Plant a Home, Toung beginners in life's morning

Don't forget the rainy day; Or the heart be always gay. Lay up something as you roam-Choose some blooming spot of beauty

Some fair lot, and, "plant a home."

You, too, having babes around you. Coming up to take your place : Give them something to remembe Homestead memories let them trace Would you feel the pride of manhood Breath the blessed air of freecom. Own the soil beneath your feet.

Aspiration. If I could send to distant seas,

With spreading sails and kindly breeze, And sweat that comes of loss and gain,

The castles I would have in Spain-If I could lay all sin aside. And take the Savior as my guide, And have no other rule beside

And catch a bauble men call fame And never know the sting of blame If cruel gain came not by stealth,

Across the current of my health, If I could claim the good and great. Those fellowship is rich estate, And feel their friendly correlate

Then life would pay its simple cost, And hope and fame would not be lost. Upon Time's ocean tempest-tossed. But man hath cares and toil hath stings And riches take upon them wings, And labor only honor brings.

Alas! my ships lie on the strand My castles in the Spanish land, Are built of rainbows on the sand.

The eyes of my Frederica were as blue as the sky, or as the sash that bound her slim waist; her complexion was of lily purity; her lips were as rosebuds bursting into flower; her hair his daughter; and afterwards she be-came the Frederica of another. Still I came the Frederica of another. Still I wentured to call her mine—absurd as it may seem. I even call her mine now.

I was christened Hans, which showed, perhaps, that my family did not expect great things of me; for Hans has, somehow, come to signify a foolish sort of fellow all the world over "Hans of fellow all the world over. "Hans is slow, but he is sure," my father was wont to say of me. Slow? very likely. But sure. How, and of what?

I did not distinguish myself as a stu-badly-stitched sabre cut. I did not fight duels because I liked fighting, but

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

Terms: $2.00 a Year, in Advance.

VOL. VII.

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1874.

now thoroughly despises, rambling be hind him. His hands are so numb he can hardly undo the fastenings of the door; his legs have awakened, and Frederica had let fall, now her kerchief, now her bouquet. In my haste to gather up and restore these treasures I memories, drams, my head busning, where the stream of the matter of the more in the stream of the matter of the memory of the

A Strangely, Sad Story,

A Little Girl Beaten and Bruised by a Burglar--A Novel in one Chapter.

Astounding Operations of the Missouri Banditti.

The may be seen in an up-town mil-its author. The Dean delivered the prayer in a very impressive manner, though he somewhat marred the effect by trying to raise his voice too high.

"At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal pair turned round to receive the salutations of the Empress, who had been standing with difficulty, and who looked very pale and feeble. She embraced her daughter, and gave her a long kiss. At this moment guns from the fortress beliowed forth their more boisterous greeting, and the splendid Russian bells shook a hundred spires.

"Slowly and solemnly the cortege took up once more its march. The bride looked pleased that the long ceremonial was over, and both she and the Duke of Edinburgh walked out of the hall with a quicker and more elastic step."

Expenses of the United States.

Service of the control of the contro hideousness. This is the moral. All young people should remember that a sweet disposition will compensate for a forehead jammed in by a flat-iron. And though their ears be knocked to the top of their heads and stick up like a donkey's, they can walk off on those ears and be happy—if only they are good and cultivate nice manners.

I think they are a regular set of roghters, and am positive they are the same bers, and am positive they are the same gang who robbed the coach at Hot compensate for a forehead jammed in by a flat-iron. And though their ears be knocked to the top of their heads and stick up like a donkey's, they can walk off on those ears and be happy—if only they are good and cultivate nice manners.

I think they are a regular set of roghters, and am positive they are the same bers, and am positive they are the same bers, and am positive they are the same politics.

We proclaim it among our purposes to inculcate a proper appreciation of the abilities and sphere of woman, as indicated by admitting her to membership and position in our order.

State line, and also at Mill Springs on Friday, the day before the robbery of our train, The left a special with a special with a continuous, and will be principles weteach underlie all true bers, and am positive they are the same gang who robbed the coach at Hot We proclaim it among our purposes to inculcate a proper appreciation of the abilities and sphere of woman, as indicated by admitting her to membership and position in our order.

New Jersey's iron mines panned out of fire would be removed."

The Robbers of the West.

the may be seen in an up-town mil-linery store here, says a New York cor-respondent, a pale and sad-faced woman, who, if any stranger gives her a second glance, bends over her work following statement of the audacious a second glance, bends over her work and seeks to hide her awfully mutilated countenance.

