Tired.

O for wings, that I might soar, A little way above the floor-A little way beyond the roar-A little nearer to the sky! To the blue hills, lifted high,

Out of all our misery. Where alone is heard the lark From the dawning to the dark Where the callow eaglets wink On the bare and breezy brink,

And slow pinions rise and sink, Where the dim white breakers beat Under cloud-drifts at our feet, Singing, singing, low and sweet. Where we see the glimmering bay

On the confines of the day. Where the green larch-fringes sweep Rocky defiles, still and steep,

Where the tender lichens creep Where the gentian-blossoms blow, Set in crystal stars of snow ; Where the downward torrents flow Glancing, twinkling, through the trees, Pure, as from celestial seas.

Where the face of heaven has smiled, Ave on freedom, sweet and wild, Aye, on beauty undefiled. Where no sound of human speech,

And no human passions reach : Where the angels sit and teach. Where no troublous foot has trod ; Where is impressed on the sod

Only Hand and Heart of God!

THE FATE OF THE SPY,

A ominous silence reigned over Se-Not a gun or a screetching shell disturbed the painful silence, which, to imaginative minds, produced a feeling of uneasiness and awe. I, emergency. Cautioning my men to re-port the most trivial stir that might atch their ears, I ordered them to lie placed my hand over my head and face down under cover of some thorny to protect.

Was it a panic, or was I still dream-

After some time I was in the act of ing. rising from my concealed position, when a muffled footstep caught my ear. I knew not why, but the blood rushed innertently though the sum of th impetuously through my veins. Glancing over my shoulder, the figure of a man rose mysteriously before me. He was muffled to the chin; over his shoulder was a white something, which shoulder was a white something, which, in my hurried glance, I took to be the skin of some animal. Evidently whoever this personage was he had not discovered me. His steps were bent arms in turns and walked me rapidly to and fro. In a short time I was fully a from those systematic spies, which are to be found in all armies."

My forefinger instinctively sought the transfer of the swarm of human ants. The snow at that moment was terrific, ghost-like personage before. But where? That was a question that at that moment was most difficult to solve. shrub, and confronted the intruder with my revolver.

A perceptible stare warned me that said.

at last I confronted a spy.

"Move a hair's breadth," said I, and you are a dead man." There was a sudden gleam of dull moonlight, and I in my turn started. The face, though partially concealed,

Ere I could rightly recover, the figloudly upon the outposts to shoot him

"Escaped us," I muttered, grinding my teeth. "And gone right into Sebastopol," of sarcasm.

He pretended to laugh heartily at growled the sergeant.
"Listen," said I. For a Russian sentinel that moment demanded a field cry or password. In vain we stretched ears to catch a reply; naught but the icy wind mocked us. I returned to my hiding place full of thoughts, full of suspicions.
"Could it be possible," I asked mymade a grand attack near the Inkerman self, "that the figure was Lieutenant Brown?" They were certainly the bushy whiskers, the full diabolical face and the thick figure. Lieutenant opinion upon it. Brown, as I knew well, was no favorite in ours. He went by the cognomen of "Monstrous!" said he. "Have we not got the finest troops in the world-our foot guards—located there?"

Brown was clever at sketching. I also everybody, except those at headquarhad seen him take notes, which I play. had seen him take notes, which I play-fully alluded to at the time, and in re-sponse he informed me—at a dear rela-tives' request—he kept a diary. It was certainly strange. A multiplicity of little occurrences rose up before me re-specting our foreigner. His absolute specting our foreigner. His absorbing interest respecting any intended attack.

He laughed heartily at this, and ye interest respecting any intended attack. His studious silence before others respecting the disasters of the Russians, and when in my hut, his cager inquirise as to how, and why, and the wherefore some words in it upon a loose leaf, then of every trivial detail which occurred laid the book down a moment to in the camp.

