 were English. these, 768,165 were English.

The new forts around Paris have been begun. There will be twenty-two of them. It is said that when erested the siege of Paris will be impossible.

Daniel Drew, Thurlow Weed, and Governor Dix, of New York, draw $8 per month from the United States Government as pensioners of the war of 1812. ing. in order to strike me when in this unprotected attitude. I had been warned by Senator Pratt only a day or ing excruciating pains in the stomach. Medical aid was called, but little could be done to alleviate. Mrs. Brush, being in delicate health, was completely prostrated. A counsel of physicians was called, but it was of no use. She lingered until the afternoon of Monday and then died. No post-mortem was held. The physicians were in attendance, and have been persistently attentive to the wants of the survivors. The son is yet a great sufferer, and doubts are expressed as to his recovery. The father's condition is little, if any, improved, and only by the greatest care can he be restored. The poisoning is a subject of general conversation, the difference between mushrooms and toad stools never having been; brought in question before.

warned by Senator Fratt only a day or two before that he had publicly threatened to do me violence in the Senate if lever undertook to allude to him again, arms for my own defense. I was wearing at the moment a Colt's revolver, which I certainly intended to use should it become necessary. On drawing it, I took a step or two to the right, which carried me to the central aisle of the Senate. I then turned to use should it become necessary. On drawing it, I took a step or two to the right, which carried me to the central aisle of the Senate. I then turned toward the central door of the chamber, intending certainly if Mr. Benton should pass the corner near my seat and advance a single step down the aisle I was standing in, after having warned him of my intention, to fire upon him at once, conceiving that in shooting in the direction of the central door I should be able to avoid doing injury to any one else; for great activity continues in all the ship-yards of the country, new and large construction orders being constantly re-The Norwegian papers publish an account of the discovery of the bodies of eighteen sailors, who were surprised by the ice to the north of Switzbergen and frozen to death. The steamer Jay Cooke, plying be-tween Cleveland and Put-in Bay, ran on four were drowned and one had his ahoulder broken. One of the best puns ever made by the late Phoebe Cary was this: "Why was Robinson Crusoe's man Friday like a rooster? Because he scratched for the month of august three suicides and twenty-eight fatal accidents. Four of Fostering a Bad Practice: the latter were owing to the indiscrimin ate use of the combined mower and I crief in life the City of New York for the promptness with which this stand has been taken. This is not the first time that New York has taken her place on the side of right and on the side of the people.

The Carse of the Hour.

There is too much lying.—On every hand we meet with exaggeration, equivors the work of the work of

This sad and serious obituary is from

This sad and serious containty is from a Philadelphia paper: Samuel was a good child; his temper sweet, his as-pect mild, and when he breathed the vital air he often soothed his parents'

A few evenings since a coarse upstart having at a party exhibited his lack of gentlemanliness in the presence of a witty young lady, she remarked, "He's almost a perfect brute; all he lacks is in-

In Minnesota there were reported for gold leaf, and maroon, and Phillips.

There was an elderly person who saw Phillips do this, and his eyes glistened with anticipation. He was going on the western train, and when it came along he waited until a fine rate of little care in exterminating these wor

> A recent railway traveler in Kansas ceports that hundreds of tons of buffalo bones have been gathered by the settlers and piled up at the stations awaiting shipment East, where they will be used for making bone-black for the sugar refinery, or ground for manure. An order was recently received at a Canada hotel to reserve five hundred rooms for a party that would soon ar-rive, and when a modest Bridgeport man with four friends arrived on the