The forehead is crushed into her

"Dean Stanley began the exhortation in a lond voice, which, on account of horseness, he was soon forced to abarbab don. As the ceremony proceeded the Duke seemed rather nervous, but look of pretty steadily at Dean Stanley; while the Grand Duchess cast her every the bound of the organs of the Duke seemed rather nervous, but look a pretty steadily at Dean Stanley; while the Grand Duchess cast her every the bound of the organs of the bound with the Boan closely only during the usual interrogatories. In giving the vowe, the Duke answered in a very lound voice, it will, which was audible and when the Dean Stanley asked, 'Who giveth this woman,' who simply bowed. In giving the vowe, who simply bowed. In giving her works after the church. When Dean Stanley asked, 'Who giveth this woman,' who simply bowed. In giving her works after the clergyman in a clear, subline the Grand Duchess repeated the words after the clergyman in a clear, subline the organization of the ring was more time to be an extended to the condition of the ring was more time to be an extended to the bound his bloody thumb up with the grand Duchess repeated to had been asked with the organ of the relief was more time to be an extended to the bound his bloody thumb up with the grand buches asked with the organ of the relief was more presentation of the ring was the state of the bridgeroom. The Duke was somewhat embarrassed by the Frayer Book which he held, and tried to had to be a standard to the train-bearer behind. That it is to the train-bearer behind. That it is to the train-bearer behind. That it is to the train dear the profered gift. The Grand Duchess, who was waiting, then offered to take the profered gift. The Grand Duchess who was waiting, then offered to take the profered gift. The Grand Duches who was the profered gift. The Grand Duchess who was waiting the near the profered gift. The Grand Duches who was the profered gift, the Grand Duches who was the profered gift. The Grand Duches who was the profered gift. The Grand Duches who was the pr warm. It turned out that the place was in possession of five desperadoes, three of whom were armed with double bartelled guns, and all had navy revolvers. As soon as I got there, on seeing the red flag, I jumped off the train, thinking that the track was torn up. A man advanced and caught me by the collar and stuck a pistol in my face. He was at least six feet in height, and wore a mask on his face composed of white cloth, like a handkerchief, and the lower portion was tucked in his bosom. There were holes for his eyes and nose. I was a little surprised, but understood his object when he shouted, on thrusting his pistol in my face: "Stand I was a little surprised, but under-stood his object when he shouted, on thrusting his pistol in my face: "Stand still, or I'll blow the top of your head of." He at the same time yelled: "If a shot is fired out of the car I will kill the conductor." By this time two of the ruffians, masked alike, went to the engineer and fireman of the train and made them come down. Another of the robbers, also masked and armed, the robbers, also masked and armed, took a position on the opposite side of the train, and as any of the passengers stuck their heads out of the windows he drew a bead on them with a double-barrelied shot-gun, and shouted, "Take your heads in and not move out of the car!" a summons which they thought prudent to obey, or take the contents of his gun. The captured engineer and fireman were brought to the platform where I was beld a prisoner, and were prudent to obey, or take the contents of his gun. The captured engineer and fireman were brought to the platform where I was held a prisoner, and were told to stand there or they would be shot. The robbers then ordered the brakeman and baggageman to stand beside me. Two of the desperadoes then

The amount expended on the Penn sylvania Constitutional Convention was $410,723,

An Albany woman applied for a di-vorce nine years ago and just got it the

Here is the newest floral sentiment: "If you wish for heart's ease, don't look to marigold."

McCarty, the Virginia duelist, helped ais case by soming into court on

Take care of your health and wife; they are the two better halves that make aman of you.

The Spanish Government is said to have agreed to an exchange of prisoners with the Carlists.

A bank must be a poor place to impart a secret, as there is a cash car and a teller there constantly.

MY FREDERICA, The eyes of my Frederica were as blue as the sky, or as the sash that bound her slim waist; her complexior was of lily purity; her lips were as rosebuds bursting into flower; her hair was the yellow gold of flax, intertwined with floss silk. I call her my Frederica by a sort of poetical ficense and in right of my love for her. She was, in truth, at this time, the Frederica of the Herr Professor Vandergucht, the subtruth, at this time, the Frederica of the Herr Professor Vandergucht, the sub-rector of the university, for she was the corner. My love, not being negotiable, alone remained.

I tried to paint—something, anything, a sketch, a study, that would bring money to buy food with. My English friend set up an easel for me in his studio. He had models coming to him; surely I could do something with them? Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proceeding the university. The herr Professor Vandergucht was no more. He was almost forgotten.