The commanders of the English and the French forces never rightly caught the litter at my feet. The Lieutenant the Russians asleep; in sorties, in open staggered, snatched up the book with attacks, they were always seemingly prepared. This was mortifying. Certainly some of our men had deserted to the enemy, but this soon died out, "Attack, followed up, must succeed" owing to the cruel treatment which if made on Inkerman ed them. That there was a spy, that is the opinion of English-suggest who could pass the English and French lines adlibitum, I did not for an instant "'Tis as I expected," I gasped, "the foreigner is a spy."

"At all events," said I, half loud, the outlying pickets, as he brought superior officer.

down his rifle to the charge. "Stand! The fourth of November came, and,

The password."

This challenge sent the blood gallopservant to keep a strict watch on Lieut.

on the alert, encouraging the guards The same, sr," said I.

The snow by this time had abated, and the heavens grew brighter. Before me was the English commander, "We attack at daylight, Captain Wood," he whispered. "If we but they were the bells for church. This they were the bells for church. fore me was the English commander.

"We attack at daylight, Captain Wood," he whispered. "If we but steal a march upon them this time, I believe we shall carry the great redoubt, which Prince Menschikoff declares would defy all the armies of the world to capture—he deems it impregnable; be qui vive."

the dawn when the bels in Sabastopol commenced to know that it was necessary for him to draw the carriage squarely that it was before. With the full unstance and is regarded by entomologists as a similar pest to the chery ach distinct sa bount of misdemean and is regarded by entomologists.

The dawn when the bels in Sabastopol commenced to ring.

The dawn when the

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

He was about to ride off when I stop- Before I had time to rise, the report of a musket from the outlying posts

VOL. VII.

and the next instant I was surrounde by men who poured stiff "tota of grog" down my throat. Some chafed my limbs, while others took me by the arms in turns and walked me rapidly their eyes upon another man's. laughed at this fallacy, and was ever

"It's right enough, Captain Wood, saw the fellow myself, yesterday night sworn the rascal had stolen my seal this; but there was a gleam in his cruel eyes, and I saw it instantly cankered in

The subject of our conversation was opinion upon it.

"Monstrous!" said he. "Have we

"Look here, Brown, I know and se

I kept my own counsel, I knew, or bosom. He proposed some grog

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1874.

report a man wrapped in white, who in defiance of the outlying picket, crossed our position and safely entered the enemy's lines."

Another and another followed in rapid succession, the outposts fell back upon the rallying point I had indicated, and I determined to show a front. Another and another followed in The Marriage of the President's Daughter at the White House.

And, to my amazement, the rifles in peared to go, smack into our lines."

I was seated in my rude but a week after this terrible event, and who should walk in but Lieutenant Brown. He walk in but Lieutenant Brown. He he nerve had lost nerve force altoafter this terrible event, and who should walk in but Lieutenant Brown. He the nerve had lost nerve force alto-gether—as they lose it four days after the minister was the first to kiss the and serenely smoked his short pipe.
"Positively a stranger, Brown," I

"A little out of sorts," he answered, staring me full in the face.

I was ever of the opinion that men of sinister natures could never rightly fix skeptical upon this point afterward.
"Sorry to hear it," I replied. Then I added, with a searching glance, 'Did he?" said I, with a faint touch heights, it was probable the allies would be swept into the sea; this was causes, to oppose my wife's will.

2 To discharge all services, for her

3. Never to scold. Never to look cross at her. Never to weary her with com-

. To bear her burdens. . To overlook her foibles. To love, cherish, and ever defend

10. To remember her always most affectionately in my prayers; thus God willing, we shall be blessed.

A New Hampshire paper relates the following story, asserting that it comes to it "through a reliable source:"— In a store in Exeter, a short time ago, tracted thither by its contents, and being unable to get out. The store cat turned informer, madam, let me conwas brought in and placed in position vince you, for the sake of both of us. was brought in and placed in position o see them, but after taking a good ook jumped down and ran out at the or, shortly reappearing with another.
They now looked over the situation and retired, soon coming back with the third cat. They now seemed turn," and the bare thought was intensely delicious.

"There," hoarsely shouted one of in repeating the sire was intensely delicious.

"There," hoarsely shouted one of in repeating the sire was intensely delicious.

Instinct of a Horse.

son to save its life.

Blind instinct led a horse belonging ing madly through me. "Now for the mystery," thought I, and my finger pressed determinedly on the trigger of my revolver, as I crept up from whence the sound proceeded.

Brown.

I brown.

I brown.

I the foreigner was missing, and on inguity, this turned out to be true. I still kept my own counsel, but as I stable. At that time the entrance to halted near a ravine overlooking Sebasthan and the premises was through a double gate, fastened on the inside with a stable. The horse was seen to approach, "All's well, General," I heard the sentry say, who shouldered his rifle and stood firm. For on outpost duty all compliments, such as presenting felt convinced the foreigner had gone arms and saluting, are totally ignored. "Ah, Captain Wood, I believe," said the General, who was on horseback, leaning down on his saddle.
"The same sir," said I.

halted near a ravine overlooking Sebastopel, I promised promotion to any man who should capture any person coming from the enemy's line, for I felt convinced the foreigner had gone over and would probably return under cover of night. At midnight Sebastopel in a dense fog. But throughout that live-long night I was on the salert, encouraging the guards on the alert, encouraging the guards open the other gate; and then backing open the other gate; and then backing open the other gate; and then backing

HIGH LIFE IN WASHINGTON.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Grant to Mr. Sartoris took place in the East Room of the Executive Mansion, Rev. worthy of an officer and a gentleman.

I merely hinted it might be a Turk, a Frenchman, or an Englishman.

"Humph 1" ejaculated the English commander, "if one of these he shall not escape us."

"Order the outlying pickets to be doubled. Throw forward a section of riflemen, under cover of the great redoubled. Throw forward a section of ristant death. Order the riflemen to lie down, and, should the spy appear, not to discharge their rifles, but and disarmed him. Two men bound him, and in a whisper, I gave him in charge of a corporal and four men.

"Headquarters," I whispered to them, and they marched on with their prisoner. Why speak of what followed? Is not the story of the battle of Inkerman and its results known to all?

On the same Sunday afternoon Lieutemant Brown, alias the foreigner, alias Kirkoff—for it turned out he was a Russian by birth—was tried by drumhead court-martial.

At first he denied everything, but

r fine, and explained:
"You, madam, had ten pounds' worth of smuggled goods about your person; ou have too expressive a countenance, elieve me, and the officer would have by me in any way, pray take more lace; here is lots of it."

When I finished my explanation, the

The cats had, however, miscalculated the force of their enemy, and two were killed, the other being taken out in sea-

THE VALE OF DEATH.

After the Mill River Disaster -- A Thrill-ing Picture of the Sad Scene. one position and safely entered the enemy's lines."

The General drew up rein suddenly at this.

"What, again? Unquestionably a spy. In the name of God who and what was he like?"

If elt an irresistible impulse to unbosom my suspicions. But, supposing the worthy of an officer would be compromised, and I probably cashiered for so unwarranted a charge, unworthy of an officer and a gentleman.

"What, again? Unquestionably a spy. In the name of God who and what was he like?"

If elt an irresistible impulse to unbosom my suspicions. But, supposing the compromised, and I probably cashiered for so unwarranted a charge, unworthy of an officer and a gentleman.

The General drew up rein suddenly and I letermined to show a front. Surface of the farsysing points, when a Russian officer, in dim outline, stood before me, and in his rear were some half dozen staff officers feeling their way. Some shalf was a beautiful village, but the voice, there was no disguising that. It was the foreigner. My first intention was to shoot him down. In an instant I though better of it. I fell upon him and disarred him. Two men bound him, and in a whisper, I gave him in worthy of an officer and a gentleman.