Presently came news; but what news! I was doomed to hear that my Frederica had become the wife of Herr Schnellen, of the firm of Eisendecken & Schnellen, merchants of Hamburg, trading largely in train oil, hides, and colonial produce.

at beginning, leaving completeness and achievement to others—the Germans let us say.

He grained wickedly, scoffingly at my picture.

"My poor Hans," said an English man, kindly—he has grown famous since, I am glay to any. Journal of the street of the summan of the street of the summan of the su

Thames?

I tried to live on as little as possible, I was rown tout every day for an hour or so, that my landlady might think I was dining. I walked hither and thither, dining. I walked hither and thither, and thither, is retired streets, furtively devouring.

England. I was generally recognized to be a successful painter in my peculiar and, perhaps, narrow path of art.

I was rich enough now both to love and to marry. Formerly I could only afford to love—an inexpensive pursuit in it. He smiled complacently when he handed his wife into the carriage, but he doesn't smile when he handed afford to love—an inexpensive pursuit as I had conducted it.

At length I was constrained to go; for news reached me from Germany of the serious illness of my father. The poor old "man was dying, I was told. Alas! I arrived at his bedside only in time to close his eyes. Then I commenced my quest of the Fraulein Frederica.

It was with difficulty I could obtain What comfort was left me? Only my pipe and my love for Frederica. And presently my pipe had to go—round the corner. My love, not being negotiable, alone remained.

It was with difficulty I could obtain to see how wrong it is to envy our fellow-man. He looks at her as she runs the university. The Herr into the nouse and into the arms of the Professor Vandergucht was no more. genial base-burner, and gloomily won-ders why heaven so favors her above him. He stumbles painfully along to the stable with the horse, which he him; surely I could do something with is slow, but he is sure," my father was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb contour, muscular, sinewy, nobly proportioned, a Here was a Mulatto, of superb colors, noted with a bound of colonial produce.

I did not distinguish myself as a student was a Here was a Mulatto, of superb colors, noted was determined that I would not quit door; his legs have awakened, and colonial produce.

I sought out Herr Schnellen, for I sought out Herr Schnellen, for I sought out Herr Schnellen, for I superb colors, and olony ly superb arm for his native land, and perished rad a whey shrow may a large until the cave, and the current exaries them the standard of the standard o of hands prevented them from shaking up she beheld two men with black cloth with very obvious agitation. Instead over their heads and all their faces but with very obvious agitation. Instead of the usual exhortation at the end of the usual exhortation at the end of the service, a special prayer was substituted, the felicitous language and sentiments of which left no doubt about its author. The Dean delivered the prayer in a very impressive manner.

passenger of the sleeping ear for the St. Louis Dispatch, which referred to the misrepresentation about the HotSpirings robbery, and this contained a true account of the present affair. It is evident that they are men used to the business. One of them, when robbing the express messenger, entered on the book, "Robbed at Gad's Hill," and semarked that he had signed that book before. Bofere our arrival they had been at Gad's Hill a couple of hours, and were with us about forty minutes. The result was that they took in all about $2,300 from the train, four registered packages, one gold watch, five pistols, one ring, and one pin. Had they made their raid the day before, they would have got about $5,000 or $6,000 which was being shipped by express.

A Faithful Agent

Seventy-five per cent, of the sickness of New York, and probably ninety per cent, of crime, come from the tenement house population. The present Duke of Hamilton, William Alexander Louis Stephen, is the twelfth. He was born in 1833, and is twelfth. He was born in 1833, and is now consequently in his forty-first year. His father married in 1823 the Princess Marie of Baden, cousin of Napoleon III. At the early age of eighteen, the present duke succeeded to the great possessions which constitute the inheritance of the house of Hamilton, Hamilton palace with its associations and traditions of centuries, crowded with the treasures of art, of luxury and taste, standing in its magnificent domain of 50,000 acres; Brodificent domain of 5 course of a very few years the pecuniary affeirs of the Duke of Hamilton were known to be in inextricable confusion. Actions and judgments in Eagland, sequestrations in Scotland, followed in rapid succession. The rent roll was insufficient to meet accumulating emergencies, and the owner of these vast possessions was without an income adequate to support his position. Affairs were at a dead lock. The trustees appointed by the duke's father to administer the estate, men of honor and high position, were incompetent to deal with the financial pressure of the moment. At this overwhelming crisis, by the wish of the duke and the consent of all parties interested, the trusteeship paper. The inauguration of this plan of relief was for the benefit of the Beo-