The General drew up rein suddenly and letermined to show a front. Surface of the East Room of the Surface of the devosation. At my feed is the blotton of the valley. Immediately be vale of devastation. At my feed is the blotton of the reservoir itself, black, ghastly and menacing. The valle of devastation. At my feed is the blotton of the reservoir itself, black, ghastly and menacing. The valle of devastation. At my feed is the blow to it is Williams Skinner's silk mill, which was a beautiful village, which lift themselves above the dark reass of sediment seem to moke at the devokation of the valley. I was a beautiful village, William Skinner's silk mill will be wited to wate of devastati

The college of a college and a gentleme.

The college of the properties of a Englishmen.

The college of the co had a fight and lost its tail. Other cases of grafting leave no doubt in this respect. It is shown by the fact that over in animals when they are implanted on a mucous membrane take hold of it, blood is attracted there and circulation takes place.

The mere division of a nerve is followed by a good many alterations, often producing atrophy not only of the muscles but also of the cellular tissue of the blood vessels, and also of the cellular tissue of the blood vessels, and also of the cellular tissue of the blood vessels, and also of the cellular tissue of the latest style with the conventional mated by the nerve are more or less attracted. The paralysis of the presons near the bridal party on the pidal party on ously struggled to reach this spot. Yet to work in many respects the two disasters are the used disaster and death—that I cannot overlook the scene upon which may eve shave rested without emotions which the question whether the question whether the question whether the dam of the disfigured bodies of the victims, the possibilities of almost impossible to reach this spot. Yet to disaster and death—that I cannot overlook the scene upon which my eve shave rested without emotions with equations of disaster and death—that I cannot overlook the scene upon which my eve shave rested without emotions which come to few men in the course of almost impossible to reach this spot. Yet the disfigured bodies of the victims, the possibilities of almost impossible to reach this spot. Yet the disfigured bodies of the victims, the possibilities of almost impossible to reach this spot. Yet the disfigured bodies of the latest style with the conventional mated by the nerve are more or less atrophied after division. Dr. John Reed made an experiment to ascertain whether it was because the nervous system has an influence on the nutrition, which is essential, or whether it was simply the essential, or whether it was simply the latest style with the conventional mated by the nerve are more or less atrophied after division. Dr. John Reed made an experiment to ascertain whether it was alrowed the met cheney at the visual age was the reception that was also accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this, and Haydens. Sherman and Frelinghuysen. If was an overwhelming torrent, which had accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this, and Haydens. They were severally dressed in white lecking of the reception that was also accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this conventional accorded to the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this conventional accorded to the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this, and Haydens.

They were severally dressed in white election that was also accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this neck thereof which met Cheney at the visible weak to run from the death that over-tile from St. Huberland accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did not cease even with this accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did torrent runshing through a peaceful vallety of the properties called to see him, and gave hima accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did torrent runshing through a peaceful vallety from the ceath that over-tile from St. Huberland accorded the messenger of death of Reade's imagination. The analogy did torrent runshing through a peacef those systematic spies, which are to be found in all armies."

My forefinger instinctively sought the trigger of my recover. One course Lies a determined upon, at all hazards, this mysterious figure should not say, more like the movement of a series of the movement of a say, more like the movement of a series of the movement of a say, more like the movement of a say then the movement of a say the say the a vanism. I then learned that dishough the manner and countenances of the normal size of the normal size that the size of the She attered a little shriek, and yes, she had got it there among the crimoline. She thought it had been sticking out, you see, unknown to her.

"Oh, sir," cried she, "it is only ten pounds' worth; please to forgive me, and I'll never do it again. As it is, I think I shall expire."

"She attered a little shriek, and yes, stood. The depot is a mile below, and out between the houses, and, as God there among the crimolears me, I couldn't get farther, an' I took to drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose yields a far took to drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose was entered took drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose was entered took drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose was entered took drinking, as he said, to forget stock husbandry, the goose was entered took and the and I'll never do it again. As it is, I think I shall expire."

"My dear madam," replied I, sternly but kindly, "here is the pier, and the officer has fixed his eye upon us. I must do my duty."

I rushed up the ladder like a lamplighter; I pointed out the woman to a legitimate authority; I accompanied ner upon her way, in custody, to the searching-house. I did not see her searched, but I saw what was found upon her, and I saw her fined and dismissed with ignominy. Then, having smarked on the map have not only in the fined and dismissed with ignominy. Then, having smarked on the map have not only in the buildings, have disappeared. Surveys based upon old the houldings, have disappeared. Surveys based upon old the mornin', an' the boy, but he'll die the mornin', an' the had felt no effects of the bite until twice the value of that she lost, paid debris out to the sea. THE FORCE OF THE WATERS. And even the earth, the ground, the banks or the conglomerate masses which pass for these are difficult of recognition in the elements which constitute.

A lady had gone to visit a young couple of the better class of the poor. The husband being a stoker on a rail-little boy whose body I saw dragged out from the meadows below Leeds.

HAYDENSVILLE, What a Dog Did in Chicago-Thirtee: I pointed a moment ago to Haydens-incidents, it could not be otherwise A por where the story of every victim was a heart, ion in the elements which constitute hem. Great rolls of cloth are intersects seem to avail, as this scourge is very tenacious of life, and a liquid application that will kill the tree does not affect it. It resembles the rose-bug, and is regarded by entomologists as a similar pest to the charge specific to the charge spec

HYDROPHOBIA AT WHOLESALE,

Persons Under Sentence of Death-Two of the Victims Already Dead. Reade's story. It is the village in the centre of the valley. Immediately below it is Leeds; above it is Williams-bitten thirteen persons. One of About nine days ago a rabid dog was garded the story of the coming flood as a joke, and it was not until the mill and many houses near it were swept away—not until the flood had come and almost gone that they awoke to the terrible reality.

Onward swept the waters, and the will of Hayden Gera & Co. was also to occupy his mind continually to the

The form of death was very much the less leave no rock unturned till they have found the mad stone which will heal them of their malady.—Chicago

A Clerical Emetic.

mere is lots of it.

When I finished my explanation, the lady seemed perfectly satisfied with my little stroke of diplomacy, though she would have doubtless preferred a less prominent part in it.

The Peach Districts.

Within the last few weeks a species of black bug has appeared in countless numbers in the peach orchards near Denton, Caroline County, Md., and has done serious damage in that locality. In one nursery the grafted stocks of seem capable of destroying large trees, as it thickly covers the lesses, as it thickly covers the lesses, as it thickly covers the lesses and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of destroying large trees, as it thickly covers the lesses and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete-lesses and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leaves and prevents vegetation. None of the ordinary means of destroying insect is even capable of feature has complete leave

NO. 23.

Terms: $2.00 a Year, in Advance.

Village Libraries.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune gives the plan adopted in a certain place where she once lived by which a library of between 700 and 800 volumes was accumulated. Each person interested gave $1 a year or more as he was able, and as the community was scat-tered over many miles the books purchased were changed on Sundays when the members of the association came to church. One afternoon during the

City there is a library well selected and comprising several hundred volumes, the nucleus of which was procured by as will meet their wants or consume rectly from the publishers, have all the different orders expressed from one job-bing house to save expense. Magazines and newspapers can be procured at a reduction from the regular prices by arrangements made with the publishers thereof. We shall be glad to lay before our readers any suggestions deurived from the observation.

revolutions which a wheel may be made fortunes out of nothing.

Touching incidents, it could not be otherwise

The form of death was very much the same as that of asphyxia, the disease appearing to be in his throat and chest, appearing to be in his throat and chest.

A post-mortem examination of his wheel is made, and its consequent power to resist the centrifugal force st-mortem examination of his lungs, liver and stomach was by Dr. Scheppers, with the per-they may cost somebody else. It is but then there was no space for address probable that the above is all true, but ing the notelets when they were folded. physician of Paris discovered that Russian or vapor baths were almost a sure cure for this disease, if taken before tact with.

A retired physician writes: "How does it happen that amid the cry against drunkenness, we never hear a grant drunkenness, we never hear a word against its sister wil cluttony?"

The was tanble to produce in seasoned a dozen houses to make them for him, and thus set going an important branch of the manufacturing stationery trade. word against its sister evil, gluttony I think I can assert with truth them. Great rolls of cloth are interwoven with the debris and the soil. Buttons and instruments of brass and iron and steam boilers and brick and stone and parts of buildings and remnants of household furniture are strewn about indiscriminately. Everything is everywhere and nothing can be found. In coming up to my mount of young and young and young are wheels passed over the wine which some of his brother. A Clerical Emetic.

A Clerical Emetic.

A Clerical Emetic.

A Clerical Emetic.

It is not often that a prisoner is brought to trial upon the charge laid against Father Baronius, when he apyou something?" was the woman's at before the tribunal at Treviglio, in Lombardy. This worthy ecclesiastic to much and too rich food taken under was accused, says the Pall Mall Gatelle, and a host of other diseases, but from was accused, says the Pall Mall Gatelle, and a host of other diseases, but from young my carriage wheels passed over the most imprudent circumstances. And yet we hear of no society formed to prevent this growing vice. a long practice, three have died among epicures. The animals in question are small, entirely hairless, and fed upon Items of Interest. Air of importance-One's first breath.

Receipt for a hot breakfast—admire your landlady's new bonnet.

Death is the veil which those who live call life; they sleep, and it is

A Nashville man advertised for "a Christian man who understands how to run a boiler."

The present year is noted abroad for the large number of public buildings that have been destroyed by fire. It is stated that over 500,000 Circassians have emigrated to Turkey since the conquest of their territory by Rus-

A large coal merchant in England, who is a tectotaller, declines, all orders from brewers or distillers, for fuel to be used in their business.

There are said to be about 1,500 miles of narrow gauge railroad in the United States and Canada, and over 1,200 miles in process of construction. A French wit said of a man who was exceedingly fat that nature only made him to show how far the human skin would stretch without breaking.

It is said that the farmers in the east of England, where a general lock-out of the laborers has taken place, propose to import farm hands from Belgium.

Peru thinks she will be able to pay off lend to such as were not members who, for the trifling sum of six cents a volume, were allowed the privilege of keeping a book for one week.

York

Which she is now known.

Beginning of a Judge's charge in Iowa: "Gentlemen of the Jury, you must now quit eating peanuts and at the case."

If forty rods make one rood, how many will make one polite? If twelve dozen make a gross, how many will make a grocer?

Wild coffee bushes are ples their funds, and either order the whole from some large jobbing house, as Appleton's of New York or Lippincott's of Philadelphia; or if they order distribution the sublishers here all the respect similar to the coffee of comrespect similar to the coffee of co A Dublin journal observes that a

A prospective mother-in-law up in Maine, joined issue with a young man who declined to fulfill his marriage en-gagement with her daughter. When she got through with him, there was no longer any breeches of promise. Landlord Keith, of Salina, was once notified by a gentleman to please re-serve him a seat at the table by tipping up a chair, which he did. When the

The sale increased so rapidly that he was unable to produce his enveloped

Hints on Education.

In Bavaria the law is less intent on amount of the proper results of actual learning shall be actually attained. It nsists that both at the age of 16 shall again to school. In Prussia education is compulsory, the period beginning for boys at eight years and for girls at seven. The N. Y. Legislature has also passed a like law, which the Governor into a single brief paragraph his esti-mation of what constituted a good education. Here it is: "To read the English language well, to write with dispatch a neat, legible hand, and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic, so as to dispose of at once, with accuracy, every question of figures which comes up in practice—I call this a good education. And if you add the ability to write pure grammatical Eng-lish, I regard it as an excellent education. These are the tools. You can do much with them, but you are hopeless without them. They are the foundawithout them. They are the founda-tion; and unless you begin with these, all your flashy attainments, a little geology, and all other ologies and oso-phies, are ostentatious rubbish." This description of a well educated man is like Stanton's sketch of a good soldier.

'It is not the gun, but the man behind